

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN TO COST ONLY $750,000; BORAH COMMITTEE TO PROBE G. O. P. 'SLUSH' TODAY

Doheny Oil-Lease Case on Trial in U. S. Court

DEFENSE COUNSEL RAPS PACT CHARGE AS 'DISTORTION'

Oil Attorney Says He Will 'Expose Inconceivable Story of Deliberate Misrepresentation.'

GOVERNMENT CHARGE CLAIMS CONSPIRACY

Dicker Between Fall and Doheny Involving $100,000 Loan To Be Aired by U. S. Lawyers.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Los Angeles, Cal., October 21.—The opening session of the government's suit against the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company to cancel the Elkhills naval reserve oil leases granted the E. L. Doheny interests crowded Federal Judge J. McCormack's court today, outnumbering those attending the sensational criminal trials held in Los Angeles in the past several months.

Glad To Be in Court.

Owen J. Roberts stated the government's case briefly.

The defendant welcomed the change of venue and expressed great satisfaction that the case was out of the senate and before a federal tribunal, according to Frank J. Hogan, chief defense counsel. Hogan declared that "we propose to expose an almost inconceivable story of the deliberate misrepresentation of known, or of easily ascertainable, facts and the unblushing distortion of the truth which have made as unlike as day and night the case heretofore presented to the public and the case now to be submitted to this court."

Scouts Conspiracy Charge.

Counsel for the defendant declared that the part played by Albert B. Fall in making contracts with the Doheny companies was "no slight as to be almost negligible and the part played by Doheny, while not quite so slight, was really unimportant."

He characterized as "without foundation" the charge that the executive order transferring the administration of the naval reserves from the navy to the interior department was induced by false representations made to the president by Fall. Equally "unfounded," Hogan asserted, was the accusation that Fall and Doheny had conspired to defraud the government.

Admits Secret Negotiations.

A ready admission that secrecy to safeguard national defense plans was used in the negotiations of leases held by the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company in the Elk Hills naval oil reserves, was made by Hogan in answer to charges made earlier in the day by Roberts.

"Hogan, arguing the government's charge that the leases were established through a secret and non-competitive contract with the United States, declared that there was no secrecy."

Continued on Page 6, Column 4.

OPPORTUNITY'S KNOCK

Doing Things Now Things that are put off till tomorrow never turn out as well as the things that are done today. The main reason for this is that they are never done at all.

If a man doesn't put his ideas into action, he falls into the habit of thinking about things and then not doing them. It's only a step from that to worthless day-dreaming.

It's always twice as hard to do a thing tomorrow as it is today. The only thing you avoid when you put off a duty is the satisfaction you could get by attending to it now.

There's no time like today, for starting to read The Constitution classified and regularly. Don't postpone economy and satisfaction any longer.

DEMOCRAT TO GET VOTE OF LENROOT ON STATE TICKET

Milwaukee, Wis., October 21.—Senator Irvine L. Lenroot, republican colleague of Senator La Follette, cast a bombshell into the La Follette ranks in the state Tuesday night when he announced in a speech at Chippewa Falls, that he would vote for Judge Martin L. Lueck, democratic candidate for governor.

Senator Lenroot declared that Governor John J. Blaine had disqualified himself as a republican by bolting the Coolidge-Daves ticket in favor of La Follette and Wheeler.

"I have never attempted to tell anyone how to vote," the Wisconsin senator said, "but I will cast my own ballot in November for Judge Lueck because I believe I will be thus serving the best interests of the republican party and the state of Wisconsin."

GERMAN JUNKERS OPENLY DEMAND RETURN OF THRONE

Nationalist Party Drops All Pretense as to Its Real Aims in Manifesto of Platform.

BY ERIC KEYSER.

Berlin, October 21.—Germany is heading into a general election in which monarchism for the first time since the debacle of November, 1918, boldly challenges German republicanism.

Confident that $200,000,000 of foreign money soon to be invested in Germany is an ample guarantee that sanctions would not be taken if Germany were swept back toward a monarchy by vote of the people, the national leaders have dropped all pretense about their actual aims.

Heretofore the wealthy, reactionary junkers who lead the nationalist party have halfheartedly cloaked themselves as mere conservatives, but this disguise has been discarded.

Comes Out for Monarchy.

"Our aim," the junker election manifesto proclaims, "include purifying the nation from the spirit of November, 1918. Likewise we would cleanse the nation of the spirit which subjects it to foreign nations in a posture of undignified pacifism. Our party remains as hitherto, monarchistic."

"We are more determined than ever to build a Germany free from"

Continued on Page 12, Column 2.

'Shiner's Brother Stirs Sympathy Of Judge Sibley

Fervor of Appeal of Mountain Minister Brings Mercy From Bench.

"O. D. Mulky, come into court."

There was nothing on the surface that indicated unusual features attached to this case when it was called in United States district court Tuesday. Mulky, typical of the hundreds of mountain moonshiners who appear in federal court in continuous procession, "came into court," and entered a plea of guilty to charges of violating the national prohibition law.

Judge Samuel H. Sibley was about to impose sentence when a young man arose from the group of courtroom spectators and asked that he be permitted to "say a few words in behalf of the defendant."

The stranger opened his "few words" in a smooth, polished voice that was in sharp contrast to his general appearance that bespoke years spent in the fastness of rustic hill country.

"Judge, your honor," he said, "I am a Baptist minister and the brother of the defendant. I grew up in the mountains and have spent many years in trying to discourage 'stilling among my life-long friends. Especially is this true in Gilmer, my home county."

"The greatest sorrow of my life came when I learned that my own brother was engaged in the manufacture of liquor. He has told me why he did it. I know he has been struggling to support his family, just as I have mine. He was tempted by the lure of ready money. We know each other better now, and I know he has quit. I only ask the court to be as lenient as possible with my brother."

"The 'few words' were ended. They had been spoken with such intense fervor that a hush came over the courtroom.

"Let the defendant pay a fine of $25," said Judge Sibley.

The fine was paid by the Baptist minister.

AUTO DEATH RATE 24.7 PER 100,000 HERE, U. S. SHOWS

Average for United States Is 14.9—Casualties for State Are Low, Survey Reveals.

CALIFORNIA'S MOTOR TOLL LEADS COUNTRY

Mississippi Lowest With Only 4.4 Per 100,000, Report of Census Bureau Points Out.

Washington, October 21.—A total of 412 deaths from accidents during 1923, caused by automobiles and other motor vehicles, excluding motorcycles, is shown in statistics assembled by the census bureau covering the death registration area of the United States which contains 87.6 per cent of the total population.

This total represents a death rate of 14.9 per 100,000 population, compared with 12.5 in 1922; 11.5 in 1921, and 10.4 in 1920.

California Leads List.

California topped the list with a rate of 32.6 deaths per 100,000 population, and Wyoming was second with a rate of 24.1.

Among 68 cities for which statistics were gathered, Camden, N. J., led with a rate of 35.4 and Scranton, Pa., was second with 29.2.

The state in which the death rate from motor accidents was lowest was Mississippi, where the number for each 100,000 was 4.4. Kentucky had the next best record with a rate of 6.7.

Among cities where an estimate was possible, New Bedford, Mass., was first with a rate of 6.2, and Fort Worth, Texas, ranked next with 6.3.

Figures by states, with the total number of killed and the rate per 100,000, follows:

Georgia's Low, But Atlanta High. California, 1,239 and 32.6; Florida, 170 and 16.2; Georgia, 259 and 8.6; Illinois, 1,031 and 15.2; Kentucky, 166 and 6.7; Louisiana, 138 and 8.5; Maryland, 243 and 16.1; Mississippi, 78 and 4.4; Missouri, 398 and 11.8; New York, 1,930 and 17.8; North Carolina, 258 and 9.6; Ohio, 1,078 and 17.6; South Carolina, 119 and 6.8; Tennessee, 171 and 7.1; Virginia, 200 and 8.3.

In the 68 cities listed there was a total of 5,618 deaths. The number killed and rate per 100,000 in some of these cities follows:

Atlanta, 55 and 24.7; Baltimore, 131 and 16.9; Birmingham, 49 and 25.0; Chicago, 552 and 20.4; Dallas, 30 and 18.7; Detroit, 252 (rate not computed); Fort Worth, 99 and 6.3; Houston, 25 (rate not computed); Kansas City, Mo., 86 and 24.4; Los Angeles, 224 (rate not computed); Louisville, 66 and 25.6; Memphis, 46 and 27.0; Nashville, 28 and 22.8; New Orleans, 58 and 16.8; New York, 964 and 16.3; Norfolk, 13 and 8.2; Richmond, 26 and 14.4; St. Louis, 108 and 20.9; San Antonio, 30 and 36.2; San Francisco, 107 and 19.9; Washington, 86 and 38.1.

Divorcees' Union Formed To Bare Marriage Rules

Newest Women's Club Dispenses Advice to Brides Through Newspaper.

Prague, October 21.—The divorced women of Czechoslovakia have formed a "divorcees' union," which they hope will serve as a valuable experience club for the benefit of the country.

The objects of the union, judging from preliminary announcements, are three:

1. To give advice on how to be happy though married.

2. To give advice on what to do in case one can't be happy though married.

3. To expose husbands who are ruining matrimonial bliss and to aid all divorcees, actual and potential.

Disturbing the newspapers, which are operated by men, the girls have established a paper of their own, called The Rosvedena Zena (the divorced woman), which appears twice a week and fights belligerently for the cause of divorcees.

The society was formed by a few daring women last month. If become popular so rapidly, however, that it now numbers several thousand women, many of whom are got divorcees.

Gotham's Small-Time Bandits Again Enjoy Publicity Glare

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, October 21.—These are days when any little slot-machine burglar, milk-bottle thief or clothes-line robber is liable to the high compliment of arrest on suspicion in the Broadway butterfly robberies, which is the round-up term applied to the after-midnight raids on swell apartments, inhabited by the hither and thither sisters.

The poor police, no longer permitted to grab a lady by the slack of her negligee, toss her into a patrol wagon and slam her around a squad room until she tells them what they want to know, have little enough information at best to guide them in these cases, and in some instances it takes all their ingenuity to confirm the fact that the robbers have been around at all.

The current case is the robbery of Mrs. Helen Marie Patterson Heyworth and her friend, Alfred Hanan, in Mrs. Heyworth's apartment on Central Park, south. This is quite near the Plaza hotel, where millionaires live and where valiant little brides from the Bronx, determined to be "society" on the day of all days, prefer to give their wedding breakfasts. It is also about a five-minute's walk from Columbus circle, that crick in the neck of Broadway, where thieves are thicker than thieves.

Mrs. Heyworth is the divorced wife of a rich Chicago man named Otto Young Heyworth, who is reported to have given her $85,000 when they marked "divorce" in a Paris divorce suit. She is young, about 22, pretty, and a member of that restless crowd which seems to buy fifty-ride tickets on the boats between Paris and New York.

Last spring, when Dapper Don Collins, one of the most gifted young men along Broadway, was picked up in Paris and held for extradition to the United States, Mrs. Heyworth, then but recently divorced, let her feelings run away with her discretion and made a more or less public plea to be allowed to marry Don in jail. He wouldn't let her do that, however, and was returned here alone to serve a year on the island.

Now it seems pretty certain that Mrs. Heyworth and Hannan really were robbed, but Mrs. Heyworth herself finds publicity so abhorrent, you know, that she dislikes to talk about the matter. The police have encountered this attitude before in trying to solve similar robberies.

There is nothing much that the police can do but plug along, and, while engaged in the occupation of plugging along Tuesday they picked up three boys, two of whom owned an automobile which was peppered with bullet-holes. The third had a platinum pin in his pocket.

This might be Mrs. Heyworth's platinum pin, but when they tried to find out whether it was or not, Continued on Page 6, Column 6.

WALKER PROMISES REPLY TO TUMULTY

Chief Executive Will Reply "At Proper Time," He Says, but Wants To Consider Matter.

Governor Clifford Walker Tuesday declined to make any comment upon the challenge issued to him by Joseph P. Tumulty, former secretary to President Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Tumulty, in a telegram to The Constitution, published in full Tuesday morning, branded the governor's charge that the Catholic church had been favored in war camp work as an "unqualified falsehood" after reading the attack made by the governor in his now famous speech delivered recently before the national convention of the Ku Klux Klan in Kansas City.

Governor Walker was not at his office Tuesday afternoon, leaving there about 1:30 o'clock. His secretary, Matt Bennett, however, gave out a typewritten statement which follows:

"The pressure of business is such that I cannot give consideration to the card of Mr. Tumulty today, but the people of Georgia may be assured that I will attend to the matter in the proper way and at the proper time."

Is Slightly Ill.

In a conversation Tuesday night with a Constitution reporter, the governor stated that he had been at home since shortly after 2 o'clock. He said he had been slightly indisposed and had slept part of the afternoon. He reiterated his formal statement that he could give no cognizance to the Tumulty challenge at this time.

"I don't want to answer such a card precipitantly," said the governor. "There are a million things I could say in reply, at the proper time, but I want time to consider them. Possibly it may seem best, later, not to answer it at all. In any event, I can say nothing today."

Mr. Tumulty, in his card, answered that portion of the governor's Klan speech wherein he charged that the influence of Mr. Tumulty, a member of the Catholic church, had been sufficient, as private secretary to President Wilson, to place Catholic churches in the center of the various war camps, "and," said the governor, "drive outside the border of that camp on the back streets, in the back yard, on the alley ways, every Presbyterian, every Methodist and every other Protestant church."

Uses Plain Language.

Mr. Tumulty branded this accusation as an "unqualified falsehood," and challenged the governor to produce any proof he might have to substantiate the charges before any tribunal of Protestants the governor might choose.

The former presidential secretary also stated that he would be glad to appear anywhere in Georgia to refute the charge and would depend for the witnesses upon none but War Secretary Baker and officers of the United States army who were in charge of camps.

Continued on Page 12, Column 2.

Tong Solution Hopeless When All "No Spike"

Even Interpreters "Strike" as Official Linguist Gets Knife in Back.

New York, October 21.—Whatever hope the New York courts had of solving some of the gruesome murder mysteries created by Chinatown's tong war appear temporarily to have flickered away.

The first defense of eight Chinamen scheduled to appear for trial Monday on charges of "trying weapons was 'No spike English.'

The counter move of the district attorney's office was to secure interpreters, but Monday no interpreters could be had, and the cases had to be postponed. Justice Kernochan asked the clerk of the court what had become of W. Shock Horne, the official interpreter.

"He was stabbed 14 times the other day by a Chinese who she Horns' interpretation of his testimony was not sufficiently favorable to the defendant," answered the clerk, adding that he had sought others who could interpret.

Continued on Page 12, Column 2.

NEBRASKA 2 TO 1 FOR LA FOLLETTE, TEST INDICATES

Will Vote for Independent for President, Republican Senator, Democratic Governor, Is Forecast.

ELECTION OF NORRIS APPEARS CERTAIN

Republicans Hoping for "Rainy Day" To Curtail Third Party's Strength on November 4.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Omaha, Neb., October 21.—Unless November 4 is a rainy day, La Follette should carry Nebraska. The presidential race here seems so evenly balanced that the mere obstacle of bad country roads on election day might keep enough La Follette voters from the polls to beat him. Republicans are praying for rain, progressives for fair weather.

Davis seems likely to run third, despite the fact that his running mate is governor of the state. The situation is full of cross-currents which make party labels meaningless.

First there are the two Bryans. There is an impression that they are making eyes at La Follette. In their public speeches, they speak kindly of La Follette, emphasizing the similarity in their respective progressive principles. Their argument against La Follette is that he cannot be elected.

Norris Election Certain.

Then there is Senator Norris, who is an institution in this state. He is running for reelection as a republican. His election is a certainty. In Washington he is the right-hand man of La Follette.

He has not endorsed La Follette nor has he endorsed Coolidge, but he has told friends that he intends to vote for La Follette. There is a general expectation among politicians here that just before the close of the campaign, Norris will be asked publicly how he intends to vote. If this election of Senator Augustus O. Stanford, La Follette will make thousands of votes for La Follette.

Democrats May Make "Deal." Also, there is Norton, democratic candidate for governor. He is regarded as having a fair chance of being elected. His supporters are trading right and left with La Follette, offering to desert Davis in return for support from La Follette followers. Representative Howard, a democrat, is supporting La Follette openly.

As the situation stands now, it appears the state will go for the independent presidential candidate, the republican senatorial candidate and the democratic candidate for governor. La Follette forces have suffered considerable internal friction. The fight Continued on Page 6, Column 6.

MANCHURIANS GAIN ON CENTRAL ARMY

Take Ground Previously Lost and Disarm Part of Shensi Division—Japs May Act.

Shanghai, October 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Capture of the town of Chiao-shan, near Shan-hai-kwan, by the Manchurian troops of Chang Tso Lin, who previously had taken the town and lost it, was reported here today in a Tientsin dispatch to the Eastern News agency.

The central government armies defending Chiao-shan offered gallant resistance to the Manchurian attack, the dispatch stated. In making the capture, Marshal Chang's men disarmed portions of the central Shensi division, on the Shihmenkel and Shihshou fronts. Chang Chi Kung, commander of the Shensi province troops, was reported killed in the action.

Manchurian troops are reported well supplied with artillery and are driving on toward Hai Yang, a town about 11 miles west of Shan-hai-kwan, inland.

In connection with reports that the Japanese government contemplated dispatch of troops to Chinwangtao, Shan-hai-kwan, to protect Japanese interest there, the dispatch stated that Wu Pei Fu, commander in chief of the central government armies, had requested the Japanese garrison commander to urge Tokio to postpone such action.

Continued on Page 12, Column 2.

SUICIDE VERDICT REACHED BY JURY IN JONES' DEATH

A verdict of suicide was returned by a coroner's jury Tuesday in the investigation of the death of F. M. Jones, bricklayer, whose body was found on the floor of a bath room in his residence Saturday afternoon with two bullets buried in his brain.

The coroner's investigation followed advice from physicians that it was practically impossible for a man to fire two bullets into the motor area of his brain; physicians holding that the first bullet would have rendered Jones unable to have fired again.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the chapel of Harry G. Poole. Interment was in West View cemetery.

DIVIDED PARTIES SPELL DISASTER DECLARES DAVIS

Democratic Nominee for President Cites Split in G. O. P. as Evidence of Bad Faith.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Louisville, October 21.—Winding up his brief personal campaign in Kentucky with an address here tonight, John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president, warned that the ballots cast on November 4 would decide the destiny of the country for another four years and urged voters not to neglect on that day to "discharge the first and most solemn duty of an American citizen."

"It is in the ballots of this country, and the ballots alone," Mr. Davis said, "that its destiny resides and if we are false by assentation by carelessness or by worse, we cannot criticize the shortcomings of those who take public office, we cannot complain in the years to come if disaster comes to visit us."

"Army" Must Be Cohesive.

Earlier in the day, at Franklin, Bowling Green and Elizabethtown, the candidate had stressed the same plea in speeches from the rear platform of his car and had coupled with his plea a special request for the reelection of Senator Augustus O. Stanford, La Follette will make thousands of votes for La Follette.

As the situation stands now, it appears the state will go for the independent presidential candidate, the republican senatorial candidate and the democratic candidate for governor. La Follette forces have suffered considerable internal friction. The fight Continued on Page 6, Column 2.

Other Man's Pin On Wife's Nightie Breaks Romance

Divorce Suit Bares Troubles of Former Atlanta Couple.

Los Angeles, Calif., October 21.—(Special.)—The college romance of Grover C. Kaiser and Marguerite E. Kaiser broke up four years after their marriage, when the wife came home from a trip and insisted on wearing on her nightgown a fraternity pin belonging to another man, the husband alleged in a suit for divorce he filed here today.

The Kaisers were married in Atlanta on January 12, 1920, and separated exactly four years afterwards, according to the complaint.

In May, last year, the wife began to attend dances in Atlanta with one Clifford Attridge, and would give affectionate attention to the latter, the husband asserted.

Kaiser came to Los Angeles in August with the agreement that his wife should follow him. She did follow a few days later, but the charge is that Attridge accompanied her as far as Chattanooga.

When she arrived here she cried and implored to be allowed to return to Attridge, the husband asserted. The fraternity pin episode occurred at this time, the husband said. She subsequently returned to Atlanta after informing various persons that she loved Attridge more than her husband, he charges. A recent letter sent by her is filled with the complaint. In it she asks Kaiser for money and assures him that "she hasn't been going out since she returned home." The Kaisers' former Atlanta address was on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Inquiry at the home of Mrs. R. L. Ryles, 141 Spring street, the address from which Mrs. Kaiser is said to have written a recent letter to her husband, disclosed that Mrs. Kaiser, until a short time ago took her meals at the house. It was learned that she had moved recently to an address on North boulevard.

Attridge could not be located Tuesday night.

PROBABLE DEFICIT SET AT $150,000 BY CLEM SHAVER

No Banker Committees or Possible Beneficiaries of Tariff Appear in Donor List.

G. O. P. FIGURE FIXED AT THREE MILLIONS

La Follette Campaign To Cost Maximum of $250,000, Borah Committee Is Told by Nelson.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, October 21.—With a total of $548,440 in contributions in hand to date, the democratic national committee expects to conclude the present campaign on a maximum outlay of $750,000, the senate investigating committee was told today by Clem L. Shaver, chairman, and James W. Gerard, treasurer.

Expenses thus far have aggregated $597,119, according to a statement put into the record by Mr. Gerard. Of this sum $461,801 has been paid, the statement shows. There is an existing deficit of approximately $48,000 on the basis of this showing and Chairman Shaver said he anticipated a deficit at the end of the campaign unless contributions came in more rapidly.

G. O. P. Budget is $3,000,000. At previous hearings officials of the republican national committee testified to expenditures of $1,700,000, with an estimated maximum by election day of $3,000,000. John M. Nelson, manager of the La Follette independent organization, told of collections aggregating $190,000, expenditures of $155,000 and said he expected to wind up the campaign on a total cost of $235,000.

The examination of Mr. Shaver and Mr. Gerard consumed less than an hour and as no other witnesses were available the inquiry was adjourned until late tomorrow, when the La Follette charges of a republican "slush" fund will be investigated further. Only three of the five members were present today, Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, chairman, and Senators Caraway, Arkansas, and Bayard, Delaware, democrats. The absentees were Senators Jones, republican, Washington, and Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota.

Get No Outside Aid.

When Mr. Gerard placed the maximum budget at $750,000, Chairman Borah asked at about a recent statement issued by the democratic national committee that at the outside $1,500,000 would be raised.

"I am not in charge of the conduct of the campaign," Mr. Gerard said, adding that he assumed the committee would spend $1,500,000 "if they gave it to us."

Both the former ambassador to Germany and Mr. Shaver said they knew Continued on Page 12, Column 1.

The Weather FAIR.

Washington—Forecast: Georgia: Fair Wednesday and Thursday; cooler Wednesday in west and extreme south portion; fresh northeast winds.

Highest temperature 70
Lowest temperature 60
Mean temperature 65
Normal temperature 64
Rainfall in past 24 hours, in0
Deficiency since last month, in 1.55
Deficiency since Jan. 1, inches, 2.29

Local Weather Report.

STATIONS AND STATES OF TEMPERATURE RAIN AND WINDS (24 hrs.)

ATLANTA, clear 62 70 .00
Birmingham, clear 66 78 .00
Boston, cloudy 44 52 .00
Buffalo, cloudy 40 40 .00
Charlotte, cloudy 58 64 .00
Chicago, cloudy 48 50 .01
Denver, pt. cloudy 50 60 .00
New Orleans, clear 72 82 .00
St. Louis, clear 76 82 .00
Tampa, clear 72 82 .00
Washington, clear 62 70 .00

Report of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATES OF TEMPERATURE RAIN AND WINDS (24 hrs.)

ATLANTA, clear 62 70 .00
Birmingham, clear 66 78 .00
Boston, cloudy 44 52 .00
Buffalo, cloudy 40 40 .00
Charlotte, cloudy 58 64 .00
Chicago, cloudy 48 50 .01
Denver, pt. cloudy 50 60 .00
New Orleans, clear 72 82 .00
St. Louis, clear 76 82 .00
Tampa, clear 72 82 .00
Washington, clear 62 70 .00

Report of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATES OF TEMPERATURE RAIN AND WINDS (24 hrs.)

ATLANTA, clear 62 70 .00
Birmingham, clear 66 78

We Thank You!

We want to thank our many friends and customers for their response to our CANNED FRUIT SALE. It is our intention to give you other opportunities like this again at frequent intervals. We want to always give our customers the benefit of our large buying power. We want to live up to our reputation of being—

Always in the Lead On Values!

These PRICES Good Until SATURDAY

10 Lbs. Large Minn. Potatoes, 23¢
Canadian Yellow Rutabagas Lb. 3¢
Fancy Virginia Cabbage Lb. 3¢

This Is Butter Week In All A&P STORES

Our Genuine ELGIN CREAMERY BUTTER is Churned in the Heart of the Principal Butter Center of America. Special Care is taken in Every Step of its Preparation in Order to Preserve the Distinctive Flavor and Unexcelled Food Value. "Lardy", "Oily", "Woody" or "Rancid" Flavors are Practically Unknown to A&P Butter. Its Freshness is Always Assured.

IN SEALED CARTONS or HARDWOOD TUBS
 1-lb. Carton 50¢ 1-lb. Cubes 13¢ Pound, 47¢
 1/2-lb. in Cubes 25¢

Red Sultana Pie Cherries No. 2 Can 25¢
Pitted

EVAPORATED MILK

PET, CARNATION 10¢ A&P BRAND Tall 9¢ or BORDEN'S

Sunmaid Seeded or Seedless RAISINS 15-oz. Pkg. 12 1/2¢

3 6-oz. Cakes IVORY SOAP, 20¢

Blue Peter Norwegian Imported Sardines Can 12 1/2¢

Buy Your Fruit Cake Materials From A&P

GLACE CITRON PEEL New Stock lb. 65¢
 GLACE Orange or Lemon PEEL, lb. 33¢
 ALI BABA Golden DATES, 10-oz. Pkg. 20¢
 DROMEDARY DATES, Pkg. 23¢

YOU CAN STILL BUY A&P

COFFEE BOKAR Coffee Supreme lb. 45¢
 Red Circle, lb. 40¢
 8 O'Clock, lb. 35¢
At the OLD PRICES
 Although the Market is steadily advancing we have not had to advance owing to our direct marketing system and large buying power

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC CO.

Edmondson To Head Pan-Hellenic Body At Emory University

R. A. Edmondson was elected president of Emory university Pan-Hellenic council, composed of representatives of the various Greek-letter fraternities, at the council's first meeting of the year held recently at the Delta Tau Delta house. Other officers named were: vice president, C. D. Hurt; secretary and treasurer, R. L. Fagan.

A discussion regarding the probability of securing a permanent fraternity row on or near the campus followed election of officers. A committee was appointed to look into the matter, together with the university faculty executive committee.

Members of the council are: Julian de Laperriere and Frank Rowsey, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Jack Cowart and P. M. Spurlin, Delta Tau Delta; Whit Reeves and W. M. Peterson, Phi Delta Theta; H. B. Scott and Tom Corrigan, Pi Kappa Alpha; W. D. Hughes and R. B. Nixon, Pi Kappa Phi; C. D. Hurt and W. M. Fitzhugh, Kappa Alpha; A. D. Williams and P. A. Yost, Sigma Chi; E. G. Trammell and M. N. Watson, Chi Phi; R. A. Edmondson and E. B. Collins, Alpha Tau Omega; L. M. Reeves and R. L. Fagan, Sigma Nu.

BUY TUNO PEANUT BUTTER BEST IN THE WORLD

WHEAT for STRENGTH EAT SKINNER'S The Superior MACARONI

HUBIG'S FAMOUS HONEY-FRUIT PIES

HUBIG'S FAMOUS HONEY-FRUIT PIES
 100 PER CENT PURE

You want to taste them when you see those good "Honey-fruit Pies" that "Simon the Pieman" makes. They look so good they talk straight to your appetite. Hubig's Famous Honey-fruit pies are a delicious, wholesome, tempting, nourishing food and not only please the palate but satisfy your hunger.

The more you eat the more you want

10¢ 20¢ 30¢ at your Grocers

$400,000 BUILDING PERMIT GRANTED

Detailed plans for a $400,000 concrete building at 501 Peachtree street were announced Tuesday, when a building permit was issued for the structure by C. J. Bowen, city building inspector.

The building, which is to be called The Carlton, will be located opposite the Georgian Terrace hotel.

Construction of the building, which will be a 12-story and basement structure, already has been started and the building is expected to be completed and ready for occupancy next year.

Carlton, Inc., composed of a group of Atlanta capitalists, is behind the project. Plans were drawn by Pringle & Smith, Atlanta architects.

Plans for the structure were announced early this year, but a number of important changes have been made since.

An ordinance prohibiting parking of all automobiles other than those bearing city license tags in the court of Fairlee street, behind city hall, and which was passed Monday by city council, was vetoed Tuesday by Mayor Walter A. Sims.

In blocking the measure the mayor explained that a number of city officials use their own automobiles in city work, and that the measure would prevent even these machines from being parked near the city hall.

Proponents of the measure claim that so many cars are parked in the space that there frequently is no room for city-owned machines. Opponents contend, however, that the court should be open to anyone, and pointed out that passage of the ordinance would prevent parking of machines owned privately by city officials.

SIMS VETOES MOVE TO BAN PARKING NEAR CITY HALL

This will be a regular meeting of the club and, therefore, will not be open to the general public," said Mr. Walker. "But I do want to emphasize the fact that the members of the various teams that will represent the club in the campaign are cordially invited and are expected to attend."

Mr. Black and Mr. Gates will speak on the purposes and plans of the campaign which will begin two weeks from today.

Musical features by Enrico Leide, director of the Metropolitan and Symphony orchestras, and Perry Branner, cornet soloist, accompanied by Adolph Veril on the piano, will be added features of the program at the regular weekly luncheon of the Atlanta Masonic club, today at noon.

A hope chest undoubtedly answers its purpose, but our opinion is that a vanity case brings quicker results.

—Hamilton (Ont.) Herald.

LOCAL HOTEL MEN WILL BE GUESTS AT RUSSELL HOME

Members of the Atlanta Hotel Men's association will be the guests Wednesday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell at their home in Decatur, according to an announcement Tuesday by James F. DeJarnette, president of the association.

Mr. Russell is secretary of the hotel men's association and has extended the invitation to the hotel men, their wives and friends.

The beautiful flower garden at the Russell home, containing many rare specimens will be visited by guests. The garden is one of the most attractive in the city and many novel entertainment features will be staged in the midst of the blooming flowers, according to plans of Mr. and Mrs. Russell.

Automobiles will leave the Chamber of Commerce building for the Russell home at 3 o'clock and plans have been made for all members.

CHEST SPEAKERS AT MASONIC CLUB MEETING TODAY

Representing the Community Chest, the Atlanta Masonic club will hold its regular weekly luncheon Wednesday at noon, according to an announcement by Charles M. Walker.

Mr. Walker is to be one of the division commanders in the chest campaign, of which Mr. Black is the leader.

"This will be a regular meeting of the club and, therefore, will not be open to the general public," said Mr. Walker. "But I do want to emphasize the fact that the members of the various teams that will represent the club in the campaign are cordially invited and are expected to attend."

Mr. Black and Mr. Gates will speak on the purposes and plans of the campaign which will begin two weeks from today.

Musical features by Enrico Leide, director of the Metropolitan and Symphony orchestras, and Perry Branner, cornet soloist, accompanied by Adolph Veril on the piano, will be added features of the program at the regular weekly luncheon of the Atlanta Masonic club, today at noon.

A hope chest undoubtedly answers its purpose, but our opinion is that a vanity case brings quicker results.

—Hamilton (Ont.) Herald.

SOUTHERN PROMOTES FORMER ATLANTA MAN

Charles Chandler, formerly a superintendent of the C. N. O. & T. P. railway, at Somerset, Ky., has been promoted to be acting general superintendent of the southeastern district of the Southern railway system with headquarters at Macon, it was announced Tuesday.

Mr. Chandler for a number of years was located in Atlanta as superintendent of the Atlanta division of the Southern, having been transferred to the C. N. O. & T. P. as superintendent on August 15, 1923. He entered the service of the Southern in 1892 as a fireman on what is now the Memphis division. He later served as a telegraph operator and agent and was promoted through various grades in the operating department until 1920, when he was promoted to superintendent of the Atlanta division at Atlanta.

Mr. Chandler, whose appointment as acting general superintendent becomes effective Wednesday, October 22, succeeds J. W. Wasson, who has been transferred to Charlotte as general superintendent of the eastern district. William C. Hudson, formerly general superintendent of the eastern district, is transferred to Danville, Va., as general superintendent of the northern district, relieving General Superintendent A. D. Shelton, who has been granted leave of absence to enable him to recover his health.

As a result of these changes, the following additional appointments are announced by the Southern:

L. H. Woodall, superintendent, C. N. O. & T. P. railway, Somerset, Ky.; vice Charles Chandler, promoted; J. W. Payne, superintendent, Memphis division, Sheffield, Ala.; vice L. H. Woodall, promoted; Walter P. Webb, trainmaster, west end, Memphis division, vice J. W. Payne, promoted; J. N. Winston, trainmaster, east end, Memphis division, vice W. P. Webb; T. O. Crane, trainmaster, Alabama Great Southern railroad, vice J. N. Winston; Lawrence Ennis, trainmaster, Mobile division, vice T. O. Crane; S. Clyde Cherry, formerly assistant trainmaster on the C. N. O. & T. P., promoted to trainmaster, east end, Memphis division, vice Lawrence Ennis.

AGNES SCOTT PLANS $100,000 BUILDING

Preliminary work for the erection of a $100,000 gymnasium already is under way as the first step in elaborate plans for the enlargement of Agnes Scott college, it was announced Tuesday at a meeting of Atlanta alumnae which was addressed by Miss Nell Buchanan, alumnae secretary.

One of the college dormitories has been moved from the site which the new building will occupy and ground for the actual construction of the building will be broken on December 1. The building will be completed, it is said, in plenty of time for holding part of the commencement exercises in the various hall which will be one of its features.

Modern in equipment and design the building will combine attractive features of up-to-date college gyms elsewhere. A large swimming pool will be placed on the ground floor with lockers and dressing rooms. A hair-drying apparatus also will be installed.

Two gymnasium halls will be located on the second floor, the larger of which will have a good sized gallery. Offices for the doctor, nurses and gym director and six rooms for student activities also will be on the second floor.

That students of Agnes Scott will participate this year in a national dramatic contest was another announcement of interest made by Miss Buchanan. Northwestern university has invited the dramatic clubs of 8 leading women's colleges to take part in the contest in Chicago and members of the Black Friars will send their representatives under the direction of Miss Katherine Gooch, dramatic instructor.

Alumnae were urged to attend the lecture which Dr. Carl Van Doren, editor of The Century Magazine, will deliver at the college October 28.

Mrs. James B. Cotnam and Mrs. C. G. Aycock were joint hostesses for Tuesday's gathering, which was the regular meeting of the Atlanta Agnes Scott club, held at the home of Mrs. Aycock. A double quarter from the college furnished a delightful musical program.

Modern in equipment and design the building will combine attractive features of up-to-date college gyms elsewhere. A large swimming pool will be placed on the ground floor with lockers and dressing rooms. A hair-drying apparatus also will be installed.

Two gymnasium halls will be located on the second floor, the larger of which will have a good sized gallery. Offices for the doctor, nurses and gym director and six rooms for student activities also will be on the second floor.

That students of Agnes Scott will participate this year in a national dramatic contest was another announcement of interest made by Miss Buchanan. Northwestern university has invited the dramatic clubs of 8 leading women's colleges to take part in the contest in Chicago and members of the Black Friars will send their representatives under the direction of Miss Katherine Gooch, dramatic instructor.

Alumnae were urged to attend the lecture which Dr. Carl Van Doren, editor of The Century Magazine, will deliver at the college October 28.

Mrs. James B. Cotnam and Mrs. C. G. Aycock were joint hostesses for Tuesday's gathering, which was the regular meeting of the Atlanta Agnes Scott club, held at the home of Mrs. Aycock. A double quarter from the college furnished a delightful musical program.

ENDEAVOR UNION BANQUET DRAWS 200 ATLANTANS

Approximately 200 representatives of 34 Presbyterian, Christian and Congregational churches of this city attended the third annual banquet of the Atlanta Christian Endeavor union at the First Christian church Tuesday night.

Among principal speakers on the program were Judge John H. Humphries, of Fulton superior court; Thomas Alvin Moyer, president of the Georgia Christian Endeavor union; and Robert M. McFarland, Jr., president of the Atlanta Christian Endeavor union.

Virgil Chew was chairman of the committee in charge of arranging the banquet, others on the committee being Mrs. R. B. Acuff and Dan Stevens. Mrs. J. van Hook was chairman of another committee which looked after details of the affair.

Presbytery of Macon Opens 135th Session At Americus Church

Americus, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—The Presbytery of Macon began its 135th session here tonight. Delegates are assembled at the Americus Presbyterian church and the opening session was called to order by Rev. Richard F. Simpson, pastor, who will retire as moderator at this session of the Presbytery.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. Robbins Low of Vineville Presbyterian church, Macon, with a large number of delegates and visitors present. Sessions will continue through Wednesday with "home missions" as the subject to be discussed by the delegates on that evening.

ANTI-FASCISTS CALL "RUMP" PARLIAMENT

Rome, October 21.—(By The Associated Press.)—The communist party through its press bureau announced that at a meeting in this chamber of deputies it had been decided to propose that all deputies in opposition to the fascist meet and legislate by themselves, forming a sort of "rump" parliament, which would be called a parliament of the people against the fascist parliament.

The communists adopted a "rump" parliament program which included transfer of the Matteotti crime from the judicial into the political field; defending political syndicalist liberty; of the laboring classes, resistance of wage reductions, increased working hours and high prices, and to appeal for physical resistance by the masses against the fascist "criminal" government.

British Election Becomes Process Of Mud Slinging

London, October 21.—(By The Associated Press.)—The political campaign is settling itself down to a tedious process of discrediting and belittling "the opposing party." This is due to the absence of any great question of principle to stir the mind of the voters. There is, nevertheless, an overwhelming flood of oratory.

Marquis Curzon entered the field for the first time today with a speech in London, denouncing the foreign policies of the labor government, especially the Russian treaty, which he characterized as "astonishing" and respecting which he said: "The whole annals of our country contain nothing more humiliating or more disgraceful than this treaty."

Curzon also pictured the situations growing up in Egypt and India, which might possibly lead to war.

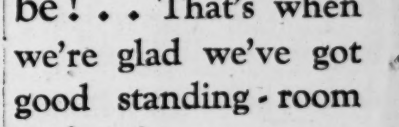

Premier MacDonald's health has improved and he again is touring the country in an active campaign. There has been some rovingism at Bristol, Norwich and other places, leading to the arrest of many disturbers under a special act of parliament passed in 1908, when suffragist disturbances were rampant. This is the first time that the act has been invoked since that period.

Standing room only!

... how often that's all there is, lots of places we have to be!... That's when we're glad we've got good standing-room with us!

Namely, and to wit: A pair of friendly, comforting Cantilevers!

... Here's a style that many men like; and you may, too:

Cantilevers for COMFORT-LOVERS

Men's and Women's We Fit by X-Ray—the Perfect Way Sold in Atlanta Only by Cantilever Shoe Store, Inc.

W. L. SCHELL, Mgr. 126 Peachtree Arcade. WAL. 5655

CRUISE EXTRAORDINARY Round the World

From New York, Jan. 14, for 110 days. This is the cruise which offers so many features extraordinary. 33 days for shore excursions. An overland trip, Haifa to Jerusalem to Cairo. Another from Bombay to Delhi and Agra. Others to Peking and through the ancient capitals of Japan. Return via Hawaii, to Victoria, Vancouver, San Francisco, Panama, Havana, and New York. Also a ship extraordinary—the Empress of France, chosen twice for voyages by Lord Renfrew Prince of Wales. Send now for fascinating planning literature. And book your passage.

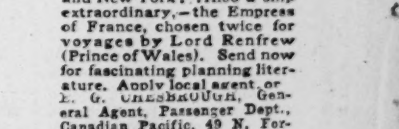

General Agent, Passenger Dept., Canadian Pacific, 40 N. Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.

Canadian Pacific IT SPANS THE WORLD

CALIFORNIA for the COTTON-PLANTER. Write for free colored booklet telling about California's splendid cotton climate and balmy-to-the-south land, where the boll weevil never has been known.

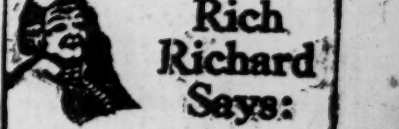

Passenger-Traffic Dept., Southern Pacific Ry. San Francisco, Calif.

Rich Richard Says:

EVERY scrap of a wise man's time is worth saving. And plenty of wise men and women are letting The Constitution Classified Ads save their time regularly.

Read them today!

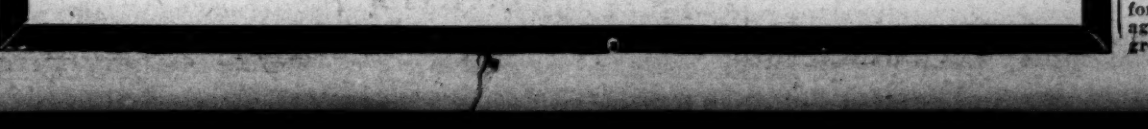

(Copyright, 1924)

PIGGLY WIGGLY

FOR WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY ONLY

Domino Cane Sugar

5-lb. Cotton Bag, 40¢
10-lb. Cotton Bag, 79¢
25-lb. Cotton Bag, $1.97

Secret Convention of "Reds" Was Held in Forest Preserve

BY JACOB SPOLANSKY.
CHAPTER 4.

(This is the third installment of a series of articles in which Jacob Spolansky, former agent of the department of justice, reveals discoveries he has made covering activities of communists in the United States.)

How the government reacted to the communist activities every one knows. Columns were printed at the time describing the sensational raids made by federal, state and city authorities in January, 1920. And what the communists were doing until that time also is more or less of an open book. Until that time "red" activities were allowed by the government to proceed without molestation, although under constant watch of federal agents.

However, since the raids in which more than 3,000 members of communist organizations were arrested and later deported, little is known by the public except in a very general way. Nor is it realized to what a startling extent the propaganda of the organization was successful.

It was a time of industrial upheaval. There were strikes on every hand, in almost every line of industry, and the government, realizing that these strikes were largely the result of communist work, decided to strike one huge blow at the organization in an effort to break it down. This effort to some extent was successful. That is, it did deal a great blow to the movement. Where before great publicity was obtained whenever a meeting was held, thereafter everything had to be done in secret.

Secret Meetings Ordered.

On orders from Moscow, instructions were sent out from the headquarters that no effort be made thereafter to further the cause of revolution in the open, and it was ordered that meetings at which policies were to be discussed must be held in secret. All large meetings were forbidden, and at no time was it permitted that more than ten communists meet together at any one place. But the raids did not halt the communist movement. It simply placed difficulties in the manner of its procedure.

Many conventions of communists were held of which the public never heard. There are probably not ten persons in Chicago outside the government service who even dreamed that in May, 1920, there was held in the forest preserve of River Forest an underground convention of communists.

This convention, attended by "red" delegates from all sections of the United States, Canada and even a representative from Russia, lasted for seven consecutive days and nights, the sessions sometimes running until 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning. It was at this convention that a threatened split in the communist party was mended and unity of purpose achieved to form what was thereafter known as the united communist party of America.

It was William Broes Lloyd who made it necessary that this convention be called.

Lloyd in Action.
Back in September, 1919, a convention was held in Chicago attended by delegates from all parts of the country.

try to the American communist party. Now, Mr. Lloyd for some reason had incurred the enmity of a large number of communists. In the first place he had always remained a member of the socialist party, and it was his avowed aim to wipe out the communists to become a radical branch of the socialist party. In the second place, his membership in the communist party was objected to because he was deriving large benefits, which were not shared by others of his comrades—namely, profits from rents and interest on invested capital, which every loyal communist will tell you is no way for a communist to act.

It was suggested to Mr. Lloyd at one time that he give up his wealth—distribute it equally for the benefit of the communist cause and thus become a true communist from the heart out, but this Mr. Lloyd could not see his way clear to do.

Therefore when in the convention hall in 1919 Mr. Lloyd attempted to present certain resolutions favoring socialism, and again attempted to obtain a vote of approval on certain of the socialist principles, resentment against him was aroused anew. Mr. Lloyd was persistent, so persistent that finally Adolph Germer, secretary of the convention, and Alexander Stokely, the Russian organizer, objected to these interruptions and rebuked Mr. Lloyd sharply.

This was the same Alexander Stokely who but a few months before had been one of the little band which met in an office on West Madison street to bring about the birth of communism in the United States.

The little band of which Mr. Lloyd had been a conspicuous member.

Riot and a Seclusion.
Thus rebuked for "wasting the time of the convention," Mr. Lloyd became still more persistent. More rebukes followed, and these were followed by heated retorts from both sides. The argument became a riot. Chairs were thrown about, fists flew, booming off heads of opposing debaters, and the friendly argument developed into a grim battle for possession of machinery.

Finally, to save the place from complete destruction, Secretary Germer slipped out of a side door and sent in a riot call to the police. Aided by these reinforcements the communists succeeded in ejecting Mr. Lloyd, together with 40 of his belligerent followers.

Nothing daunted, however, Mr. Lloyd dusted off his coat and immediately set out with his little sporting band to seek an empty hall. This was found right around the corner from the other meeting in a little 7 W. W. hall on Throop street. Here Mr. Lloyd proceeded to call the meeting to order and forthwith formed another party, which he dubbed the communist-labor party.

Now this meant the existence of two communist organizations in the United States, two organizations, each separate and distinct from the other. It meant a movement in their own organization corresponding exactly with that which they were attempting to establish in the organizations of their capitalistic enemies—a movement toward discord. And it was recognized in Russia that with such a split in its ranks the communist movement here never could be successful. Therefore every effort was made to bring about a reunion of interests.

Russia Negotiates a Compromise.

Meanwhile the two organizations continued to function independently. Competition was keen, and feeling ran high. Matters came to such a pass that the international executive committee in Russia decided to take a hand. After lengthy discussion there by that body, and seeing the danger of such an unfortunate split and what damage such dissension might do to the revolutionary cause here, a special emissary was sent from Russia for the purpose of calling a secret convention at which should be discussed the question of unity—a convention which should iron out all differences and present a united front against the United States government.

This message was not intrusted to the mails. It was sent by way of Amsterdam, by special messenger. And this messenger carried with him authority to call a secret convention to be held according to strict rules laid down by Moscow in the woods of the forest preserve in River Forest.

CHAPTER 5.
It was the formation of the second communist organization—the run-away organization formed by William Broes Lloyd after he and his supporters had been tossed out of a regular communist convention—which did most to bring against the radicals drastic action on the part of the government.

With both organizations at work, each striving to outrun the other in a membership race, there was just twice as much radical activity as there had been previously—and the overthrow of the United States government by force.

The government was forced to take notice of this menacing influence, and to take immediate steps to check it. Each party also was busy stirring up industrial trouble. There were strikes on every hand, many laid at the door of communism. Various states—Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Michigan, California, Ohio and Indiana—enacted laws aimed at such organizations.

The United States took another means of striking at the menace. Secretary of Labor Wilson issued a ruling which made all communist organizations "outlaws," and which made membership in such organizations, or any other organization which advocated the overthrow of the government, adequate cause for deportation. In January, 1920, the rule came—a nation-wide sweep which netted more than 3,000.

Meets Defeat With New Plans.

However, the communists were equally swift with their own orders. The raids were not 24 hours old when orders poured in from Moscow to communist headquarters in New York and Chicago. Dozens of code wires were dispatched from both sides of the water, and almost immediately a new course of action had been decided upon. New leaders were shipped across, carrying with them secret instructions for the carrying on of the new line of work—in secret. And detailed instructions and suggestions were cabled in code to communist leaders who were known to be exacting how the government in Moscow wished them to proceed. These instructions decreed that from that date—January 2, 1920—all activities in the support of communism and of revolution must be carried on in secret. No more open meetings or conventions. And no meetings—unless specially ordered from Russia—of more than ten persons at any one time or place.

It must not be supposed, however, that such a light thing as a raid or two by the government did anything to the communist organizations except to disturb them momentarily. It did check for a time their general activities. It called a halt to their entire system of publicity and made necessary a complete organization of methods. And it took away many of their leaders and sent them back to Russia. But it did not halt the movement.

New Leaders in the Saddle.
Other leaders sprang up in the United States. Others arrived secretly from Russia. And within two weeks the new "underground" organization was working with the precision of a clock.

The "reds" were watching for just such a move on the part of the government. They knew that it was only a question of time before their activities in the open would be checked, and they were prepared for it when it came. Thereafter their leaders took a little more preparation. It was a little more difficult to hold meetings and to send communications, because of the danger of arrest—but they did. From January until April small groups of six, eight, ten communists gathered together in various parts of the city and country for all the world as if nothing had happened.

By April, from reports carried to Russia by special messenger, it became apparent to leaders there that if communism ever was to succeed in America the two warring factions must be reconciled and united. So a special envoy named Melnichansky was selected to bring to the "red" brethren in America the suggestion from Russia that the unity convention called. Melnichansky was entrusted with secret orders. How he succeeded in entering the country without detection no one knows. Government agents, through an undercover man of the government who had succeeded in gaining the confidence of communist leaders without arousing suspicion, knew when the envoy left Moscow. He knew that he was to arrive by way of Amsterdam. But he arrived unnoticed. He delivered his orders as scheduled to communist leaders in New York—and their contents were immediately flashed to Washington.

Ordered to Secret Convention.

These orders contained perhaps the most detailed set of secret instructions which ever entered the country. They called for a secret convention, the location of which not even the delegates were to know until they were started on the last section of their trip to the convention grounds.

Communists in every section of the country were commanded to meet secretly and to select a delegate to attend the convention. To this delegate was handed an envelope bearing the official seal of the communist party in Moscow. In this envelope the delegate found his directions. And with such secrecy were all arrangements made, that even after opening his letter of instructions, the delegate himself did not know where he was going. They thought by this means to prevent any possible treachery on the part of any member who might be led to make known the meeting place to the government.

If, for instance, the delegate was appointed from New York, his direction read to proceed to Detroit, with instructions to board a certain train. As he stepped from the train at Detroit he was ordered to insert in his buttonhole a white carnation in the center of which was a spray of red. As he reached the platform he was met by another "comrade" wearing a similar flower. This man presented the delegate with another sealed envelope tearing the unbroken seal of the Moscow government.

This directed the delegate to proceed to Cleveland. In Cleveland a similar procedure was followed. He was handed orders to take a given train out of Cleveland. In Cleveland he received another envelope, which he was not to open until he had boarded the train. This "train order" informed him that he was on his way to Chicago and gave specific directions for him to follow when he reached the city.

All Center on Chicago.
Delegates from other sections of the country were given their instructions with equal precision and equal secrecy. All departures were planned so that the delegates would arrive in Chicago on the morning of May 12.

On the morning of May 12 there arrived at the forest preserve in River Forest, from all points of the country, from Canada and from Russia, 25 members and delegates from the united communist party, 32 delegates from the communist-labor party, one delegate from Canada and one delegate representing the communist international in Moscow.

All of these delegates met in the woods for seven consecutive days and nights in order that unity might be achieved in the communist organizations. (Copyright, 1924, by The Constitution.)

(The fourth installment of this series will be printed in an early issue.)

D. Rich Dead.

Winston-Salem, N. C., October 21.—D. Rich, one of Winston-Salem's leading citizens and businessmen, after several months' illness, died at his home here at 5 o'clock this morning. He was a native of Davis county, and was 62 years old. For many years he was associated with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company, and for several years prior to his retirement from active work last year he was treasurer and director of that concern.

NEW MODEL

"It is the ideal method of dictation and we consider your New Model 10 faultless."—W. A. Smith, Comptroller, Atlanta West Point R. R.

See it and listen to it at your office or ours.

Walnut 5419
430 Metropolitan Bldg.
Atlanta

TAE
DICTAPHONE

WALL STREET OWNS G. O. P.-LA FOLLETTE

Rock Island, Ill., October 21.—Farmers and wage-earners are natural political allies, Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent presidential candidate, said in the first speech of his swing into the eastern industrial centers here Tuesday. He said it is not true that the two groups are antagonistic.

"They suffer from the same things and they want the same things," he said.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

"It has become so exclusively private that for a score of years a mere handful of men sitting in a private room in a hotel and acting under orders from Wall street have selected its candidates for the presidency and vice presidency as they would select an employee on their railroads or in their counting rooms."

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

"It has become so exclusively private that for a score of years a mere handful of men sitting in a private room in a hotel and acting under orders from Wall street have selected its candidates for the presidency and vice presidency as they would select an employee on their railroads or in their counting rooms."

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

La Follette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period, through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Gary," he asserted.

Newell To Attend National Chamber Meeting in Capital

Alfred C. Newell, national councilman of the United States Chamber of Commerce, leaves today at noon for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the mid-year meetings of the eastern division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which convenes in that city October 23-24 inclusive.

At this convention business men who attend from Atlanta or other southern cities may recommend candidates for the board of directors of the national chamber. The eastern division is entitled to recommend ten candidates this year and President Paul Norcross is especially anxious that a large delegation attend from the Atlanta chamber. He has mailed a series of letters to the Atlanta membership urging attendance.

A delegation from the Atlanta chamber is expected to leave the city late Wednesday or Thursday.

Prominent Speakers To Address Safety Council Meet Today

Addresses by L. M. DeSaussure and John T. Hancock will be the principal features at the regular weekly luncheon today at noon of the Atlanta Safety council.

Mr. DeSaussure will speak on the importance of the safety council, while Mr. Hancock will speak on the formation of safety councils in graded schools.

The meeting will be held at the Wincoff hotel.

Sticking Close to Business.

Theater Man: I don't suppose you'd let me set up a couple of posters of our new movie here?

Grocer: Sure I will! Then I'll have my errand boy right here where I can watch him.

—The Progressive Grocer.

VOTERS OF STATE RESPOND TO CALL FOR MORE FUNDS

With an intensive canvass on all over the state for contributions to the national democratic campaign fund, the state's total contributions for the election of John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan had mounted to over $6,000 on Tuesday night.

Spring Allen, finance director for Georgia, has called upon all loyal democrats to give to the cause in order that necessary expenses of speaking tours, etc., in states where the issue is in doubt, may be met.

Davis-Bryan clubs have been organized in practically every county in Georgia. Membership in this club costs only $1 and the entire amount is transmitted to the national campaign headquarters.

Volunteer workers are enthusiastically soliciting contributions all over the state and turning collections in at state campaign headquarters, 90 Spring street. An important contribution was brought in by Miss Mary Nagle, who is connected with the office of Comptroller General W. A. Wright, at the state capital, when she reported $50 given to the fund by Mrs. Mary Raulo, well-known Atlanta woman.

Tuesday's subscriptions, Mr. Allen reported, brought the total for the state up to $6,175 and it is expected that this amount will be greatly increased before the close of the campaign with the elections on November 4.

"We democrats in Georgia ought to feel mightily encouraged over the national situation," said Mr. Allen, who has just returned from Nashville, Tenn., where he, with United States Senator William J. Harris and Major John S. Cohen, national democratic committeeman for Georgia, went to meet John W. Davis, the democratic presidential nominee and hear his speech on Monday.

"We talked with Mr. Davis, members of his party, and with newspapermen who have been with him on his speaking tours and also on trips of political investigation. The prospect of a democratic victory in November is strong and growing stronger every day."

"Reports we received in Nashville are to the effect that Indiana, New Jersey and Rhode Island will go democratic, and that other hitherto doubtful states are swinging our way. We are going to win and Georgia democrats must have part in the victory."

ATLANTES' LUNCHEON HELD AT FULTON HOTEL

The luncheon of the Atlantes on Tuesday was featured by a musical program, including songs by Mrs. J. T. Daniel, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. E. Bennett. Special attendance prizes of Warner's Ace records were awarded by Tom Brannon. E. B. Ray presided.

It was announced that future luncheons of the Atlantes would be held at the Robert Fulton hotel. The first luncheon to be held at the Fulton on Tuesday, October 28, will be "ladies' day" and each member of the club is pledged to bring a guest.

Supreme Court of Georgia Judgments Affirmed.

Dwight et al. v. First National Bank of Reynolds et al.; from Macon superior court—Judge Littlejohn. Jere M. Moore, R. L. Greer, John M. Greer, for plaintiffs in error; Homer Beeland, Robinson & Ford, contra.

Leach et al. v. Stephens et al.; from Lamar superior court—Judge Persons. J. M. Fitcher, for plaintiffs; Williamson & Williamson, for defendants.

Willbanks v. Willbanks; from Fulton superior court—Judge Humphries. Lowndes Calhoun, for plaintiff in error; James B. Warren, contra.

Frank & Co. v. Nathan; from Wayne superior court—Judge Sumner. Jacob Gazan, for plaintiffs; W. B. Gibbs, J. H. Thomas, Raymond Pierce, for defendant.

Farnell et al. v. Brady; from Grady superior court—Judge Custer. C. P. Cain for plaintiffs in error; J. B. Singletary, Hartsfield & Conner, contra.

Judgments Reversed.
Nash v. Robinson, ordinary; from Gwinnett superior court—Judge Russell. W. H. Nix, for plaintiff; John I. Keller, for defendant.

Certified Question—Affirmative Answer.
Ost v. Merchants and Farmers' Bank et al.; from Wayne—certified by Court of Appeals. Gibbs & Turner, J. H. Quarterman, Parker & Parker, for plaintiff; Thomas & Walker, for defendants.

Applications for Marriage Licenses

The following applications for marriage licenses were filed in the office of the Fulton county ordinary during Tuesday:

Roger A. Tompkins, 23, and Grace Hodson, 18.

Walter Harris, 22, and Lorine Evans, 18.

Pierce C. Durham, 27, and Nettie Tomlin, 21.

Clarence F. Smith, 22, and Stella Oliver, 18.

George A. Donaldson, 20, and Cleo Price, 20.

LONG VIGILANCE OF DRY OFFICERS AT LAST REWARDED

For the past quarter century, 'tis said, government agents have suspected that Brigham Gilmer, of Hall county, was connected with the liquor traffic. Old-time "revenoo" agents are said to have pitted their wits against those of the suspected mountaineer, but they could never find sufficient evidence to bring him into court.

Every man who has gone into the section of the hill country under the modern title of "prohibition agent, dry agent, booze sleuth" or what not, has reported that Gilmer was allied with the liquor traffic.

And now, after 25 years of suspicion hovering about him, Brigham Gilmer has been brought into court and convicted on charges of possessing liquor.

Gilmer gave the dry agents a battle royal when his case was called in United States district court Tuesday. His attorneys set forth through various witnesses that the aged man was guiltless. The government met set forth in equally vigorous testimony that he was guilty.

The evidence was purely circumstantial, but Gilmer lost. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $300.

Young Harris Alumni
Planning Big Banquet
Here on November 21

The third annual get-together banquet of former students and friends of Young Harris college will be held at Peacock cafe at 6:30 o'clock Friday night, November 21, it was announced Tuesday. This date was selected to take advantage of the fact that many former students of the school are members of the North Georgia conference of the M. E. church, south, and will be in Atlanta at the time attending the annual convention of the conference.

The banquet will follow a meeting of the executive committee of the alumni and Former Students' association in the offices of Thomas H. Scott, president of the Atlanta Young Harris club, 807 Silvey building.

Considerable importance is placed on these two meetings in view of the campaign for funds to equip an athletic department at Young Harris, which was launched last week by the students' association. Dr. J. A. Sharp, president of the school, will attend both meetings.

Reservations for the dinner should be made with Paul Mote, P. O. Box 1117, or Thomas H. Scott, 807 Silvey building, it is stated.

New Cotton Rates
Will Be Discussed
At Meeting Today

Representatives of railroads and shippers of this section will hold a conference at 10 o'clock this morning in the offices of the Southern Freight association, 101 Marietta building, for the purpose of discussing the question of cotton rates in the south.

The conference follows one held Tuesday morning, when a committee recently appointed by the Southern Traffic bureau, met with railroad and steamship traffic officials to discuss the question of establishing a proportional rate on canned goods from Pacific coast and gulf ports to interior points.

A lengthy discussion on the subject was held. The carriers who attended the meeting will report the results of the conference back to the railroad and steamship officials, who will announce a decision on the matter at a later date, it was stated.

VOTERS OF AMERICUS TO NOMINATE TODAY

Americus, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—Eight hundred and forty-five residents of Americus had qualified this afternoon to participate in Wednesday's democratic primary for the nomination of municipal officers. Previously it had been erroneously stated that less than 400 electors would decide the election. Robert C. Lane, chairman of the city democratic executive committee, this afternoon announced that last year's registration list would be used as the basis of qualification for voters and paid 1923 taxes.

Have You Forgotten

the times when you thought you were so dyspeptic that recovery was impossible? When gasiness, sour risings and belching so distended the stomach as to startle you with gas pains? And yet you got quick relief with one or two

STUART'S Dyspepsia Tablets

Proclaim to your friends how you now eat corned beef and cabbage, pickles, onions, pie, cheese, fried eggs and bacon and yet you and indigestion are almost total strangers.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been greatly fortified and are now a better stomach medicine than ever. Don't forget them when your stomach shows signs of being overworked.

AT ALL DRUGGISTS

1891--- Atlanta-Chattanooga
Columbus ---1924

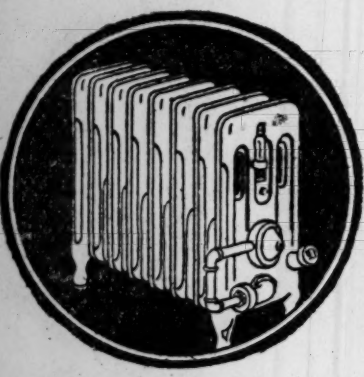

32 Years' Experience in High Class Dental Practice

Always pursuing a policy of doing best grade work at the lowest possible prices

Crown and Bridge Work
$3.50 Per Tooth
All Other Work
in proportion

SPECIAL NOTICE
DR. E. G. GRIFFIN'S
Gate City Dental Parlors
63½ Whitehall St.
Lady Attendant. Phone MAin 1708. Hours 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Steam heat without solid or liquid fuel
and without a furnace

Designed for the complete heating of old or new buildings—offices, stores, factories, schools, public buildings, residences, and apartments

EACH RADIATOR AN INDEPENDENT
STEAM HEATING PLANT

For Clow Gasteam Heating Systems you don't need a cellar. You don't have to bother with stored fuel. You don't have to worry about a lot of pipes.

Each Clow Gasteam Radiator is an independent steam heating plant.

One hundred per cent of the fuel these radiators use is converted into usable heat. Best of all to many, they require practically no attention except lighting them when you need them and giving them an occasional filling of water.

When you have Clow Gasteam Radiators and want heat, all you have to do is turn a valve, and light.

They are as convenient and efficient as a kitchen gas range. An automatic regulator controls the flow of gas to the burner. There are no ups or downs of temperature—just a steady, even warmth.

If you need four or five of them in cold weather, you don't have to keep all of them going on milder days. And there is no danger of freezing and bursting when not in use.

Send for Designs and Prices

Clow Gasteam Radiators have been approved by over twenty years of continuous use. Telephone for a salesman to make a quick estimate of the cost of your requirements—or write for designs and prices.

GEORGIA RAILWAY & POWER CO.
75 Marietta St. IVy 4400

CLOW "GASTEAM" HEATING SYSTEMS

Mfg. by JAMES B. CLOW & SONS, Chicago

DAVIS PAINTS

The Paint With a Quarter Century Backing

J. E. McMillan, general sales manager, and George L. Staffnell, representative of the H. B. Davis Paint Co., will be at the store of the Fulton Lime & Cement Co. all this week, ready to give expert advice relating to your painting problems.

DO YOU PLAN TO PAINT SOON?

FREE To all interested in painting of any kind we will give absolutely free one-half pint of ZAN-Z-LAC VARNISH

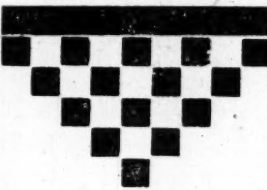

Name
Address
City

Fill out above coupon and bring in person to our store

FULTON LIME & CEMENT CO.
521 Edgewood Avenue Phone IVy 4751

Building Material

For the past ten years it has been our pleasure and privilege to furnish building materials for hundreds of the best homes in Atlanta—and throughout all this time it has been our constant and watchful aim to handle and offer for use only the very best of materials in each line. Supplies that we knew positively would stand the test of time—and to that policy we attribute our continued growth and success.

We Specialize
In

Sargents
Finishing Hardware

Southern States
Portland
Cement

Logan-Long
Roofing

Stevens Bros. &
Company
Sewer Pipe

Stevens Bros. &
Company
Fire Brick

H. B. Davis
Paints and Varnishes

Plymouth Rock
Plaster

In Celebration of Our 10th Anniversary

We Are Conducting a Build Your Home

Educational Program

Today, Wednesday, October 22
(The Last Day)

In Our New Display Rooms
521-531 Edgewood Avenue

To Which the Public Is Cordially Invited

These daily programs you will find to be of the highest interest, not alone because of their educational value to those who contemplate building their own home, but, too, from a standpoint of actual entertainment.

In our new display rooms may be seen the various designs of brick as they appear in actual use. Interior and exterior finishes are shown together with many novel treatments. The display rooms are open to the public daily from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. During the "Building-Your-Home" educational program there will be music each evening from 7 to 8 P. M. Special addresses of an instructive nature between 8 and 9 P. M., with a special feature at 9 P. M. Anyone contemplating building a home within the next 12 months will do well to be here this evening. A profitable surprise awaits you!

We Specialize
In

Beaver Board

Sheetrock
Wall Board

Face Brick

Ladd Lime

Sand

Slag

Perfection
Brand
Oak Flooring

We Install
Bath and Floor Tile

Fulton Lime & Cement Co.

Wholesale and Retail Builders' Supplies
521-531 Edgewood Avenue Telephone IVy 2066

FUNERAL THURSDAY FOR MRS. HANCOCK

Funeral services for Mrs. Albert G. Hancock, 61, Baltimore, Md., whose death occurred on September 30 at a hospital in Genoa, Italy, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of her brother and sister, Dr. and Mrs. William S. Goldsmith, 656 Piedmont avenue. Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, will officiate.

The interment, which will be private, will be in West View cemetery. Mr. Hancock arrived with his wife's body in New York on Tuesday, October 21, having sailed from Italy on the Duilio October 10, this being the first boat available, as sailings were looked 10 days apart. He was met by his son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Crawford, Dr. W. S. Goldsmith, W. W. Boyd, of Atlanta, and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dawson, of New York, brothers and sisters of Mrs. Hancock, who will accompany him to Atlanta. One party left New York Tuesday night and will arrive in Atlanta at 5:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The body will be taken direct to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Goldsmith.

Mrs. Hancock was formerly Miss Corrina Boyd, of Atlanta, daughter of the late Captain and Mrs. W. W. Boyd, prominent citizens of Atlanta. On advice of physicians, Mr. and Mrs. Hancock sailed for Europe early in September in the hope that the trip would benefit Mrs. Hancock, whose health had begun to fail.

Before the boat docked Mrs. Hancock was stricken ill. Relatives were immediately notified.

Mrs. Hancock spent her girlhood in Atlanta and was graduated from the Atlanta Female Institute, of which the late Mrs. J. W. Ballard was president.

She was married in Atlanta to Albert G. Hancock, who was at that time connected here with the Home Fire Insurance Company of New York, moving shortly afterward to New York to make her home. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Hancock possessed unusual charm and sweetness of nature, which endeared her to all with whom she came in contact.

She was a member of one of Georgia's pioneer families and one noted for its cultural and social prominence. The home of the late Captain and Mrs. W. W. Boyd will be well remembered as standing where the Foxvith theater was later erected. Mrs. Hancock was a native Atlantan. Her husband is a brother of Robert A. Hancock.

She is survived by her husband, her only daughter, Mrs. Chauncey Crawford; her sisters, Mrs. Goldsmith, Mrs. Robert R. Wood, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Carroll Dawson, of New York; her brothers, W. W. Boyd, of Atlanta, and James W. Boyd, of Dallas, Texas.

BLACK IS SPEAKER AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Taking as his theme the Rotary club motto, "He profits most who serves best," Eugene K. Black, leader of the Community Chest campaign, Tuesday addressed members of the Atlanta Rotary club, making a stirring appeal for cooperation of every individual in the organization to make the approaching campaign a success. The meeting was held at the Capitol City club.

Mr. Black declared that profit is not defined by financial gain but rather by the satisfaction to be derived by one who lives for life so that he gives of himself to the good that is being done around him. The Rotary club always has given of itself in this spirit, Mr. Black said, and its members are being counted upon this year to do their part.

The speaker recalled the high spirit of last year's Community Chest campaign, and declared that in his opinion this movement accomplished more for the spiritual benefit of Atlanta than anything he had witnessed in years. The results of the Chest campaign last year were right along the line of work that the churches constantly are doing, he said. The Chest campaign revives Atlanta's self-confidence and lifted the city to new spiritual levels, he declared.

There is one thing in his record of which he is exceedingly proud, Mr. Black continued. He never has refused any call made upon him for service in behalf of Atlanta, he said.

A. A. BIBLE CLASS OPENS ON SUNDAY

The A. A. Bible class will open for its fourth term on Sunday morning, October 25, at the A. A. synagogue, corner Washington street and Woodward avenue, at 10 o'clock. All Jewish boys and girls 15 years of age or over are eligible. Classes will be held for juniors, from 15 years of age to 17, and for seniors, 18 years and over.

Two new teachers have been obtained from New York and will take up their work with three of the teachers who taught last year, it is said. Rabbi A. P. Hirmes is superintendent of the class.

Stanton Shooting Puzzle to Police; Son Questioned

Ernest Stanton, 40, a street-car motorman, of 72 East Fair street, was carried to Grady hospital early Tuesday night with a bullet wound in his right leg, which he is said to have received at his home about 6 o'clock.

Police are holding his son, Charlie Stanton, 18, and will question the father, in a result of conflicting stories told by the two as to how the elder Stanton was shot.

Stanton's son told police that three negroes entered his father's home and that after he (Charlie) had ordered them out of the house and they refused to go he fired three times with a pistol, one of the bullets going amiss and taking effect in his father's leg.

The father tells a different story of the affair, according to police, saying his son reached on the mantelpiece in his home for some article and in doing so brushed a revolver to the floor. The gun, on striking the floor, discharged and the bullet struck him in the leg, he said.

This, the second shooting in which Stanton has figured within the past 14 months, recalls the famous Stigall-Hames case, in which W. H. Hames, private detective, was killed and Stanton and J. H. Kirk were wounded when Stigall opened fire upon the three men as they stood at the corner of Houston and Courtland streets. Stigall is now serving a sentence of 15 years, imposed after conviction in the trial that followed.

PLANS FOR MERGER OF CITY OFFICES OFFICIALLY BEGIN

Following appointment by Mayor Walter A. Sims Tuesday of a committee of five members of general council to investigate all departments of city government with the view of merging several of them, it was stated that the survey will be started immediately and that the committee will be prepared to report at the next meeting of council.

Members named on the committee are Councilman J. A. White, of the fourth ward, who has led the campaign for consolidation of departments, and who introduced a resolution in council Monday authorizing the mayor to appoint a committee; Councilman Wiley L. Moore, of the seventh ward; Councilman W. E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward; Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, of the eighth ward, and Alderman J. L. McLendon, of the sixth ward.

Mr. White explained that the object of the consolidation is not to eliminate any departments, but to group those which function along similar lines. One plan is to merge the office of the city building inspector, city planning commission.

A resolution calling for actual consolidation was introduced in council at a recent meeting, but was withdrawn when City Attorney James L. Mayson informed council that the section authorizing the city to make such changes was not included in the charter amendment bill passed by the 1924 legislature.

Registration Begins For Sunday School Meet October 23-26

Miss Mary Belle Russell, of Central Presbyterian church, one of the more than 100 young people serving as a pre-registration committee for the State Sunday School convention for all denominations to be held at the Wesley Memorial church, October 23-26, has secured 40 delegates, the largest number registered by any one individual reporting so far, according to General Superintendent R. D. Webb, of the Georgia Sunday School association. The date for pre-registrations closes Thursday, and Miss Russell is expected to increase this number by that time.

The pre-registration committee is expected to have at least 1,000 delegates by Thursday.

J. E. Kirk will have the registration booth open all during the convention and on Thursday afternoon before the convention officially begins on Thursday night.

Mr. Webb states that everybody is invited to attend the convention whether they register or not. However, those who register will be given reserved seats at the present on Saturday night. Reserved seats will be held only until 7:20, 10 minutes before time for the parent to begin.

The first session of the convention will begin Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. Three sessions will be held on Friday and Saturday, the morning sessions beginning at 9:45, the afternoon sessions at 2 o'clock, and night sessions at 7:30. Closing sessions will be in the form of a young people's rally on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Film Star—"What will you charge to conduct my divorce?" Lawyer—"If you'll give me a monopoly of your future divorces, I'll do this one for nothing!"—Stockholm Kasper.

"THIRSTY PATRON" ROLE DISASTROUS TO BOOTLEGGERS

Operating on the theory that the element of surprise is the major factor in their work, federal prohibition agents who, headed by Director Fred D. Dismuke, arrested 20 alleged bootleggers in Atlanta Monday night, failed to "take the field" Tuesday night but prepared to continue their campaign against bootleggers by again entering roles of "thirsty patrons."

United States Commissioner Joe Abbott devoted the entire day Tuesday to hearing the charges brought against the 20 persons arrested Monday night. He ordered that nineteen of the defendants be held under bonds ranging from $100 to $500. One negro woman, Sarah Dill, was permitted to go free. Commissioner Abbott holding that insufficient evidence had been produced to warrant a bond in her case.

Director Dismuke stated Tuesday afternoon that he expected to continue the present drive against bootleggers until this class of law violators are routed. However, he disclosed that "strategy" is the watchword in the campaign.

"The success which attended Monday night's raid will cause bootleggers to prepare for an official visit," said Mr. Dismuke. "There are scores of liquor peddlers and 'club rooms' remaining uncaught. But a raid on the heels of such a one as was made Monday night would be almost fruitless."

The dry chief then disclosed that he has a group of picked men operating in the roles of "undercover" men. Their duties are to make purchases of liquor from suspected individuals. Names are turned over to the prohibition office and the next series of raids will include addresses where liquor is known to be sold.

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

AUTO ASSOCIATION HOST TO OFFICIALS

Past presidents of the Atlanta Automobile association will be honor guests at a dinner to be held this evening on the roof garden of the Cecil hotel. The dinner is unique in the fact that it will be limited to "executive" members of the association.

"Executive" in this case means members of the association who are owners, proprietors, officials and general managers in their lines of business, it is stated.

Short talks will be made by past presidents, following a program of entertainment which is being arranged by "Fat" Elrod, chairman of the entertainment committee. A special course dinner will be served, beginning at 6:15 o'clock.

The dry chief then disclosed that he has a group of picked men operating in the roles of "undercover" men. Their duties are to make purchases of liquor from suspected individuals. Names are turned over to the prohibition office and the next series of raids will include addresses where liquor is known to be sold.

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

The dry chief then disclosed that he has a group of picked men operating in the roles of "undercover" men. Their duties are to make purchases of liquor from suspected individuals. Names are turned over to the prohibition office and the next series of raids will include addresses where liquor is known to be sold.

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

"There must be system in everything," said Mr. Dismuke. "The system is working for us and we are going to work it until we are forced to adopt different tactics. There is going to be no let-up in this business of bringing prohibition law violators into court."

BALMY WEATHER FOR TWENTY-THIRD DAY IS PROMISED

Another day of fair weather is the promise for Atlanta for Wednesday, the twenty-third continuous day for this city without rain, if the prediction comes true. C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the United States Weather bureau, however, made a slight change in his prophecy for Wednesday, when added the word "cooler" in place of the "little change in temperature," he has been reciting with marked regularity for three weeks past.

The temperature Tuesday was slightly below the general run for the month, showing a minimum of 60 degrees in the early morning hours, but mounting only to 74 in the afternoon. For days past the mercury has ascended as high as 80 degrees in the afternoons.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

The sub-tropical storm which has been raging over southern Florida, is not expected to have any marked influence upon Atlanta, but an area of high pressure in the lake region, with cooler weather reported as far south as Pittsburg, may reach down into this part of the country. Pittsburg reported the coldest weather in the country on Tuesday morning with 32 degrees, while the highest for the day was 88 degrees at Phoenix, Arizona.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR ANNEX TO GRADY

Award of the contract for construction of a new contagious-disease hospital, as an annex to Grady hospital, to the Griffin Construction company was recommended Tuesday by the hospitals and charities committee of city council. This action, however, is subject to approval of Mayor Sims and general council.

Because the Griffin Construction company's bid, which was the lowest submitted, was more than the $50,000 appropriated, the committee decided to eliminate plumbing fixtures, steam fitting, terrazzo floors, plaster on the walls, and several other items.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the city has voted an appropriation of $25,000. The Griffin company's bid calls for $54,876.

A total of $25,000 in materials and cash has been promised by Fulton county, while the

TWO MORE ADDED TO TRENTON DEAD

Norfolk, Va., October 21.—Two deaths today at the naval hospital resulting from the explosion which wrecked the forward gun turret of the scout cruiser Trenton off the Virginia capes yesterday afternoon. Twelve injured still remain at the hospital and some of them are said to be in a serious condition.

Washington, October 21.—Three experts of the bureau of ordnance of the navy were ordered to Norfolk late today to assist in the inquiry on board the cruiser Trenton as to the cause of the explosion yesterday. The experts were assigned by Secretary Wilbur when officials at Norfolk reported they were unable to find the slightest clue to the cause of the catastrophe. The only theory advanced in communications to the department was that powder charges being hoisted to the guns may have caught by friction. So far as could be learned at the department the records of the navy show no parallel accident.

The officers sent from Washington were Commanders Harvey Delano and Garrett Schuyler and Chief Draftsman G. A. Chadwick.

INVESTIGATION EXPECTED TO BEGIN IN FEW DAYS.

Norfolk, Va., October 21.—The investigation board ordered at Washington Tuesday to probe the Trenton explosion will meet on the U. S. S. Wyoming, flagship, which has not arrived here yet, and then will visit the Trenton. The probe is expected to begin in a few days, and as the injured witnesses will have to testify it is expected to last several weeks.

The explosion was not the result of a flareback, as was first thought, as the gun was never fired. There were only two powder bags outside of the gun, and they were being hoisted into place when the explosion occurred. Whether they were set off by an electric spark is not known.

The explosion was in the forward twin turret of the trim new cruiser, and her turret and forward deck presented a battered and blackened appearance Tuesday at the naval base at Hampton Roads, where she is lying.

DIVIDED PARTIES SPELL DISASTER

Continued From First Page.

Representative Robert Thomas. "If you are going to install an army," Mr. Davis said, "you want the general and privates and the captains and colonels to wear the same uniform. You will not get consistent advance and vigorous action if some of them are clothed in one uniform and some in another. The great trouble with our republican brethren today is that they have disregarded that great fact, and they have organized themselves not into a single army but into an army divided into two great factions."

Praises Farmers. In this connection Mr. Davis asserted confidence that he would be elected to the presidency and pointed to what he said was the necessity of having a democratic congress to cooperate with him.

Discussing agricultural problems, Mr. Davis said the farmers made up to a large extent, the "bone and sinew of this country," and had too long been ignored in governmental affairs. "I know of no men in the United States," he added, "more concerned in that (sound government) than the farmers who make up the bone and sinew of this country and who too long have been ignored in governmental affairs."

"We hear constant complaint about a farm bloc in the United States, but the farm bloc is nothing more than the farmers' answer to the fact that this country has been ruled for years by an industrial bloc. And there is no more reason why it should be ruled by an industrial bloc than by a farm bloc."

Diagnoses Farmers' Plight. "The great democratic ideal is that it should be ruled not in the interest of industry alone, not in the interest of the farmer alone, but in the interest of all the people of the United States alike."

"The great trouble with agriculture," Mr. Davis said, "is that for years the farmers have been compelled against their will to pay tribute to others of their fellow citizens, they have been compelled to sell their products in a market open to the entire civilized world and to buy

N. C. & St. L. Official Guests at Barbecue Given at Marietta

Marietta, Ga., October 21.—Special.—W. B. Cole, president of the N. C. & St. L. railroad and a party of railroad officials were guests of Marietta merchants and business men at a barbecue at 2 o'clock today. A mock trial, in which the road was sued by an autoist injured in an automobile crash, and addresses by Mr. Cole and Ralph Hancock, president of the Marietta Chamber of Commerce, were features of the entertainment.

Included among officials present were H. F. Smith, vice president; J. B. Hill, treasurer; Hunter McDonald, chief engineer; Robert S. Henry, director of public relations; J. A. Baldwin, superintendent of the Atlanta division; T. M. Wilson, division freight agent; R. L. Schmid, division engineer; W. A. Swindel, train master; Charles T. Hagin, general agent, and Elmer Tarkington, secretary and treasurer.

In a market which was closed against them by unfavorable and unjust laws.

In his address at Bowling Green, Mr. Davis said he believed the "time had come for the American people to face about and get back on the good and sound principle of equity instead of the quagmire of privilege and to put in power the people of this country that today is marching in harmony and in unity, and promises, when trusted with power, harmonious cooperation at both ends of Pennsylvania avenue."

DAVIS TO FINISH DRIVE IN NEW YORK

Louisville, Ky., October 21.—When John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, returns to New York city Friday evening from his second middle-western tour, it will be to remain there or in the close vicinity until the campaign is concluded.

It was announced today on the candidate's arrival here that the expected trip into Massachusetts had been abandoned in favor of an intensive wind-up drive in Greater New York and environs.

The itinerary, while tentative in form, shows that the closing week of the campaign will begin Saturday at a women's meeting in New York, and be concluded on the evening of November 1 with a final address at Carnegie hall.

Thirkield Hall Dedicated With Elaborate Ceremonies

Mrs. Wilbur P. Thirkield and her husband, Bishop Thirkield, standing before the new Gammoun Seminary building, which Tuesday afternoon was named Thirkield hall in tribute to them.

Dedication of a handsome building recently completed on the campus of Gammoun Theological seminary, local institution for the training of negro ministers, was held Tuesday afternoon, the structure being formally named Thirkield hall in honor of Bishop and Mrs. Wilbur P. Thirkield, of Chattanooga.

The new building will serve as an administration center for Gammoun seminary and will be named in honor of the man and woman who founded the institution. It is the largest structure on the Gammoun campus, containing chapel, class rooms and administrative offices.

Funds for building were received jointly from the Northern Methodist church and from an invested endowment fund. Bishop Thirkield, who with his wife, was justly honored in having the building named after them, is at the present time bishop of Chattanooga of the Northern Methodist church. It was he and his wife who in 1883 established the original Gammoun seminary. There were but two students. The institution has made rapid strides and more than 100 negro theological students are now enrolled there. The dedication services were presided over by Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, of Atlanta. The dedicatory address was made by Bishop Robert E. Jones, of New Orleans, who is in charge of all negro work in the south. He expressed the hope that the institution would be an increasing agency for understanding and good will between the races.

DEFENSE COUNSEL RAPS PACT CHARGE

Continued From First Page.

but that the secrecy was on the part of the government officials who sought at the time negotiations for the oil leases first were taken up to keep confidential national defense plans being formulated.

Denies Conspiracy. The attorney contended, however, that there was no secrecy or conspiracy in the actual granting of the contracts, offering in support of that statement a telegram from Fall, then secretary of the interior, to Edward C. Finney, acting secretary, instructing him to award the contract to the Pan-American interests if approved by Admiral Robison and Secretary Denby, and make public the closing of the contract in "the fullest and completest manner."

Hogan, asserting that charges by the government of fraud and conspiracy will be disposed of by defensive evidence and testimony, contended that the main issue of the litigation will hinge around an interpretation of legal authority vested in the secretary of the navy under the congressional act of June 4, 1920, which placed the naval oil reserves under his control.

Puts Blame on Denby. Seeking to disprove the charge of conspiracy between Fall and Doheny, head of the Pan-American interests, Hogan declared it was Secretary of the Navy Denby, and not Fall, who sought transfer of the naval oil reserves lease from the department to the department of the interior.

In his reference to the charge of secrecy, the defense attorney said that it was "so delicate and grave a problem that I am informed that subpoenas for certain documents regarding defense plans will not be honored by the government."

In opening the case against the oil company at the morning session, Robison reviewed the history of naval oil lands in California and then entered upon a review of transactions between Doheny and Fall, including the giving of $100,000 by Doheny to Fall, which he charged was a part of the alleged fraud and conspiracy through which the contested leases were granted.

The defense answer is expected to be completed early tomorrow and will be followed by the offering of documentary evidence by the government.

WILBUR TO IGNORE DEFENSE SUBPOENA

Washington, October 21.—Secretary Wilbur announced today that he "viewed as extremely unlikely" his appearance in the Pan-American Oil case at Los Angeles as a witness for the defense, despite the fact that he had been subpoenaed.

Conferees with Secretary Hughes and the naval judge advocate general left him "this impression," the secretary said, although he insisted no final decision had been reached. The impossibility of complying with the subpoena requiring production of the departmental files without submitting confidential data was seen by Mr. Wilbur as probably influencing the recall of his summons by the California court.

HUDSON IS ELECTED ALABAMA MODERATOR

Huntsville, Ala., October 21.—Rev. F. L. Hudson, of Gadsden, was elected moderator of the Alabama synod of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., which began its annual session here today. Rev. H. M. Turner, of Sheffield, who opened the assembly today.

Ministers and delegates are present from most of the churches of the denomination in Alabama and reports were heard today showing progress during the last year. Reference was expressed over the absence of Dr. H. M. Edmunds, pastor of Independent Presbyterian church, of Birmingham, who is ill. He was to have delivered the principal address today.

Fayal, Azores, and Emden, Germany, are to be connected by cable.

MEN DISAPPEAR LEAVING BEHIND WHISKY IN HEDGE

When A. L. Smith, of 62 Waverley street, emerged from his home late Tuesday night he saw two unidentified white men engaged in placing a number of tin cans in the tall hedge in front of his home. He walked into the house and armed himself with a shotgun, but upon his return found the men had disappeared. However, they had left their tin cans in his hedge—twenty of them in number—and each contained a gallon of corn whisky.

NEBRASKA 2 TO 1 FOR LA FOLLETTE

Continued From First Page.

between Mutz, the state chairman, and Harrison, the regional director, has assumed comic opera proportions. They have gone into the courts over a row as to who should receive the La Follette mail.

Tests Give La Follette 2 to 1. One interesting development is the public declaration of Norris and Representative Simmons, that if they are re-elected and the presidential contest goes into congress, they will vote for the candidate receiving the highest popular vote in Nebraska.

Estimates as to pluralities are useless. The Omaha Daily News, which has a circulation of 80,000, half of it outside the city, is conducting a poll which shows La Follette leading Coolidge 2 to 1. Davis is third, running slightly behind Coolidge. The paper is favorable to La Follette though it has not formally declared for him. It is not likely that La Follette will win the state by a 2 to 1 vote, but the consensus is that he is leading at present.

GOTHAM'S BANDITS IN PUBLICITY GLARE

Continued From First Page.

Mrs. Heyworth was bathing her dog or having her hair waved or entertaining a headache. Anyway, she couldn't look at the platinum pin, so three third-rate police characters who never rose above the rating of corner thug or cheap thief are enjoying a brief hour of distinction as potential first-class gentlemen stickups.

The same thing happened recently in the Boho case. Edith Boho, you remember, the Broadway dress-maker, and a boy pal, were stuck up and abused in Edith's home. For the next two weeks the police were dragging in strange creatures from the street corners and taxi ranks whose connection with the crime was about as close as the Duke of York's.

Always Seeking Slayers. There are two classes of people who have taken their losses and said as little as possible for reasons of their own in the last few years of crime in and about New York. The hither and thither girls of Broadway, who restlessly move their stuff from one abode to another, make up one group. Mrs. Cosden, the wife of the oil millionaire, and Lady Mountbatten, her guest during the visit of the Prince of Wales, represent another.

The last people they choose to confide their troubles to are the police. So the cops just go plugging along always with the idea that one of these days they are going to pick up the murderers of Dottie King and Louise Lawson.

A Handy Wife.

Jack: Can you cook and sew and sweep and keep house?

Mary (expectantly): Yes, indeed!

"Well, when we're married you oughtn't to have any trouble finding a job!"

—The Progressive Grocer.

Gasoline now sells for 14 cents a gallon in Rumania.

In the Downstairs Dept. for Today Only—

$1.00 at $2.95

600 Pairs One-strap House-slippers, with rubber heels; sizes 3 to 8.

$1.00

400 Pairs Black Kid Boudoir Slippers; sizes 3 to 8, solid leather.

642 Pairs Ladies' Slippers

All styles, all materials (these are broken lots from Downstairs and Main Floor stocks)—today your choice—TWO-NINETY-FIVE!

Stewart
GOOD SHOES FOR EVERYBODY
FRED S. STEWART CO.
ATLANTA, GA.

The unshaded portion of the drawing above indicates that portion of the property mortgaged as security for this bond issue. The shaded portion includes, at the left, the original unit of the Henry Grady Hotel.

$1,325,000

First Mortgage 7% Leasehold Bonds

Secured by HENRY GRADY ANNEX
and Mansion Site Properties (Independently appraised at $1,934,375)
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Price: Par and accrued interest, to yield 7%

In the opinion of counsel, these bonds are legal for investment by National Banks, and also by Savings Banks in Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Mississippi.

This group of buildings, adjacent to the Henry Grady Hotel on Peachtree Street, will be erected on land known as the Governor's Mansion Site, leased from the State of Georgia and free of taxes. The site is in the hotel, shopping and business district of Atlanta. The properties will consist of the following units:

- The Annex, containing 214 guest rooms, and built as an integral part of the Henry Grady Hotel, financed by a year ago and now practically complete. The Annex will be fully equipped as a modern hotel of the highest grade. A lease running until May 31, 1972, has been made to the Henry Grady Operating Company, lessee and manager of the original Henry Grady Hotel.
- The Theatre, probably to be named "B. F. Keith's Vaudeville Theatre," with seating capacity of not less than 2,500 people, equipped with refrigeration plant for cooling the air and ventilating system capable of completely changing the air in the building every 7 minutes. Designed by Robert E. Hall of New York, designer of the Rialto and Rivoli theatres in New York, the Eastman Theatre in Rochester, and many others. The Theatre has been leased until May 31, 1972, to the Forsyth Operating Corporation, which corporation is jointly owned by B. F. Keith's Circuit of Vaudeville Theatres and by Southern Enterprises, Inc., the latter controlling about 100 theatres throughout the South. This lease is guaranteed by Southern Enterprises, Inc.
- The Office Building, 8 stories in height, of steel and reinforced concrete. The first floor is to be divided into stores, and the basement, together with the basement under the Theatre, will provide 16,000 square feet of rentable space. Office Building and basement will be operated by the owners of the property, the Mansion Site Improvement Corporation.

Earnings: The total net income available for payment of interest and principal of the bonds, is estimated at $161,180 annually, including the rentals from the Hotel and Theatre. The rentals from these leases in themselves are more than sufficient to pay interest and sinking fund charges on the bond issue. The total estimated annual earning capacity of the property is $226,930, assuring the lessees of the Theatre and Hotel an ample margin of profit over the rentals payable under the leases.

Independent Appraisals: According to our practice, we have secured from architects, builders, real estate dealers and other authorities, independent appraisals covering value of leasehold, building cost, and income of this property. These appraisals, numbering 12, are printed in the circular describing these bonds.

Taxes Refunded: Normal Federal Income Tax up to 4% is paid or refunded by the borrowing corporation. Various taxes payable by residents of Massachusetts, Maryland, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania are also refunded.

Illustrated circular describing these bonds in full will be sent on request. Bonds may also be temporarily reserved by investors. We fully recommend this issue as a sound investment paying an attractive rate.

Denominations: $100, $500, $1000
Maturities, 2 to 15 years
Date September 1, 1924
Coupons payable March 1 and September 1

G. L. MILLER & CO.
INCORPORATED

1102 Hurt Building, Atlanta, Georgia
Phone Walnut 3906

New York Philadelphia Pittsburgh St. Louis Buffalo Memphis Knoxville

No Investor Ever Lost a Dollar In Miller Bonds

Big bottle—narrow neck

VOLUME production means nothing without mass selling. Where is the machine that will speed up distribution the way machinery has speeded up production?

The printing press is the machine for distribution. Paper and printing are the machinery that reduces distribution costs after production costs have been cut to a minimum.

Printing is the machinery that makes mass selling possible.

When your production begins to back up in that little bottle neck, printing is the economical and effective way to widen the outlet and let the goods flow.

This applies to retail business as well as to manufacturing. It applies to every man who needs more customers.

Well-printed folders, book-better paper better printing

S. D. WARREN COMPANY · BOSTON, MASS.

WARREN'S STANDARD PRINTING PAPERS

Tested for printing, folding, and binding qualities

Warren's Standard Printing Papers are Distributed by SLOAN PAPER COMPANY
ATLANTA, GA.
PAPER FOR THE PRINTER
Telephone: WAnat 0633 and 0634

CURLY HAIR

Straighten your curly, coarse hair.
QUEEN HAIR DRESSING
Cures dandruff, itching scalp, and keeps hair soft and shining. Also removes dirt and restores natural color. Try a box.

AT DRUGGISTS
50c per box
NEWBRO MFG. CO., Atlanta, Ga.
Agents Wanted Everywhere

Nurse Saves 2 People From Operation

"I had two patients that the doctors seemed unable to reach with their medicines and in both cases advised the knife. A friend who had tried May's Wonderful Remedy for Stomach trouble proposed that I recommend it to my patients, which I did. Both are now entirely well. I am very glad that I was able to recommend it." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Jacobs Pharmacy and druggists everywhere. (adv.)

See Round Oak Gas Range Demonstrations Today

MISS WILSON, GRADUATE IN DOMESTIC SCIENCE, AND DAUGHTER OF THE LATE BETTY LYLES WILSON, FAMOUS COOKING EXPERT, IS PERSONALLY IN CHARGE OF THE DEMONSTRATIONS

At Free Cooking School Now in Progress at Cochran's

SPREAD SOME A. B. C. BUTTER

(THAT RICH, CREAMY KIND)

—ON THE—

Hot Rolls and Hot Biscuits

MADE FROM

Famous White Lily Flour

That Miss Wilson Will Serve at Her Classes Today

If You Want to Taste Something that Will Tickle Your Palate

Miss Wilson Will Also Serve, in Her Demonstrations This Week
THAT GOOD

Golden Glow Coffee

Sold at All Rogers Stores

Mary Lyles Wilson Had Record-Breaking Crowds At Her Classes Tuesday

The demonstrations of the well-known Round Oak Gas Cooking Range at the Mary Lyles Wilson Free Cooking School, now in progress at the Cochran Furniture Company, on East Alabama street, and which continues for the entire week, are proving a phenomenal success, both in point of attendance, enthusiasm and in the large number of Round Oak Gas Ranges sold.

Miss Wilson is a most interesting demonstrator of and lecturer on the high art of cooking and demonstrates most ably the wonderful cooking and baking qualities of the Round Oak Gas Range—a range noted for its many exclusive and advantageous features over the ordinary gas cooking range. See this wonderful range in operation today. Note its four-way oven and ask about its special fuel-saving features.

Time of Demonstrations.
Miss Wilson holds two demonstrations daily—at 10:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Come and bring your neighbor. There are plenty of good, comfortable chairs for all.

Only Pure Foods Used.
Miss Wilson is careful to use only pure foods in her demonstrations, selecting Mazola Cooking and Salad Oil, Royal Baking Powder and Rogers' White Lily Flour, A. B. C. Butter and Golden Glow Coffee.

Suggestions for Luncheons

TODAY'S MENU

At 10:30 A. M. Class.

SUGGESTIONS FOR LUNCHEON:

Hot Biscuits

Chocolate Cream

Cake

Chocolate Cream Icing

At 2:30 P. M. Class.

Vegetable Combination

Nut Biscuits

Sandwich Loaf

Egg Rolls.

Into a pint of flour sift two tea-poons baking powder and sift again.

Rub into the flour one tablespoon butter. To one cup sweet milk add a pinch of salt and one beaten egg, then the flour. Make a soft dough, even if it requires a little more flour. Roll very thin, use a large round cutter, butter the top, fold over, brush again with butter and bake in hot oven.

Cornmeal Cakes.

1 pint meal.
1 heaping tablespoon cooked rice.
2 eggs beaten separately.
1 pint milk.
1 tablespoon flour.

1 teaspoon baking powder.
Mix meal, flour, salt, baking powder and rice. Add milk and yolks well beaten, and last, the stiff whites. Cook in hot fat till brown.

Fruit Fritters.

Peel, core and slice apples. Let stand an hour, sprinkle with sugar, drain, dip into batter and fry.

Pineapple, peaches, apricots or bananas may be used in this way. Use one kind of chop fruit using a combination. Add to batter and drop by spoonfuls into fat and fry. May be served with sauce.

"WHY DOES COCHRAN FURNITURE COMPANY MAKE IT SO CONVENIENT AND EASY TO OWN A GENUINE

ROUND OAK

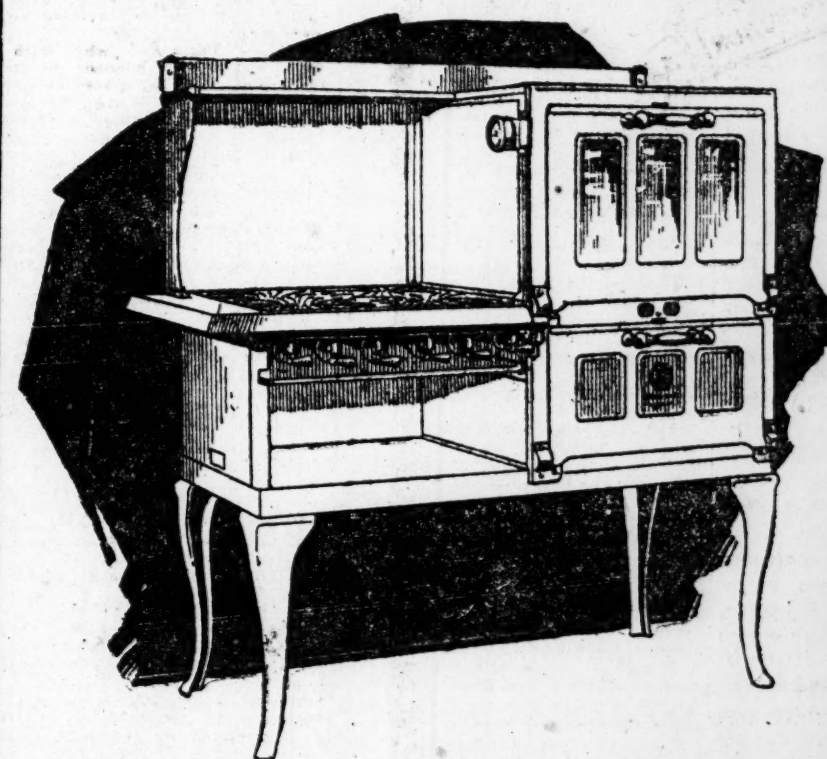

GAS, COAL, or COMBINATION

RANGE?"

THIS IS WHY!

You folks and your little ones are entitled to the proved economy, convenience, cleanliness, and pride of ownership of a Range as good as the Round Oak—You are entitled to it now.

Without Interfering With Your Plans

$1 TERMS
One Dollar Cash Delivers Your Choice—Balance on Easy Payments.

$5 For Your Old Stove

We will allow you $5.00 for your old stove, regardless of its condition—in exchange for a new Round Oak.

Could We Do More Than This?

Do you feel in your heart you are entitled to this offer--Command It!

THERE IS A ROUND OAK FOR EVERY FUEL
THERE IS A ROUND OAK FOR EVERY NEED

Exclusively Coal---Exclusively Gas---or Combination Coal and Gas

Miss Mary Lyles Wilson continues her wonderful lectures and the good folks of Atlanta surely are showing their appreciation, as every lecture continues to have record breaking crowds. We hope that every woman in Atlanta will avail herself of this opportunity to hear at least one, if not every lecture.

Cut Your Gas Bill One-Third

The patented method of heating the oven by fourway circulation, the instantaneous results from the moment the match is touched to the oven burner, the improved construction of the burner itself, are the reasons for this saving.

Class Every Day At 10:30 A. M. and 2:30 P. M.
SOUVENIRS WILL BE GIVEN AWAY

Make All Payments at Our Store, As We Have no Collectors

We save you money
Cochran
FURNITURE CO.

26 East Alabama Street

Phone WALnut
3733

If unable to attend these demonstrations and Range will be delivered to your home on approval.

Miss Mary Lyles Wilson

Who is Conducting a Cooking School

at the

COCHRAN FURNITURE COMPANY'S STORE

All this Week

Uses and Recommends

ROYAL

Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Miss Wilson selected ROYAL because it is a pure cream of tartar baking powder and because she could always depend upon it to

Produce Perfect Results

Orange Bread

1/2 yeast cake.
1/2 cup lukewarm water.
2 eggs, well beaten.
2 tablespoons melted butter.
2 tablespoons fat.
1 teaspoon salt.
3 tablespoons sugar.
Grated rind of 3 oranges.
1 cup of orange juice.
4 light cups flour.
Dissolve yeast in warm water and beat this, with other ingredients, thoroughly together. After this is done add the flour and knead until elastic. Cover, allow to rise and make into loaves. Let the loaves rise and bake in hot oven.

MAZOLA
The Perfect Oil for Cooking and Salads

Miss Mary
Lyles Wilson

Uses Mazola in her cooking demonstrations this week at Cochran's.

Best for all sorts of cooking and heavy frying.

Mazola on sale at all good grocery stores.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class matter.
Telephone MA 1000

ATLANTA, GA., OCT. 22, 1924.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
By Carrier or Mail.
Daily and 1 wk. 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Sunday . . . 10c . . . $2.50 $5.00 $9.00 $18.00
Daily . . . 10c . . . 2.00 4.00 7.00 12.00
Single Copies—Daily Only
Sunday . . . 10c . . . 1.00 1.75 2.25

J. H. HOLLADAY, Constitution Building, second advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 5 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hottel's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner); Schuta News Agency, at Bryant Park, and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advertisements or notices. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized. Also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.
The Associated Press is (solely) entitled the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

Member of North American Newspaper Alliance.
The N. A. N. occupies the same position in the future field that the A. P. does in the news field. The Constitution is the only member in this section.

THE LIFE IS MORE THAN MEAT—And the body is more than raiment.—Luk 21:23.

WHAT THE VOTE MEANS.

No feature of the La Follette-Wheeler platform is more radical than that proposing the abolition of the judicial power.

And that is saying a great deal, for it is recalled that the 1924 progressive platform also advocates the federal ownership of railroads and utilities, and the creation of a federal agency for the marketing of farm commodities—one socialist and the other communistic.

In all of the talk about La Follette there should be a serious study of what he advocates. There is no doubt about the ability of the Wisconsin senator, and of his strong and vigorous fight, as a republican, against some of the special privilege tendencies within his own party. There is no doubt that in some respects he made Wisconsin a good governor, and strove firmly and commendably for rural education and material advancement. There is also no doubt about his war policy, and the great comfort it gave to the enemy during the hour of the nation's crisis.

But in the present instance the vote of any American citizen for the La Follette-Wheeler, or the progressive party ticket, is a vote for the outstanding tenets of its party or group faith—hence it is a vote for the overthrowing of the supreme court by congress, or the tossing of the whole judicial system into the melting pot of factional and party politics; and a vote for the highly impracticable scheme of a federal marketing agency, destroying the supply and demand and competitive marketing systems; and a vote for the ownership of the railroads and utilities of the country by the government, in the face of a deficit from government operation of railroads during the war that our children's children will be liquidating in taxes, and in the face of the millions of dollars lost by the United States shipping board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation in the operation of a government-owned merchant marine.

As to the La Follette proposal to reverse a supreme court decision by a congressional statute—that is to give congress a veto power over the highest tribunal in the judiciary system—the proposition has met with such rebuff that even Senator La Follette has put on the spot pedal. He now says he intended that his proposal should be put in the shape of a constitutional amendment "just to try out public thought regarding it in a ratification referendum."

But why put such measure before the people? The constitution has been tinkered with so much now that it has lost the sacredness of former days, although it is the very keystone of government. Why volunteer "reforms" where there is nothing that needs reforming? The constitution provides that "the judicial power of the United States shall be vested in our supreme court, and in such inferior courts as the congress may from time to time ordain and establish." Most assuredly the judicial power cannot be exercised without passing upon the validity of laws enacted by congress. If the La Follette proposal should be adopted the judicial power would be taken from the courts. It is not to see where the country drift under such a condition, the point is, whatever individual's appeal, a vote for La Follette-Wheeler ticket means a vote for the three outstanding radical and socialistic principles, either one of which would wreck the country if adopted as a part of the nation's governmental policy.

THE METHOD SORDID.

The disclosures in the Borah senate investigation of campaign contributions—the so-called "slush fund" investigation—indict the republican party infinitely more seriously by the manner of solicitation than by the total amount—enormous as it is to date—that has been actually contributed.

To illustrate, it was disclosed that Joseph R. Grundy, of Pennsylvania, "chairman-treasurer" of the G. O. P. machine in that state, wrote letters with a demand predicated upon party favors, as, for instance, the expression quoted into the records, "because you have enjoyed much you must contribute liberally."

This is direct coercion, and not only inferentially places a contribution as necessary for payment for privileges "enjoyed," but employs the word "must," which is a veiled threat.

The Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, it developed, used the same system of prizing out large contributions to the G. O. P. campaign fund. It wrote "protected" manufacturers, picturing the calamity to them that would ensue if the Fordney-McCumber bill should be repealed under a democratic administration. It sought contributions—large contributions—from these "protected" interests to prevent "our tariff law from being removed from the statutes at this time." This is an indictment by debauched politics that is written into the records of the committee—and the republican party is the defendant at the bar of public opinion.

The republican machinists go upon the theory that if the party has held the taxing power over the American masses for the benefit of the protected few then the "protected few" must give up a part of their plunder if they want to keep on enjoying the tariff emoluments. The point is it is a sordid process—this granting special privilege at the expense of the people, and then having the party perpetuated in power by great sums of money contributed by these beneficiaries.

It is not the amount of money but the method of "painless denistry" by which it is being extracted that indicts the G. O. P.

IMPROVED CONDITIONS.

The employment service branch of the United States department of labor has just completed a survey of industrial conditions in the country. It indicates that the situation generally has improved and the depression in the textile and shoe manufacturing industries is being overcome. Unemployment in these lines is being considerably reduced.

Says the report: "A slow but steady improvement in various lines of manufacture, with less curtailment in operating schedules and slight gains in employment, was noted during the month of September. The downward trend in employment that has been under way for more than six months has been practically stopped and an upward movement has begun."

The situation in the south with respect to both agriculture and industry appears satisfactory, and the harvesting season is productive of much optimism among business men as to the winter trade.

Farmers everywhere—and especially in the southeastern cotton belt—are in better spirits than at any time since the post-war depression began three or four years ago. Plans for next year's operations are proceeding with a new spirit. In Georgia these plans are being made with a higher degree of morale than perhaps in a generation. In the news dispatches from Thursday's Constitution, to illustrate, is the following from Bainbridge:

"The last effort in this year's campaign to kill the boll weevil in Decatur county is being made by the destruction of cotton stalks. Farmers are plowing under all stalks, explaining that they consider it the most effective weapon they can wield against the boll weevil."

"Farmers, who use calcium arsenate this year, are preparing for complete eradication next season. Weather conditions have been ideal for plowing in the stalks."

This item may appear of little general interest or significance, but such is not the case. What is occurring in Decatur is occurring in counties all over Georgia, and it illustrates that farmers, enthusiastic over weevil control in 1924, are strengthening their efforts to farm along scientific lines. Plowing under the stalks means the last step in the eradication of the carry-over winter weevil, which does the most damage. It means more—the planting of winter cover crops and the proper preparation of soil for next year's planting. It means progress, intelligence, business, success.

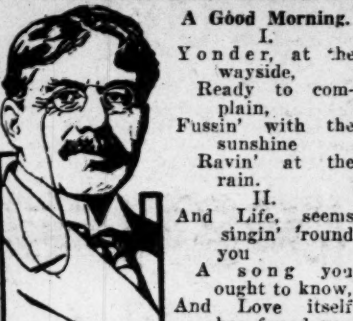

The speeders don't go so fast but they can be rounded up, and placed in nice, warm jails; but even that doesn't teach 'em a lesson.

Georgia moonshine is not responsible for all the snake tales. Much of the credit is due to the natural born liars.

Germany isn't losing any time in manufacturing war material.

Just From Georgia

BY FRANK L. WATKINS

A Good Morning.
Yonder, at the wayside,
Ready to complain,
Fussin' with the sunshine
Ravin' at the rain.

II.
And Love, seems singin' 'round
you
A song you ought to know,
And Love, itself has found you Where fadeless flowers grow.

III.
But nothing this side heaven
Is suited to your mind,
With sun and stars to guide you
You walk the life way blind!

IV.
Lower the stormy banners
And let 'em all be furled,
And cry, when night seems falling:
"Good morning to the world!"

A Sweeping Petition.
"Lord, make us thankful for what we receive," is the petition of a Bill-ville brother, "but keep us out of the hands of a receiver, even if you have to paralyze him, temporary, so's he can't take us on us."

A Song of Summits.
(Philosophy of Brother Williams.)
Don't you climb too high
'Ef you fraid you gwinter fall,
Man on de mountain top
Is lookin' mighty small.

Stay in de lowground'
"Ef you think dat when you rise
You'll lose 'y' lovin' on glory
In de halleluia skies.

All de worl' is climbin'
Ter git amazin' gran',
But all de worl' don't stay dar'
When it hits de highest place.

A Veteran of Many Wounds.
Colonel John E. Finch, of The Greensboro Herald-Journal, says in one of his reminiscence articles—
"The seventh day of October, sixty years ago, this writer was wounded the last time. This happened on the Richmond Road, seven miles from Richmond, Va. Our first wound the arm was at Gettysburg, Pa. The second one at Garnett's Farm, Va., in the leg. The last wound through the body, the ball which we call yet about the right lung. Gun shot wounds don't hurt for the first thirty minutes. After that they feel like running a hot iron through you."

The Brief Time.
The sun sinks dead beneath the darkening hills,
Wreathed with red joy like ashen bows of Grief,
Sing with the music of the birds and rills,
Strike chains from Love; to Misery give relief—
The time is brief!

Old Times and New.
"There are no hard times now, compared with times past," says the editor of Pioneer. He relates some of his boyhood experience in the old days in Kansas—
"Corn was worth $2.50 a bushel.
Nobody had so much money as I and I got a bushel of corn he had to work for it. Two of us worked a week and were paid with a sack of corn. We shined it and took it to the mill. The miller was a man Neesho, north of Emporia. We had it ground there. The miller said he was a very poor man and burdened with a large family, and kept all the meal for his toll; we had to return with only the bran. We went over to the mill with the usual conveyance those days, a yoke of oxen. It took a week to make the trip and all the bran was eaten before we got home."

Makin' the Best of It.
I.
Makin' the best of 't the world, old boy,
Though the storm-flags are un-derlaid,
Ever along
With your heart in the song,
Makin' the best of 't the world!

II.
Somewhere the dreams will all come true,
And you're in a dream's impared;
Ever along
With your soul in the song,
Makin' the best of 't the world!

Prominent Manufacturer
Says Prosperity
Depends on Protection

Editor Constitution—The Constitution of a recent date has a very interesting description of the proceedings at Calhoun to notify Honorable Gordon Lee of his nomination for the eleventh consecutive term.

John Smith, in an address of Mr.
Lee, stated that he had a little hand in inducing him to run for his second term.

I wrote an open letter to him, which was published in the Cedarstone Standard, advising him to make the race for the second term (irrespective of what other agreements had been made about this), stating that the reason the northern and western congressmen had more influence than our southern was because they were continued in service until they became valuable.

Mr. Lee, if my recollection serves me right, then made a postal canvass of 'his district, and he has been in the service continued in for many years and has made a most admirable congressman.

I take exception, however, to a remark quoted in your article, from Mr. Lee's speech:

"Cooperative Marketing.
"Cooperative marketing should be provided and encouraged by the federal government; freight rates should be lowered so that the farmer can put his products on the market at less cost; the tariff should be so adjusted as to provide a market for the farmer; the letter is a necessity, and until foreign markets are available, relief to his fullest and most desired measure will not be enjoyed by the farmers of this country."

I have followed the cooperative marketing plan in California and in the foreign countries with interest. He is correct about the cooperative market for the farmers, but I have never known it was applied to be taken under the fruit growers' movement. It has to be by the cooperation of the individual farmer, fruit growers, or whatever product the farmer has to sell.

The particular point in the paragraph quoted, however, is the tariff should be so adjusted as to provide a market for the farmer's products. It is not the tariff policy should be established. It is not the tariff policy should be established. It is not the tariff policy should be established. It is not the tariff policy should be established.

The statistics that I have on hand I believe show that our exports have been at least during the last year as for almost any period.

Our exports in the nine months of 1924 were $2,124,146,000.

It is a well-known fact that America is the greatest market for American products, and that we only sell our surplus abroad.

I have on my desk papers received from the department of commerce at Washington, showing the amount of cotton goods now being imported to this country by the various countries, even with the present tariff, and this undoubtedly has been one of the causes that has led to the transcendent depression.

President, Cedarstone Cotton and Export
Company.
Cedarstone, Ga., October 28, 1924.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Almost an International.

During a banquet in his honor, Rachmaninoff, the great musician, declared that he had been greatly pleased by the air of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and that he intended to use the melody in a series of orchestral variations. M. Rachmaninoff will only imitate Ludwig van Beethoven, if he does, for he it was who worked it into his bottle symphony to represent the French army. In France they sing a song today: "Mabrouk s'en va-t'en guerre," which has the same tune and in the melody is a rather notorious tavern song, indulged in generally when the hour of parting comes and good fellows feel the heart-breaking prospect of losing each other's company. "We gaan noch niet naar huis" (we will not go home yet) and the Scotsman says: "We won't go home till morning, till daylight do appear." All to the tune of Beethoven's great symphonic aria.

Pamphlets and Revolutions.

Eighty-five thousand young Spaniards have been drafted for the army and must go to training to support the Spanish legions in Morocco. A little success lately has changed De Rivera's mind. He will yet reconquer the lost subverses in Africa, he declares. But in Barcelona mothers wives and sweethearts laid down on the tracks of the trains which were to carry their beloved away to the African desert, and the Spanish trains were delayed for several hours.
One significant fact in connection with the Spanish situation is the growth of the "Spout" colonies of liberals, republicans and democrats in France. From Paris and Bordeaux millions of inflammatory pamphlets are finding their way into Spain.
From here, look over history. The French revolution started with pamphlets in America, the smouldering embers of revolutionary spirit flared into flame when fanned by pamphlets and the ears of Russia for a whole century dreaded the influx of revolutionary pamphlets from exiled
Russian democrats in such countries as Switzerland, England and France.

Birds of Disaster.

The birds of disaster have been seen in Europe, so says the Cologne Gazette. The name is given by the people over there to the silk-tailed winter thrush. In the Baltic states it is held as a matter of historical record that the birds flew about in thick clusters about the year 1812, just previous to Napoleon's march to Moscow. In 1870 they were seen as far as Bordeaux and we have it on the unimpeachable veracity of the Flemish peasants that they were observed on the Belgian coast in the spring of 1914. This time the birds were seen in the direction of the Scandinavian countries, says the Gazette. There are many such sources of superstition in Europe, remnants of the time when Druid priests scanned the horizon for signs and looked for tokens in the intestines of animals brought to the sacred places.
The writer's mother pointed to crossed words on the moon in June, 1914.
A few months later, her son had a rifle in his hands for the first time in his life.

Copyright, 1924.

Kerensky
Goes Lecturing.

In the Czechoslovak papers we read that Alexander Kerensky, leader of the first Russian revolution of 1917 and later prime minister, is in that country lecturing. He said in Prague that the bolshevik coup d'etat took him wholly by surprise. This is a new version of the memorable events at Petrograd in November, 1917. The bolsheviks were getting the upper hand in the revolution of Kerensky, which was led by the middle classes, into a so-called proletarian revolution, and thereby opened up the historical process, in the phraseology of the outside life. The outside life will be a strange mood now and then dominate the Bowers. There will be a day when the Bowers remains in doors. The street seems to be sulking. Not even the children come out.

It may be a sunny day but when the Bowers is in a mood nothing tempts it. Even shopkeepers are sulken when trade comes. It wants to be left alone with its sorrow.

One of the amazing things about the Bowers is the way children defy the adults. They place their feet in front of street cars, trucks and automobiles and balls with no fear whatever and their parents look on as the children's conduct is the fate that may be the fate of the street.
Long experience has made them agile while they take greater hazards there are fewer street accidents there than in other sections.

A magazine editor who had an apartment in town moved to Greenwich for the summer, taking his servants, a man and wife, who acted as butler and cook. Two weeks after ward he had to discharge the servants. He returned to his city apartment the other day for some wearing apparel and found the servants had been in the room for two months and, not only that, they had been entertaining some friends.

My obedience toward servants is greater than theirs toward employers. I always want to shake hands with a butler and if I had found one I would have been very glad.
I think I would have invited them to stay awhile longer.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Today's Talk

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE WORN OUT MACHINE.

I noticed in my newspaper this morning a notice of a talk by a man in Chicago who said he fine that he went home and collapsed a jig, whereupon he dropped dead.

The other item told of the collapse of an aeroplane at Dayton, Ohio. The experts say that the machine was too old, that it was all worn out and should have been discarded two years before the accident. Negligence cost a human life.

I recently visited a sanitarium.
Over two thousand people were there
"to be repaired."

Some people have the feeling that things "run on forever" without care or attention. They wake up in bed.

Every movement in life means wear and tear somewhere. But God put intelligence in the world to counteract this condition and thereby prolong usefulness to its allotted time.

I talked with a man the other day who is in his nineteenth year. He didn't seem much older and surely not less happy than when I saw him ten years ago. He was still running his machine gracefully.

A little oil in the bearings of your body and mental machinery in the shape of kindness, forbearance, love, generosity, happy concord, and thoughtfulness, will run your machine over the roughest roads of life.

The stenographer who gets to her work just a few minutes before she is required and takes time to oil her typewriter, has a much happier day than the one who does not—and she soon rises to something more than a stenographer.

I have in mind two young men who rose to be secretaries to the president of the United States through this procedure.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

The Radio Has Multiplied the Political Speaker's Audience by the Thousands

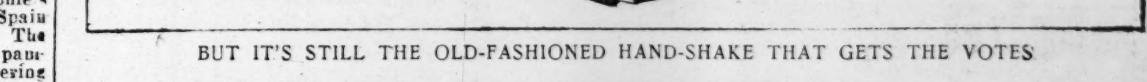

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

FRIENDS AND CITIZENS OF THIS GREAT REPUBLIC—SCRATCH—
—WE ARE NOW IN OUR 148
YEAR OF GLORIOUS AC——THINK QUESTION OF
—TODAY IS SHALL WE GO ON OR —SHALL WE—

BUT IT'S STILL THE OLD-FASHIONED HAND-SHAKE THAT GETS THE VOTES

OH EZRA, YOU'VE YOUR WIFE
COME HERE A MINUTE THE HON.
WILLIAM WALPOLE IS VERY ANXIOUS TO MEET YOU

POST OFFICE

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

THE IMITATION OF HEALTH.
The desire for health is universal and almost as strong as our instincts.
Every one not actually demented wishes to feel and look perfectly well.

The intensity of this wish, though perhaps not so compulsive as the drive of the instincts, nevertheless leads the thoughtless or unwary into many indiscretions. The ways of health are beset with a dizzy succession of signposts, most of them erected and maintained by those who profit by leading pilgrims astray.

The habit of using narcotics or stimulants, drug, alcohol or tobacco, grows out of the wish to feel well.
Whatever be the circumstances, or the addict's own explanation, the formation of the habit, back of it all there is the desire to enjoy perfect health. The individual is conscious of a serious deficiency in his health, perhaps has an inferiority complex by reason thereof, a secret or unacknowledged sense of his own inferiority to the normal standard, and believing he cannot attain great good health he resorts to the drug which enables him to forget his inferiority.

One who has perfect health can scarcely crave drug stimuli. He feels
"well," "happy," "content," "at ease,"
"at ease," and there is nothing more for him to desire in the way of sensations. Just being alive is a joy in itself. He needs no fillip of alcohol to enliven, cheer or mellow him. His sociability is not an artificial thing, conjured up by stimulants. He is a natural, understandable, and his life is a joy in itself.

None of these artificial standards of health, however, is required to bring him up to normal, for normally is his ordinary state.

Individual athletic rivalry in the amateur class is a succulent standard of unumbrality and immortality. The ambitious cultivation of physical training, and the greater interest in health and right living which this training arouses in the youth, builds character. Even in the lower order, professional sport, many a champion manages to develop a certain quality of character despite the fifth the men-cer, game is steeped in.

Some 15-year-old boys canvassing for support for a football team were not daunted when I told them it would be time enough to go in for football when they were old enough to enter college. Fewer yet, we saw, were made a start at it sometime, "one of them argued, and when I thought of all the false signs along the road, believing to boys about the age, withdrew my objection and made several friends at one throw.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Chapped Lips.
Please tell me how to cure chapped lips. They were chapped all summer and nothing seems to heal them.

(Answer)—If it is ordinary chap-ping, apply a lotion of equal parts of distilled water, glycerin and compound tincture of benzoin two or three times daily. If it is inflammation due to sunburn, keep the lips covered with zinc oxide ointment for several days, to exclude the light.

Nostrils.
Is it dangerous to use nose shapers?
Do they really do the work of characterizing the nose as advertised?—(Miss
S. J.)

(Answer)—There is little if any danger in using such contrivances. But of course the size or shape of the nose cannot be changed except by surgery.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Any reader may obtain a personal reply to any answerable question of fact or information by writing to Washington Bureau, Atlanta Constitution, 1322 New York Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. Enclose a cent in stamps. Legal, medical and marital advice cannot be given, nor can extended research be undertaken. Unsigned letters can not be answered. All letters are confidential.

Which is the largest ship, the Majestic or the Leviathan?—SCRATCH—
When these two vessels were launched by the Germans, the gross tonnage of the Majestic was officially stated to be 56,551 and that of the Leviathan 54,282 tons. When the Leviathan was recommissioned, more space than the original design called for was closed in with the result that 5,674 tons were added to her gross tonnage. The following measurements are now given out, respectively, by the shipping board of the White Star Line: Leviathan, gross tonnage, 59,956; length, over all, 950.7 feet; breadth, 100.3; Majestic, gross tonnage, 62,551; length, over all, 930 feet; breadth, 100 feet.

I served for 53 days in the army during the world war? Am I entitled to the bonus?

No, because no bonus is paid for the first sixty days of service, as each man received $60.00 bonus on discharge.

Are glass and wood non-conductors of electricity?

Glass and wood are non-conductors for all practical purposes, although no substance is an absolute nonconductor of electricity. The resistance of a gentleman precede the lady or vice versa?

In ascending stairs, the lady precedes the gentleman if the stairway is so narrow that he cannot assist her; in descending she should always precede him if they cannot descend together.

What is the highest speed that gasoline engines can run?

Gasoline engines have been run at speeds higher than 6,000 revolutions per minute. No information is available as to the maximum speed ever attained. The engines referred to above were used in racing cars, and considerably lower speeds. Very few are used at speeds higher than 2,200 revolutions per minute.

DRUID HILLS PASTOR NEW ADVOCATE EDITOR

Rev. A. M. Pierce, pastor of Druid Hills Methodist church, was elected editor of the Wesleyan Christian Advocate, official organ of the Georgia Methodist, at the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the paper Tuesday morning. L. J. Ballard was elected associate editor and business manager.

The board is composed of four clerical members and two lay members from each of the two Georgia conferences. W. T. Hunnicutt, of Atlanta, is chairman, and John F. Yarbrough, of Griffin, is secretary.

The report made by the business manager indicated that the paper is in excellent financial condition, it was said.

Falls Through Window:

Frank B. Ledford, of 101 Griffin street, was severely cut about the face Tuesday morning when he fell through a plate glass window at a bootblack stand at 42 Decatur street. At the time he was en route to Grady hospital, where he has been receiving treatment for a recent illness, and became so weak when he sat down for a shoeshine that he fell against the window, it is stated.

Merchants

YOUR railroad fare will be paid when you buy an adequate bill in the Atlanta Market. Particulars on request.

For quicker deliveries buy from members of the

ATLANTA MERCHANTS AND MANUFACTURERS ASS'N
505-C Chamber of Commerce Bldg.
ATLANTA

HOOD Tile ARE GOOD Tile

Have Good Hair
And Clean Scalp
Cuticura
Soap and Ointment
Work Wonders
Try Our New Shaving Stick.

Restores Health, Energy and Rosy Cheeks
Grove's Tasteless
Chill Tonic
60c.

out of sorts?

Quite often that half sick, half well feeling is due to a reaction of the system to bacteria in the intestinal tract. Pluto Water will safely and effectively clean out the intestines. It acts in 30 minutes to two hours after taking and never grips. Prescribed by physicians, sold by druggists and bottled at French Lick Springs, Indiana.

When Nature Won't Pluto Will

PLUTO WATER
America's Physic

MEN AND WOMEN

If you are sick of being sick, tired of taking patent medicines, tired of experimenting, do not put the matter off another day. Consult me at once and receive my opinion of your case.

Practice limited to Nervous, Skin and all chronic diseases of men and women. Hours, 9 to 6. Sundays, 10 to 12.

DR. J. L. ROBAK, Specialist
293 Marietta St., Atlanta, Ga.

Gifts for Your Hostess

—in appreciation of her hospitality

SOCIAL CUSTOM has made the giving of hostess' gifts a mark of decided good breeding. Solid Silver provides an always appreciated gift as well as lasting evidence of the good taste of the giver.

We have grouped together a number of well selected "Hostess Gifts," which we will take pleasure in showing you.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.

For Thirty-Seven Years
Gold and Silversmiths

Fulton Lime & Cement Firm Celebrates 10th Anniversary

Principal figures of the opening night of the tenth anniversary celebration of the Fulton Lime & Cement company, when its new display rooms were opened. Left to right, John L. Womack, the man who brought the Fulton Lime & Cement company to its present leading position; Mayor Walter A. Sims, one of the speakers on Monday night's program; and William Candler, who presided over the opening program.

Interesting educational talks on subjects pertaining to the "home" marked the second program Tuesday night of the Fulton Lime and Cement company in honor of its 10th anniversary and the opening of new showrooms at 521-31 Edgewood avenue.

Formal opening of the new showrooms was held Monday night, and, as was the case Tuesday night, a big crowd assembled to hear various prominent speakers and to view the attractive displays which the company has installed in its remodeled offices.

Rev. LeCraw, president of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce, delivered the welcome address Tuesday night. He was followed by Dr. John L. Leonard, of Morris Southern company, who delivered a talk on "Plumbing in the Home." W. J. Hoehe, of the Kohler company, spoke on "The Bath," and J. R. Smith, of Smith & Rankin, concluded the program.

himself to a general statement that Russia had concluded negotiations for a loan from abroad in the form of a credit to the Russian state bank of "several tens of millions of rubles."

M. Sokolnikov said that the government for the first time since the revolution had balanced its budget without resorting to the emission of paper money.

Speaking on the question of a foreign loan the finance minister said the government was not carrying on negotiations for a loan because Russia needed it vitally to balance her budget, but because she wanted it in order to reestablish her national production.

New York, October 21.—William G. McAdoo, whose name did not appear on a list of democratic campaign contributors made public yesterday did, however, donate $500 to the fund, it was disclosed today by Jess E. H. Jones, treasurer at New York headquarters.

It was indicated that Mr. McAdoo had not wished it known that he was a contributor. His permission to make the matter public was said to have been obtained upon his arrival here yesterday after an operation at Baltimore.

RETURN OF WOMAN
FRUSTRATES BOLD
ROBBERY ATTEMPT

Mrs. V. M. Bartlett, of 67 Augusta avenue, returned to her home Tuesday night just in time to stop a negro burglar, who had entered the home, from hauling off more than $400 worth of clothes and household goods which he had taken during her absence, according to police reports.

Mrs. Bartlett said that when she reached her home early Tuesday night she found a negro man standing in the doorway of a downstairs room. She ran to a neighbor's home and telephoned detectives, the negro in the meantime leaving the house through the back door. When Detectives Jackson and Ford arrived on the scene, they made a survey of the premises and located the stolen articles under the house where the negro had left them in his flight, they said.

ARREST OF NEGRESS BRINGS RECOVERY OF STOLEN SILKS

Eva Taylor, negress, until recently a maid at the dressmaking establishment of Mrs. H. A. Barnhart, 71 West Eleventh street, was arrested early Tuesday night by Detectives J. H. Davis and J. C. Davis and charged with the theft of more than $600 worth of expensive silks from her former employer, according to police reports.

Following the negro maid's resignation from the dressmaking establishment two weeks ago Mrs. Barnhart missed the silk material and notified detectives who after a two-week search, located the Taylor woman. Most of the goods were recovered.

ENGLISH TO ADVANCE CREDITS TO SOVIET

Moscow, October 21.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Soviet Russian commissar for finance, M. Sokolnikov, announced to day before the All-Russian parliament now in session in the Kremlin that despite the fall of the British labor government, English bankers with the support of certain American financial institutions had agreed to advance Soviet Russia extensive commercial credits.

He did not mention the specific amount of these advances, confining

PROMINENT ATLANTAN ILL IN ASHEVILLE, N. C.

J. B. Hockaday, prominent Atlantian, president of the Southeastern Express company, who has been in Asheville, N. C., for the past two weeks recuperating from an illness, was reported in a critical condition and physicians have little hope for his recovery, according to a telegram received here Tuesday night.

Mr. Hockaday is 65 years of age, and went with his wife to Asheville for recuperation after he had been ill at the Wesley Memorial hospital here for about two weeks. It was thought that his condition was greatly improved until Sunday night, when he took a turn for the worse, according to the dispatch, and physicians, after a consultation Tuesday afternoon, said they could offer no hope for recovery.

Mr. Hockaday is widely known in Atlanta, where he has made his home since 1921. He is a well-known express company executive, having been in this line of work for about 50 years. Coming to Atlanta for the first time in 1910, Mr. Hockaday was then vice president of the Southern Express company. In 1918 he transferred to Richmond, Va., where he served as general manager of the American Railway Express company, later being sent to Washington as general manager of the company there. In 1921 Mr. Hockaday came to Atlanta as president of the Southeastern Express company, an organization composed of the consolidated companies of the Southern Express company and the American Railway Express company.

Mr. Hockaday is a member of the Rotary club of Atlanta, the Capital City club, the Piedmont Driving club, the Druid Hills Golf club and is a vestryman at All Saints' Episcopal church. He has one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Barrett, of Jacksonville, Fla., and one son, Warren W. Hockaday, of Pasadena, Cal. Mr. Hockaday was born in Fayetteville, N. C.

Australia is now enjoying summer weather and reports say heavy rains practically assure good crops this season.

LIFE INSURANCE IS AN IMMEDIATE ESTATE

THE BUILDERS

You've heard the story of the three stone masons building a cathedral. Someone asked "What are you doing?" One was working for so much a day. Another was laying stone and mortar. But the third was "building a Temple of God."

No secular calling could be nobler than that of preventing human misery by protecting human need. This, precisely, is the whole purpose of Life Insurance.

A GROUP of men were discussing their estates. One was silent. "And what will you leave?" they asked him. To his reply, "Millions," they objected, knowing he was not wealthy.

"For many years I have written Life Insurance," he answered. "Those policies will be my estate. They will distribute millions among human beings who otherwise would be needy and distressed."

YOUR LIFE INSURANCE ADVISOR IS A BUILDER OF TEMPLES

THE ATLANTA ASSOCIATION OF LIFE INSURERS

Life Insurance Service
THE GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD

THRIFT IS A HABIT OF LITTLE BY LITTLE

© 1924

Duo-Wear CLOTHES
Two Pair gives Double Wear
PARKS-CHAMBERS-HARDWICK CO.

Duo-Wear 2-Trousers Suits

Give Double Wear, Not Only Because Of An Extra Pair Of Trousers —But Because Every Piece Of All-Wool Material That Goes Into The Making Of A Duo-Wear Suit Is Personally Selected And Tested For The Utmost In Service, Looks And Smartness.

Duo-Wear Suits

Exclusively Our Own Make
In The Smartest Designs, Shades And Materials

Finely
Made—Perfect Fitting—
$35 To $50
Loose Coat—2 Pairs Balloon Trousers

The New Loose-Fitting Top Coats

In Heather Knits—Heather Mixed
All - Wool Materials. Overplaid
And Other Smart Designs.
$25 To $40
Accordingly

White English
Broadcloth Shirts

With Collar Attached Or Without—Fine And Lustrous Weave—Cut Full—Fit Perfect $3

Paisley Cravats
Egyptian Motifs

Paisley Silks Are Known The World Over. Here We Have 'Em—Rich Oriental Designs $1.50

Vassar Springweight, Spring Needle Union Suits, $2.50

Parks-Chambers-Hardwick Co.
Peachtree Atlanta

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. PHINIZY TO BE HELD TODAY

Athens, Ga., October 31.—(Special.) Funeral services for Mrs. Anne Phinix, 91, widow of the late Ferdinand Phinix, pioneer citizen of Athens and one of the state's leading financiers, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence with Rev. E. L. Hill, Presbyterian pastor in charge.

Mrs. Phinix, before her marriage, was Miss Anne Barrett, of Augusta. She came to Athens 60 years ago, and since that time was a prominent figure socially, her home always open to friends all over the south.

Surviving her are two sons, Barrett Phinix, of Athens, and Charles H. Phinix, of Augusta; Billups Phinix, of Athens, and Mrs. A. W. Calhoun, of Atlanta, are stepchildren; Mrs.

Harriet G. Jefferies, Mrs. Victor Barrett and Mrs. Russell Cohen, of Augusta, are nieces, and Thomas W. and Judge William H. Barrett, of Augusta, are nephews.

Blaze Does Damage.
A small fire about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning slightly damaged the L. W. Rogers store located at 248 Sunset avenue. The origin of the blaze is not known.

Retail Paint and Glass Stores in Atlanta

Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday are Opening Days at Our NEW STORE
15 East Mitchell St.

Souvenirs for Everyone

To better serve the growing number of users of Cooledge Hygrade Paints and Varnishes on the South Side, we have opened our sixth retail store—at 15 East Mitchell Street. We invite you to come in, look around, and take away one of the useful souvenirs waiting for you.

Cooledge Hygrade products are manufactured right here in Atlanta. Not only are they suited to this climate better than any others—but they suit your pocketbook better.

Clip the coupon below and bring it in today. And bring the children, too—we have a supply of attractive school pencils for them.

F. J. Cooledge & Sons

Paints, Stains,
Varnishes

Plate and Window Glass, Mirrors

New Store—15 East Mitchell

Peachtree and Tenth
432 Marietta

12 N. Forsyth

Lee and Gordon
Moreland and Euclid

THIS COUPON IS GOOD FOR A CAN OF TERMA SPAT VARNISH 15 E. Mitchell St. on October 20th, 21st or 22nd.
Name
Address

Buick beauty of line, finish and appointments is commented upon each time a Buick passes and is a topic of conversation everywhere.

Buick leads in beauty!

Atlanta Branch
241-243 Peachtree Street

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

FLOWERS PUTS HAWKINS TO SLEEP IN THIRD ROUND

Mrs. Geismer, Birmingham Medalist at Roebuck

Three Atlanta Women Turn in Scores of 94; Match Play Starts Today

BY MRS. CLARENCE BRADLEY.

Birmingham, Ala., October 21.—(Special.)—The qualifying round in the Woman's Invitation Golf tournament, that is being played over the Roebuck Country club of Birmingham, was played off yesterday morning, and Mrs. H. G. Geismer, three times city champion of Birmingham, was medalist with a fine 87. Mrs. Dalton Raymond, of Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. J. E. Jago, of Birmingham, were second and third with scores of 89 and 90, respectively.

The Atlanta entries did not fare so well, not being familiar with the hard, dry, tricky course. The majority of the Atlanta entries played the course but one time. Five of the nine Atlanta entries qualified in the first flight. Those were Mrs. T. Williams, Mrs. L. H. Beck, Mrs. Clarence Bradley, Mrs. J. E. Jago, and Miss Jimmie Pattillo.

While Atlanta entries were erratic on the unfamiliar course, all who made the first flight were well under the 100 mark.

Club Record Broken.

Mrs. David Gaut in a practice round with Charlie Hall, the pro at the Birmingham Country club, Monday broke the course record for women by six strokes with a fine 76, but Mrs. Gaut fell down yesterday by being off her putting.

The Atlanta players are expected to come through fine tomorrow and the majority should win their matches. In the upper bracket of the first flight Atlanta has two entries, Mrs. T. Williams and Mrs. L. H. Beck, and three entries in the lower bracket, Mrs. J. E. Jago, Mrs. Clarence Bradley and Miss Jimmie Pattillo. In the pairings for tomorrow none of the Atlanta entries meet each other in a match in either flight.

First Flight.

Mrs. Henry Geismer, Birmingham; Mrs. R. D. Thach, Birmingham;

FRANK CHANCE LEFT $40,000

Los Angeles, Calif., October 21.—Frank Chance, baseball's "peerless leader," who died September 15, left an estate valued at $40,000.

By terms of a will admitted to probate Tuesday, the entire estate, which consists of cash, stocks, mortgages and personal property, was left to Edythe L. Chance, his widow.

ILLINOI PLAYED WITHOUT SOCKS TO KEEP UP PEP

Urbana, Ill., October 21.—When the Illinois football team trotted on the field for the game with Michigan Saturday evening, the entire squad was merely to offset the weather conditions, according to Coach Robert Zuppke.

No thought of making the perspiring, slippery legs of the Illinois harder to hold entered into the scheme, he said.

"On a warm day heavy wool socks tend to depress a team and make it sluggish, while the cold air striking the bare perspiring leg causes the perspiration to evaporate and stimulates a man," said Zuppke today in explanation of the sockless Illinois.

MORRIS BROWN PLAYS GAME IN BIRMINGHAM

The football game between Morris Brown and the U. S. 24th Infantry that was to be played at Columbus, October 25, has been called off. It was announced today. Morris Brown will go to Birmingham to play Talladega October 31. Many followers of Morris Brown will go from Atlanta to witness the contest.

MILD

Bouquet
10c straight

MILDNESS that is mellow—yet with a distinctive character that appeals to most smokers. And it's a character you'll find in no other cigar.

Many shapes and sizes—10 to 30c.

G. H. P. Cigar Co., Inc., Phila., Pa.

Distributors
Jno. B. Daniel, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.

for real enjoyment

EL PRODUCTO

GENERAL S 'Big Three' Faces Lean Year; Many Brilliant Stars Gone

MARCH ON V.P.I.

Lexington, Va., October 21.—(Special.)—On to Lynchburg! is the cry now echoing across the Washington and Lee campus in anticipation of the forthcoming battle with V. P. I. in the Hilly City Saturday.

The Generals returned yesterday from Lexington, Ky., where they triumphed over the powerful Kentucky Wildcats, completely outplaying Coach Murphy's men and demonstrating a drive and defense that warmed the heart of every White and Blue supporter. The final score was 10 to 7, but in the estimation of the thousands of spectators who saw the game, the Generals' margin of superiority was greater than the score indicates.

Especially noteworthy was the playing of Mike Palmer, brilliant half-back, who pursued and caught a Kentucky on the 10-yard line after the latter had eluded several Generals and had a 10 yard lead on the field. Palmer, who was tackled by three Wildcats, was not hurt and brought another Kentucky star to earth with a flying tackle.

Te Rauber's defensive work was of the highest caliber and his punting was excellent. "Bo" McMillan was probably the most consistent player in the backfield, while Eddie Cameron, the human pile-driver, made life miserable for the Murphy line. Harry Dawson, registered the first counter of the game when he lifted a neat dropkick over the Kentucky bars in the second quarter.

Picking individual stars in the line is almost impossible. Key Thomas did work entitling him to Walter Camp's most serious consideration for all-American end. Kentucky made but three first downs during the whole game, most of its gains coming on short passes.

Despite the fierceness of the struggle, none of the Generals were hurt. The game was very cleanly fought and few penalties were imposed on either side. Spectators were considerably impressed by the excellent sportsmanship displayed by both teams.

BOXERS ENTER ELIMINATION TOURNEY

New York, October 21.—Sir Thomas Lipton, who has challenged for the America cup more times than William Jennings Bryan will ever be able to run for the presidency, will arrive back in America Wednesday on the Leviathan, bringing in his pocket another challenge, which he hopes to make good with his next yacht, the Shamrock.

Sir Thomas will be welcomed like a visiting potentate. The New York police boat, with Police Commissioner Enright aboard, will meet him at quarantine and transfer him from the Leviathan to the "Florida," the yacht of the multimillionaire, Deputy Police Commissioner Barron G. Soller. On board Soller's yacht the New York police boat will serenade Sir Tom and he will then be landed in New York.

Nora Bayes, the actress, is also returning on the Leviathan.

BAMA ALUMNI PLAN BANQUET

Plans are being made to accommodate about 300 alumni of the University of Alabama at the banquet to be given by the Atlanta Alumni association of the university at 6 o'clock Friday evening at the roof garden of the Ansley hotel, according to Laurence Hobart, president of the association.

Many prominent alumni from cities in Georgia and Alabama, who will be in Atlanta to attend the Tech-Alabama football game on Saturday, have expressed their intention of being present at the banquet, it was stated.

President Hobart announced that there are still about 100 tickets available for the banquet and can be obtained from either him or Stuart Coleman, in the real estate department of the Atlanta Trust company.

YOUNG DODGER TO BE MARRIED

New York, October 21.—Paul Schreiber, the Brooklyn Dodgers' young right-hand recruit pitcher, will be married here Thursday to Miss Marie Wood, a Toledo girl, now residing in New York. Schreiber's home is in Jacksonville, Fla. He is 25 and Miss Wood is 23.

WALKER FIGHTS BONNET TO DRAW

Paris, October 21.—Jack Walker, American light-heavyweight, fought a 10-round draw with Bonnet, French champion in that class, here Tuesday night.

BY WALTER CAMP.

(Copyright, 1924, Special Leased Wire.)

New York, October 21.—The football season of 1924 does not promise to be a particularly brilliant one for any of the "big three" of the east—Yale, Harvard and Princeton. All have lost good men and the writer does not look for any of the three to be as strong as last season. But as each has been hit in a similar way, the relative standings have not been materially altered so far.

This is Bill Roper's last year at Princeton and he naturally will make every effort to make it a successful one. The Princeton team did a fairly good job in the Navy contest last Saturday—a big improvement over last year's performance.

Princeton has been running too much to individual, rather than team attack, and it will take some bolstering to make it a united and deceptive one.

Harvard has been threatening for two seasons to alter her attack, but has not been able to do so far. It was said that the Crimson would show Yale something new in the last game of 1923, but unfortunately a downpour of rain prevented either team from showing anything except an ability to slide about in the mud.

Planning campaign. Nobody expects Yale to be preparing to offer, but he is certainly planning a campaign in which the quarterback will be something more than a signal caller.

Yale, last year's Big Three champion, under Tad Jones loosened up her line and broadened the radius of her attack, with the result that she overwhelmed the Army and Princeton with this kind of warfare, building original methods on the old line divide, which was one of the Jones' most effective weapons when he was in command of the Yale team. So far Yale's showing this season has not been impressive but the punting has improved, and there was certainly plenty of fight displayed in the stand the Bulldog made against Dartmouth on its own two-yard line.

Dartmouth, under Jesse Hawley and Cannell, celebrated the renewal of football relations with Yale with a game from which Yale was lucky to emerge with a tie. Oberlander is the Green Mountain boy's big threat in the backfield, but Hall also proved a great backfield runner in that Yale game.

Cornell Backfield Weak. Cornell has the principal part of last year's veteran line, but Coach Doble and George Plann have not been able to develop a backfield to bring out the best of the line's defense by Williams and Rutgers.

Boston college, irritated a bit at the hand of Marquette, is going out to win against the Holy Cross and Holy Cross is making a good showing this year.

Columbia is still the question mark of the east. What Percy Houghton is able to do on Morningside Heights will be watched with great interest, especially in view of renewed rumors that Houghton may go to Harvard. His defeat by Penn was no disgrace and the Blue and White showed up very creditably.

Harvard is one of the south's most aggressive fighters. He has a left mitt that he keeps constantly in the other fellow's face and uses with power at every opportunity.

The fight should be a big drawing card when it is staged here Armistice day.

Annapolis, Md., October 21.—A crippled navy eleven will take the field against West Virginia Wesleyan here Saturday. This became known today with the announcement that Lentz, the husky left guard, and Plippen, halfback, have fractures of their legs, a first-string back, is afflicted in a like manner and he, too, will be out of the game for some time. Forshen also remains idle because of injury.

Perhaps the most serious loss to the team, as far as the big game with Virginia is concerned, is that of Clyde, a regular tackle last season. It was reported that his shoulder was badly hurt in the Princeton game Saturday, but it develops that his trouble is a bad knee injury that will keep him out of the play the balance of the year.

Chaufeur Near Death, Casket Is Splintered, As Train Hits Hearse

Bristol, Tenn., October 21.—Harrison Thompson, driver of motor hearse belonging to David Rhodes, was killed today when the machine was splintered by a Norfolk & Western passenger train at a grade crossing near here. Rhodes suffered a broken arm.

A casket being transported in the hearse was torn to pieces.

GROH MAY GO TO DODGERS IN DEAL

New York, October 21.—If the Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers can agree on trading across the bridge, Dutch Reuther, the Dodgers' southpaw, may go to the Giants and Heinie Groh, the Giants' third-baseman, may go to the Dodgers.

Reuther was the star left-hander of the Cincinnati Reds in the season of 1919 when they won the pennant. He pitched for the Dodgers for two years and got him. In one season he won 21 games for Brooklyn, but he has always found it hard to harmonize with the owners of the team.

The pitchers who can get Reuther, although he had a poor season in 1924, might return to his old form under the handling of John McGraw. On the other hand, the Giants are ready to dispose of Groh. Heinie is still one of the greatest infielders in the game but he is growing old and McGraw is growing younger.

The Giants need all the pitching they can get and the Dodgers need all the infielders they can get. The 19-year-old Chicago high school player, who starred in the world series.

The Giants and Dodgers have not been on trading terms for a long time because both clubs draw their customers from the one big city and intra-urban trades are considered unethical.

The triangle, which has developed in the light-heavyweight title situation since Paul Berlenbach became a contender, is about to show any material change today, despite rumors to the effect that the managers of Tunney and Berlenbach had agreed to a fight. Tunney's first opponent with the stipulation that Tunney be allowed to meet the winner.

This proposition was placed before the board on Friday with written articles of agreement for the approval of the commission.

The principals will appear before the board on Friday with written articles of agreement for the approval of the commission.

There is one thing the dear old grads overlook. The coach whom they criticize continually wanted to get rid of more than they did, and the players who are being criticized gave everything they had to bring about victory.

No team ever won all its games. Each coach has to see his team tied or beaten at some time. No football player ever went through a gridiron career without making mistakes.

There is probably no sport where contestants give as much as college football players. They give until it hurts and then give more. To these boys, whose lives are made of nothing worth living for. They have a love for their game that is unmatchable. They have a loyalty that is magnificent.

Minds as young as theirs are bound to err. Mistakes are unavoidable. Experience alone can help eliminate mistakes in football, and the unfortunate part of college football is that few players ever participate in more than a dozen major games during their careers. Just about the time they are becoming really polished, the last football whistle has blown and they are out of the game.

Just a few facts that the dear old grads should bear in mind during these autumn days when the dark clouds spread over the gridiron.

ONE of the heroes of the recent world's series was Fred Lindstrom. Walter Johnson was a baseball sensation before Lindstrom leapt into the limelight with the New York lineup when Heinie Groh was hurt. Lindstrom got his chance and delivered.

The performance of Lindstrom during the world's series must have caused deep concern in the heart of many a veteran of the game. Lindstrom and Jackson and Terry, all youngsters, coming up and performing gallantly in the supreme baseball test, impressing the veterans that a path must be made for youth.

AND who is Lindstrom? For years we have been reading about John J. McGraw buying pennants and winning championships. McGraw, with unlimited resources, was going out and getting anybody he wanted and keeping a corner on the National

AVERA MEETS TIM DRONEY NOV. 11

Larry Avera, about the fastest thing in the junior welterweight class in the south, will meet Tim Droney, luminary in the welter sky of the United States, in an Atlanta ring November 11, as the feature attraction on a card to be staged by the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

The battle was announced last night at the Flowers-Hawkins fight when Avera was introduced to the crowd.

Avera has been mopping up everything he has met in the south during the summer and fall and his speed and drive have put him in line for the biggest guns in the welterweight division. His most recent fight was that at Fort McPherson in which he was at first called the loser to K. O. Moore, soldier. However, a little investigation ended with the referee socked in the guardhouse for going contrary to the decision made in favor of Avera by the judges.

Droney, Philadelphia battler, has beaten Joe Anderson, who holds a decision over Pinkie Mitchell, junior welterweight titleholder, and is classed as one of the division's hardest nuts for ambitious boys to crack on their way up the ladder.

Droney has fought Lou Tiedler here a dozen times and Henry Leonard once and is about the only fighter who ever managed to take Tiedler off his underpinnings.

He is one of the south's most aggressive fighters. He has a left mitt that he keeps constantly in the other fellow's face and uses with power at every opportunity.

The fight should be a big drawing card when it is staged here Armistice day.

New York, October 21.—William J. Fallon, Cozy Dolan's lawyer, who threatens to sue Judge Landis on Dolan's behalf, may be only mumbling through his millinery after all.

When Fallon announced that he was determined to make Landis refund Dolan's share of the world's series money and pay for the damage to Cozy's reputation, it appeared that the lawyer had a fine opportunity to embarrass the major league clubowners, to abide by all decrees of Landis, and to make the well-informed men of baseball call attention to the fact that Dolan waived all his rights when he signed the regular ball players' contract as a coach for the New York Giants.

The uniform players' contract contains a clause in which the player agrees to place himself under the discipline of the leagues and to abide by all decrees of Landis. Dolan and Jimmy O'Connell, both of the New York Giants, were fired out of organized baseball and deprived of their world's series money because O'Connell tried to bribe Heinie Sand of the Phillies, to throw a ball game when he signed the regular ball players' contract as a coach for the New York Giants.

O'Connell accused Dolan of "putting him up to it" and Dolan, when asked about it by Landis, said, "I don't remember."

THREE ELEVEN UNDEFEATED

Gainesville, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—Three north Georgia elevens, members of the State High School association, retain a perfect record after four weeks of competition, and the number is not likely to be reduced this week, since none of the leaders clash.

At the top of the list are Athens High, Gainesville High and Lavonia High, each with no defeats, while the former is credited with one victory. Gainesville with three and the latter with two.

Next Friday Athens meets Winder in Athens, Lavonia plays Rostown, while the local eleven journeys down to battle the Decatur team. Lavonia should have no trouble in taking the measure of the Rostown eleven, but according to dope the Athens High bunch will have to put up a perfect brand of ball to beat Winder. Following two defeats at the start of the season the Winder team displayed a kind of work against the College Park eleven that makes them one of the most feared teams in the association.

They will probably be the most interesting game of the week among the north Georgia schools.

SHADE-WALKER BOUT SOUGHT

Newark, N. J., October 21.—Babe Cullen, National Sportsman's club promoter, today announced he has hired Leo Flynn, manager of Dave Shade, an offer of $10,000 to have Shade fight Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, in the Newark armory, November 24.

Trainman Dies in Wreck. Steubenville, Ohio, October 21.—One trainman was killed, another fatally wounded and a third thrown into the Ohio river, when a Pennsylvania freight train was wrecked east of here tonight.

Atlanta Fighter Sends Opponent to the Floor For First Time in Career

BY GEORGE CONGDON.

Tiger Flowers planted a stick of left-handed dynamite just below Cleve Hawkins' heart last night when two minutes of the first round of their scheduled ten-round battle had passed and when it exploded the fight blew up. The bout carried along until the middle of the third round with eight knockdowns before the Toledo negro heavyweight took the count of ten, but only because Hawkins covered up fairly well in a mechanical way between the knockdowns.

The one bright spot of the main affair was that Flowers tore into the bulky cloud that darkened the opposite corner of the ring and wiped it off the scenery just as quickly as he could. He didn't waste time, for he revealed new power and new punch in the attack which he had used so poorly in the preliminaries.

Flowers and Hawkins were poorly matched, but, according to Walk Miller, matchmaker for the Disabled Veterans of the World War, when he went out to get a tough negro to do battle with his Georgia streak, Hawkins was the only one he could get who would listen with any interest to Flowers' boasts of his desire to engage in strife before the flood for which he deacons. Hawkins outfigured Flowers about 20 pounds, but Tiger's offer to meet anything barring wildcats stood.

Fought Robinson. Hawkins has fought five 12-rounders with George Robinson and hasn't been kayoed; he fought Sam Langford, in fact, he fought everything of any consequence except Harry Wills and last night was the first time he had ever been knocked out.

The Tiger Flowers that did put Cleve Hawkins down and out last night was no more the Tiger Flowers of his last fight before this one than pork chops are weenies. Tiger had just about ten times the speed last night that he ever showed here before. A slant that was entirely new to Atlanta fans who have watched him in all of his bouts here.

Flowers weighed 165 1/2 pounds and, for the looks of the thing, the weight of Hawkins was something like 176 1/2 pounds, but he must have weighed 185 anyway.

During the entire eight minutes of actual hostilities, Hawkins connected with Flowers' anatomy something like two times. In a clinch he beat a tattoo on Tiger's back, but the blows rolled like water off a duck's back. In the first round, when Flowers was trying to land a big right, Hawkins hit him once over the heart and once on the jaw. Flowers then began to take care of himself as well as his ambitious opponent, and Hawkins couldn't find him anymore.

How Knockdowns Happened. It was a left hook just below the heart that started Hawkins on the road to sweet dreams. He managed to stagger through the remaining minutes of the first round, but early in the second a right hook to the jaw dropped him again for a count of nine.

He was no more than up before Tiger started a pile-driver attack at Hawkins' heart that sent the big negro down to take nine more seconds' rest from those mauls. Once more Hawkins went down, this time round on a right hook to the jaw, but only took a count of six.

In the third round it was a matter of up one second and down the next for Hawkins. A right hook to the jaw sent him down for five, a sharp jabbing attack to the body cooled him for nine seconds; a left jab to the heart put him back down for eight, a left hook to the jaw took up four more seconds of the round and finally a left and a right uppercut finished him.

In the semi-windup, Battling Barnett, weighing 134 pounds, finished Trooper Clayton, 135 pounds, of Asheville, N. C., in the fifth round of the scheduled 10-rounder. Barnett should have finished the Asheville fire-eater in the third round, but an excitable young woman tossed her handkerchief into the ring and the referee stopped the fight.

While hairpins, lipstick, compact and a few other odds and ends were being gathered up, Clayton took his second wind and managed to last.

The specific charge on which Dyal was tried was that he had forcibly kept Charlie Jackson, negro, in a state of bondage on his farm.

Dyal took the stand in his own defense today.

GEORGIAN IS FREED OF PEONAGE CHARGE

Macon, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—Forrest L. Dyal, Jr., on trial in United States district court on charge of peonage since last Thursday morning, was acquitted late tonight when the jury hearing the case reached a verdict.

The "Klassy" —In Smooth Tan Calf. $8.50

For men who still cling to the high shoe because of the comfort and support it provides, we are showing many models for $5 and up.

See Our Window Display.

Buck's 27-29 WHITEHALL ST.

until the middle of the fifth. At the time the handbag lit and capsized in the ring, Clayton was down from a right hook to the jaw and had taken the count of two.

Best Saves Clayton. Barnett's attack broke up Clayton's party just before the fifth round, ended and the bell saved the victor to these hurts, but he stayed down long enough for Hanlon to take stock and see that enough damage had been inflicted for a technical kayo.

The best fight of the whole show was the third preliminary in which Tommy Jones and Larry O'Leary, a couple of 115-pound boys, battled to a draw through six rounds. Both were punching hard and boxing prettily at the final gong just about as full of energy as when they started, but it wasn't because they hadn't taken a lot of pokes before the end of the fight.

In the second preliminary Young Bob Martin won a bare decision over Young Bernier, of Fort McPherson. Bernier had the best of the duel as far as condition at the end was concerned, because he could take them better than young Bob Martin, but the referee had the greatest number of a tie.

A slamb-battle between a couple of Billy Hooper's Decatur street pugilists started the evening's entertainment.

GEORGIA STATE FAIR MECCA OF HUNDREDS

Macon, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—The Georgia State Agricultural exposition, which opened here Monday, was complete in every detail today and hundreds of thousands of Georgians were in attendance. Practically all of the judging will be completed by noon tomorrow.

No fair ever here has brought so much competition among exhibitors. Nine or ten counties, with their agricultural exhibits, appear to be on equal terms for first honors. Poultry, swine, and other stock displays this year surpass any previous fair held here, while special features include a government dairy exhibit and an army exhibit from Camp Benning in charge of regular army officers.

Hippodrome acts, the midway and fireworks are amusement features. Contests between the vocational schools of Georgia in stock and plant identification will take place tomorrow. More than a dozen teams are participating.

JUDGE RAY DIES Was Member of Superior Bench of North Carolina.

Asheville, N. C., October 21.—Judge J. B. Ray, of Burnsville, N. C., member of the superior court bench, died tonight at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, where he had been undergoing treatment, according to word received by relatives.

Judge Ray had been on the superior court bench for a number of years and one of the best-known jurists in the state. He was at one time president of the Black Mountain railroad.

GEORGIAN IS FREED OF PEONAGE CHARGE

Macon, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—Forrest L. Dyal, Jr., on trial in United States district court on charge of peonage since last Thursday morning, was acquitted late tonight when the jury hearing the case reached a verdict.

The specific charge on which Dyal was tried was that he had forcibly kept Charlie Jackson, negro, in a state of bondage on his farm.

Dyal took the stand in his own defense today.

GEORGIAN IS FREED OF PEONAGE CHARGE

Macon, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—Forrest L. Dyal, Jr., on trial in United States district court on charge of peonage since last Thursday morning, was acquitted late tonight when the jury hearing the case reached a verdict.

The specific charge on which Dyal was tried was that he had forcibly kept Charlie Jackson, negro, in a state of bondage on his farm.

Dyal took the stand in his own defense today.

GEORGIAN IS FREED OF PEONAGE CHARGE

OFFENSE SCRIMMAGE BILLED TODAY AT TECH

Alabama Uses Variety of Plays at Practice

Victory Over Jackets Little Expected by Tide; Enthusiasm Runs High

BY BOB MATHERNE.

University of Alabama, October 21. (Special.)—Alabama's squad of huskies engaged in more than two hours of practice here this afternoon, with a scrimmage of more than 40 minutes thrown in, for the Tech-Alabama game.

The Tidesmen opened up in their workout and while running signals tried every play given to them this year by Wallace Wade. Many of these have been tried very little this year but all of them will be used Saturday in an effort to gain a victory against the Tech tornado.

"Pete" Camp, 200-pound guard, ran signals with the varsity squad, with Barnes on a flank and Whittaker and Barnes in the backfield. Compton, who has started at guard in all previous games, was running with the second team. No other changes were noticed and it is believed that the team who ran signals this afternoon with Captain Hubert will start against Tech Saturday.

Hold Pep Meetings.
Much enthusiasm has been created over the Tech game and pep meetings are being held every night to show the Tidesmen how much the student body wants the scarp of the Tornado. Coach Wade and Captain Hubert spoke at the pep meeting tonight.

Scrimmage for More Than an Hour.
Scrimmage for more than an hour is planned for Wednesday afternoon, with a light workout Thursday afternoon before the departure that night of the Crimson Tide for Atlanta.

Alabama Little Expected to Beat Tech.
Alabama little expects to beat Tech, as much as her desire is, but feels certain that the Tornado will not be able to smother her under an avalanche of touchdowns.

Steam-Rolling.
Simple steam-rolling gave the Tidesmen their 14-0 victory against Sewanee in Birmingham Saturday. The Tidesmen showed streaks of greatness at times, once when Dave Rosenfeld ran 55 yards through the Sewanee eleven for a touchdown. Sports writers in the press box acclaimed it the prettiest bit of interference seen at Rickwood park in many years, as Crimsons toppled over Tigers to aid the fleet-footed Rosenfeld to scamper the 55 yards.

Sewanee threatened several times but the heavy Crimsons simply failed to be driven back for very long at any one time.

Dope will be hard to evade this coming Saturday. The one hope for the Crimsons to wallopp the Yellow Jackets is for them to get together as a machine and not as individual players. Hard work this week will put them on edge for the Tech game, as the players, coaches and student body alike realize that a defeat of Tech will carry the Tidesmen on to an undefeated season.

Don't get the idea that Alabama has a weak team. No team can be called weak that has such backs as Gillis, Rosenfeld, Brown, Barnes, Whittaker and Hubert. Nor such heavy linemen as Buckler, Propst, Camp, Jones, Compton and Langhorne. And reserve strength is pretty strong.

No Consecutive Drive.
But, to be frank, the Crimsons have not yet this season in their four victories, shown any sort of consecutive machine-like ability. Several times they have appeared to be a well-oiled steam-roller, with the little Rosenfeld and the heavy Hubert being in the rear to gain yardage. But never for any great time have they been able to gain and gain when hard opposition was reached.

The Crimson student body will be on hand for the Saturday game about 700 strong. No excuses will be given for classes cut, but that makes little difference insofar as a Tech-Alabama game is concerned. They have been saving cuts for this one game and intend being in the stand when their eleven starts.

Olympic Shooters Competing in Powwow at Gun Club

Photos by Mathewson & Price, Staff Photographers.

In the large picture above are four Olympic trapshooters who have represented the United States abroad and who are competing at the Atlanta Gun club for the trophies in the first annual Indian powwow. They are, left to right: Forrest McNeir, of Houston, Texas, Olympic trapshooter in 1920; Mark Arie, Champaign, Ill., world's individual champion and Olympic star in 1920; P. R. Earle, Starr, S. C., world's best amateur shot and 1924 Olympic trapshooter, and John Noel, Nashville, Tenn., 1924 Olympic trapshooter. In the picture at the right is Mrs. Walter P. Andrews, Georgia state woman's champion, and below is Mrs. J. C. Wright, Atlanta, former state woman's champion.

PRIVATE WORK IS PROGRAM AT AUBURN

BY EMMETT SIZEMORE.

Auburn, Ala., October 21.—(Special.)—The Auburn Tigers emerged from Tuesday's practice showing signs of hard scrimmaging against the scrub aggregation, whom they had been scrapping for a rather long session. Considerable attention is being given this week to defensive work against L. S. U. formations.

Ed Sherling's scrubs had the Donahue offensive layout down to perfect and the varsity eleven showed some difficulty in solving the cratty Irishman's formations.

Secret practice was ordered by Coach Pitts starting Monday afternoon. Secret sessions will in all probability be in effect for the remainder of the week.

Monday's session consisted of formation drill with a search being made for injuries resulting from the Howard game last Saturday. Hagood, fullback, sustained a sprained ankle that will probably keep him out of Saturday's encounter in Birmingham. Hagood has been in the lineup quite a lot this season and his absence will be felt in the coming conflict.

Sheridan Also Out.
Sheridan is another member of the squad out of uniform from injuries sustained in practice last week. The remainder of the squad seemed to be in excellent condition in the initial scrimmaging.

Announcement was made today that a special train leaving the Auburn campus at 6:45 o'clock Saturday morning will carry the entire student body from Auburn to the Rickwood battlefield. The student assemblage will be headed by the famous Tiger band and immediately following the arrival of the war eagle troops at the Magic City a huge parade will be staged through Birmingham's main thoroughfares. The football special is scheduled to arrive in Birmingham at 11 a. m.

MOOREHOUSE MEETS TUSKEGEE TEAM

Tuskegee, Ala., October 21.—(Special.)—Coach Abbott is driving the Tuskegee institute Tigers at full speed preparing for the week-end tilt with the powerful Moorehouse college eleven, of Atlanta, which will be staged here on Washington field Saturday, October 25.

The Tigers have been scrimmaging against Moorehouse formations for the past two days. The delayed backs and the triple pass proved ineffective against the defense of the varsity squad, but for a time the flat pass to the flanks and the guard shift play of the Georgians gave the Tigers much trouble.

The practice is being held behind closed gates and consists largely of long signal drills, dummy scrimmages and hard scrimmages between the first and second teams, in which the latter is using the most dangerous Moorehouse plays and the former is using the new plays which will be flashed on Moorehouse Saturday.

Non-Stop Train
Atlanta to Macon
2 Hours, 10 Minutes
Lv. Atlanta 12 Noon. Ar. Macon 2:10 P. M.
Southern Railway

Miller and Duncan Lead In Powwow at Gun Club

BY ROY WHITE.

Phil Miller, of Dallas, Texas, led the trapshooters in Tuesday's events of the first annual powwow of the Southern Indians' tournament now in progress on the Atlanta Gun Club courts. Miller had a score of 197 out of a possible 200 in the singles and was leader in the 25 pairs of the two days 392 out of a possible 400.

Miller was closely followed by Earle with a 195. Mark Arie, of Champaign, Ill., who led the amateurs Monday, was third yesterday with a 193 score, and dropped to fourth place in the standing for the two days' shooting.

Boyd Duncan, of Lucy, Tenn., who led the professionals Monday, was again leader Tuesday with a record of 197 out of a possible 200, and leads the pros for two days with 396 out of a possible 400. Walter Huff, of Atlanta, was second among the professionals with a 189 score, while Arthur Cusack, of Tampa, Fla., was third with 187 out of the 200.

In the 15 pairs of doubles Miller led the amateurs with Arie a close second, with 28 out of 30. Harold McKenzie, Dr. H. N. Alford and J. R. Cothran, all of Atlanta, and J. H. Noel, of Nashville, Tenn., were tied for third place with 27 each out of the 15 pairs.

Duncan Has Inside Track.
Duncan seems to have the inside track on the shooting of the professionals, for he was high singles scorer both Monday and Tuesday and now he comes back in the lead in the 15 pairs of doubles with a 27 out of the 30.

The amateurs have a better record for the two days than the professionals. The professionals led Monday but the amateurs made a comeback Tuesday and forged into the lead in total scores.

The Atlanta contingent of trapshooters made a better record Tuesday than on opening day, Monday. No less than three of the local entries landed in a tie for third place in the

GEORGIA MEN LEAVING HOSPITAL

Athens, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—Georgia's Bulldogs scrimmaged Tuesday afternoon, in preparation for the game with the Vanderbilt "Commodores" in Nashville next Saturday.

The same program will prevail on Sanford again Wednesday afternoon.

The Bulldogs went through the afternoon in a scrimmage against the freshmen, who used Vandy plays. No injuries resulted from the scrimmage and the squad is in very good condition.

Platings look very nice at present for the Red and Black. Ike Joselove and "Roose" Day will probably be ready for Saturday's game, although the latter's chances of playing are not as Final Events Today.

The final events of the three-day shoot will be held today with the preliminary handicap, this morning at 9 o'clock and the Great Indian handicap in the afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock.

The winner of the preliminary handicap will receive more than $300 in cash prizes and trophies, while the winner of the Great Indian handicap will receive more than $500 in cash prizes and trophies for his marksmanship.

The preliminary shoot will consist of 100 single targets, 16 to 25-yard rise, with the handicap in the afternoon consisting of 100 single targets, 16 to 25-yard rise, and 20 pairs of doubles.

ANNOUNCE DAY SPRING RACES

Cleveland, Ohio, October 21.—Officers of the Ohio State Jockey club and the Brooklyn Jockey club today announced dates for the spring racing season, with the first race meeting at 1925. The Maple Heights meeting is from May 9 to May 30, inclusive, and the Brooklyn meeting from June 6 to June 20, inclusive.

Coach Alexander To Train Men for Speed; Gardner To Be Out of Ala. Game

Coach Alexander will begin pinning the big offensive gun of the Golden Tornado of 1924 this afternoon on Tech flats when he will send the varsity into a strictly offensive scrimmage against second varsity, third varsity, freshmen and anything else that looks as though it might furnish satisfactory resistance to the first squad.

The scrimmage this afternoon will be the first for the varsity since that day last week when the Jackets swarmed over the Tornado and penetrated its fur and sent it howling to its native haunts thoroughly and painfully stung. Yesterday was another day of light work for the outfit.

George Gardner, captain and hard-luck champion of the Tech eleven, was not out for practice yesterday and (read it and weep) will probably occupy the side lines during the Alabama game this coming Saturday.

Tharpe Worthy of Place.
Gus Merkle, fleet end, hurt in Saturday's game against Penn State, is still in the hospital and is on the shelf for two or three weeks at least, reports at Tech have it.

MacK Tharpe, who has taken Gardner's place during this season, when the pilot of the Tornado was forced to retire to the sidelines, will be worthy to start affairs at tackle Saturday, for he has been one of the outstanding stars of the material at the stage of development. Offensively Tharpe seldom fails to dispose of one or more opposing men and on the defense is frequently the first Tech lineman through the opposing line for a tackle.

Johnny Marshall, who is slated to work for Merkle at end, has shown exceptionally well during the last two weeks.

In scrimmaging this afternoon Coach Alexander is planning to start a campaign that will deliver speed in great, luscious bunches. The Tornado has the weight and has learned how to use it effectively. Now the addition of lightning speed will add the finishing strokes to the work of Tech coaches.

Murray Springs Surprise.
All the varsity did yesterday afternoon was to run a few signals and take a couple of turns on the cinder path. The second varsity was used on the upper field against the freshmen squad, which was putting into practice some of the Alabama plays brought back by Tech scouts in Birmingham Saturday.

One of the surprises of yesterday afternoon was the showing made by Sam Murray, playing half in the backfield of the second varsity scrimmaging against the first-year men. The 180-pound half, who has shown fairly well through the season so far, yesterday came out of his shell and pulled some of the best off-tackle and end-run stuff that has been seen in scrimmaging. Playing with Murray in the second varsity backfield were Red Barron, quarter; Irvin, half, and Tom Angley, fullback.

DEACONS MEET LYNCHBURG

Wake Forest, N. C., October 21. (Special.)—With the hopes of southern honors gone glimmering in the drubbing administered by the Alligators, Garri's demon Deacons today settled down to hard work and with renewed zeal to keep their hold on state honors. Saturday they play Lynchburg in Danville, then Guilford follows, and then it is Trinity in Durham on Armistice day.

The opinion here is that Trinity looms as the team threatening each passing game, and that the Armistice-day contest will develop a new record for stiff games.

"They had the best team and they beat us; that is all there is to it," was the verdict of a member of the Wake Forest athletic staff who witnessed the Florida game. "Their backfield outweighed our backfield 20 pounds to the man, and it was in the superiority of the backfield that their advantage lay."

Nothing would please the Bulldogs so much as a victory over the "Commodores." In all their years of meeting the Red and Black has been steadily defeated. A defeat handed the Georgians last year still rings in Bulldogs ears and with the squad in very good condition, the locals opine that a victory is now in the air.

Chach Woodruff and the Georgia squad will probably leave Athens Friday. The number to make the trip is undecided as yet.

FOREST HILL CLUB OPENS SATURDAY

The latest addition to the number of golf clubs in Atlanta and its vicinity will be formally opened Saturday when the Forest Hill Golf club is presented by the board of governors to members. Elaborate plans have been made for the opening, which follows closely the completion of the clubhouse.

The Forest Hill club has a long and unusually well-planned course on the old Hill estate in Decatur that members have been developing and using for some time. The course now consists of only nine holes, but will be enlarged to 18 holes later.

After a day of golf, refreshments will be served at 6 o'clock Saturday evening to the members and their guests. An informal dance will follow, to continue throughout the evening. Reservations for the opening entertainment must be made by members not later than Thursday.

H. G. King is president of the new club, with J. H. Glenn as vice president; F. R. Porter, treasurer, and H. L. Coleman, secretary.

The board of governors of the club is composed of the officers and E. B. Brantley, R. Hal Dwyer, Scott Candler, Fred Scriven, H. B. Wright, E. J. Williamson and Cliff Wheatley.

APPRENTICE JOCKEY SERIOUSLY HURT

Yonkers, N. Y., October 21.—John Coleen, of Chester, Pa., apprentice jockey for J. Barton, was seriously injured at Empire City race track this afternoon. Just as the horses were leaving the barrier for the first race Benwood, carrying Coleen, stumbled, throwing the jockey and then rolling over him.

Coleen was unconscious when removed from the track and taken to a Yonkers hospital.

Strain

A quick, sure way to relieve it

Apply Sloan's gently. Don't rub. You'll get relief at once. Sloan's starts fresh, healing blood circulating swiftly through the strained muscle-fibers, easing the pain and repairing the damage. Get a bottle today. All drugists—35 cents.

Sloan's Liniment
—kills pain!

"The Rainy Day Pal"

TOWER'S FISH BRAND

Reflex Slicker

is the wet weather service uniform for the regular men who make every day count.

A. J. TOWER CO. BOSTON

TIM O'DOWD DEFEATS DUGAN

Chicago, October 21.—Tim O'Dowd, of Atlanta, last night won the newspaper decision in a 12-round bout with Jackie Dugan, of Louisville, Ky. Both are bantamweights.

Stratford Clothes

When you wear Stratford Clothes you don't have to ask your friends, "How do you like my suit?" They'll notice that it is exceptionally good looking and voluntarily tell you about it.

Stratford clothes have the style, the perfect tailoring and the quality material that command envious attention.

They are the kind of clothes you'll be complimented about.

$50 UP

L. C. ADLER

113 PEACHTREE STREET
Opposite Piedmont Hotel

Four crisp Autumn Van Heusens, made for the well dressed man.

12 Styles — 50 Cents

VAN HEUSEN
the World's Smartest COLLAR

PHILLIPS-JONES NEW YORK

20 MEN INDICTED ON GAMING CHARGE

The most intensive campaign ever waged against gamblers in this city reached a climax Tuesday when the Fulton county grand jury returned indictments against 20 men, all of whom were charged in true bills with "gaming." Six of this number were charged with operating "gambling tables."

The indictments resulted directly from a raid conducted Saturday by Solicitor General John A. Boykin on an alleged gambling den at 12-12 North Street. The raiding party, composed of operatives from the solicitor's office and city police authorities, swooped down upon the establishment and arrested 35 men.

Following the action of the grand jury Tuesday the solicitor declared that he had not completed his activities, and other raids are expected to develop.

The charge of gaming is a misdemeanor and is so set out in the indictments. Those indicted were specifically accused of "playing for stakes with cards and dice."

The following were indicted on charges of operating gambling tables in addition to charges of gaming: C. E. Curran, C. B. Dunning, John Dunn, W. H. Mills, Vick King, and James Leonard.

Those indicted for gaming were: S. W. Linebough, Charlie Daniels, M. P. Watts, Jack Roberts, C. J. Sills, J. H. Fulbright, F. C. B. Sewell, Jake Goldberg, F. R. Martin, F. G. Holmes, Claude Jackson, F. T. Tracey and C. B. Cassels.

PROBABLE DEFICIT SET AT $150,000

Continued From First Page.

Of no organizations except the national committee that were undertaking to raise any substantial sums for the democratic campaign. Mr. Gerard said there were organizations like the Young Men's Democratic clubs and women's organizations, but that the national committee had contributed to them.

Help State Committees.

Responding to inquiries as to funds raised by state committees, the national treasurer said he had no specific knowledge but assumed they were not raising any very large amounts since the national organization had been called upon by them for aid in a number of states. These contributions were placed at an aggregate of $29,700, the witness said, and the states with the amounts were listed as follows:

New York, $2,000; South Dakota, $2,500; New Mexico, $7,500; Rhode Island, $1,200; Montana, $2,000; Colorado, $5,000; Nebraska, $7,000; Kentucky, $2,500.

Mr. Gerard presented a detailed list of contributions to the democratic fund, made public yesterday in New York. Chairman Borah questioned him as to the identity of the larger of the contributions, including Thomas L. Chabourne, a New York banker, who gave $25,000; John D. Bryan, president of the Anaconda Copper company, who contributed $5,000; Francis Garvan, former alien property custodian, who donated $10,000; and a number of others. These included Bernard M. Baruch, $25,000; Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, $21,000; Frank L. Polk, former under-secretary of state, $5,000; Chauncey Shaver, $10,000; J. Gerard, $13,000; and Cleveland H. Dodge of New York $5,000.

Deficit Estimated at $150,000.

Replying to questions by Frank P. Walsh, of Kansas City, personal counsel for Senator La Follette, Mr. Gerard said he knew of no organizations of bankers or business men or others, who might be beneficiaries of a tariff law who were collecting funds for the support of the Davis-Bryan ticket.

Chairman Shaver was questioned only briefly. He estimated that the deficit at the end of the campaign might total $150,000 and said there were no plans for underwriting it.

Responding to Chairman Borah, he said he had never heard of any plans "for the purchase of any newspapers in Tennessee, for the benefit of the democratic campaign."

"I wish somebody would buy the Banner in Tennessee," interposed Senator Cawley, "and turn it over to your men. It is democratic all the time except at election time."

"In that case you would have to send more than $750,000," Chairman Borah observed with a smile.

GERMAN JUNKERS
DEMAND MONARCHY

Continued From First Page.

Jewish and French domination and from the domination of democratic capital."

The socialists replied with an election blast hitting junker chiefs as outgrown leaders.

May Force Stable Majority.

Such a candidate for the Reichstag is exposed in the nationalistic manifesto seems likely to create a parliamentary cleavage too wide for the numerous minority parties to straddle. It is even possible that the issue thus dragged out into the open may assist the German people to elect a relaytag with a stable majority definitely committed to a principle so important that the majority would not crack and disintegrate under the first opposition assault.

Nationalists pride themselves on pure Germanic descent. They despise the Jews, who are so powerful in the Reichstag. They are sensitive to the changes time has brought in Germany's prestige.

In Berlin this week will convene a great war council of nationalistic politicians. An effort will be made to induce all opponents of socialism and the Jews to send representatives to the conference. The conference will lay plans designed to return Germany to her old glory and a kaiser to the throne.

BERLIN DRAGNET FAILS OF ITS PREY.

Berlin, October 21.—Only one communist was entangled in the police dragnet which was hauled across Berlin Tuesday in an effort to jail every communist member of the reichstag. Hundreds of suspected agents of communist deputies were entered simultaneously in all parts of Berlin, but only a luckless red named Hoelstein was at home.

The order for arrest was directed against all but seven communist deputies. The seven have been in jail for some time.

Long Solution
LOOMS AS HOPELESS

Continued From First Page.

understand Chinese to serve and that all were afraid to appear.

"Why don't you ask the Chinese consul for an interpreter?" the court asked.

"I have," said the clerk. "He was afraid to send out, too."

No murders were reported in the tong war here Monday, although attempts to bring peace between the On Leong tong and the Hip Sing tong have continued unsuccessful.

Another Chinese was arrested Monday charged with carrying concealed weapons. He told the police he was going to "visit a friend."

FIVE KILLED IN SONORA OUTBREAK.

Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, October 21.—Five persons, including a Mexican policeman, were killed at Santa Ana, Sonora, as the result of a tong war there, according to reports received here today.

The policeman, it was reported, was slain while attempting to quell the disorders.

The Chinese situation in Sonora was described as grave and it indicated that the government may make a sweeping roundup and deportation of unnaturalized Chinese.

Mexican police have arrested virtually all the Chinese in Empalme and Guaymas, it was said.

POINTS TO BRYAN
AS COOLIDGE Foe

Continued From First Page.

of the democratic party, to whom Mr. Davis was not acceptable, and to nullify as much as possible the effect of the bitter attacks made against him in the democratic convention by William Jennings Bryan. This statement has been denied.

"Mr. Bryan's position on national issues is unknown because he has not been elected."

No Aspirin Relieves
Like BROMO-ASPIRIN

The Kind That Does Not Depress the Heart Action But Gives Immediate Relief.

A box of Bromo-Aspirin tablets is insurance against colds, headache, backache, fever, grippe or neuralgia. Bromo-Aspirin gives immediate relief from such ailments. There is no aspirin like Taylor's Bromo-Aspirin. It is the kind that does not depress the heart. Contains no quinine but has all the good qualities of aspirin.

For sale at all drug stores in boxes containing fifteen tablets for twenty-five cents. Each tablet is a pain killer and a useful aid in the protection and maintenance of your health.—(adv.)

Tech Students Hear Campaign Issues Explained by Spokesmen of Parties

Photographs by Mathewson & Price, Staff Photographers.

Above: James L. Sibley, campaign manager for the progressive party in Georgia, as he voiced a plea for La Follette support before Tech students gathered on Grant field Tuesday afternoon. Below, left to right: Clint W. Hager, who addressed the students in behalf of the Coolidge campaign; Charles D. McKinney, who explained the issues from the point of view of John W. Davis, democratic nominee; and Mr. Sibley. Following these addresses, Tech students today will cast a straw ballot on the presidential race, which will be combined with a national student poll gathered by the college Y. M. C. A. organization.

Atlanta Is Named Director Of American Meat Packers

Chicago, October 21.—Experience has proved to the meat-packing industry the wisdom of taking the public into its confidence. G. F. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co., today informed the Institute of American Meat Packers in presenting his report as chairman of the committee on public relations.

The report pointed out that until recent years the packing industry had not attached as much importance to its relations with the public as it does today, owing to the fact that the industry was growing rapidly and attention was directed to more pressing problems.

"Now, however, the industry keeps the public better informed and has given out information of the most intimate nature concerning sales, profits and operating costs," the report continued. "As a result, we have the price of livestock nor the consumer pays much attention to the demagogue's cry that the price of meat to the consumer could be lowered and, at the same time, the price of livestock increased by removing the packer or hedging him in with additional legislative restrictions."

English Outlook Grave.

"We have kept the public informed of changes in the price of meat whether up or down. When certain cuts of meat have been on the market in relative abundance and selling at unusually low levels, we have called attention to them, with direct benefit to the consumer and all others concerned."

Charles C. Pearson, of Liverpool, England, member of the war-time allied purchasing commission, told members of the institute that the trade outlook in England "for the coming winter is grave."

He cited statistics to show that when he left home a month ago "there were unofficially 1,200,000 unemployed, and unfortunately, those figures are mounting weekly as the winter advances."

"Financially England has made great sacrifices," he said, "and since the war has become a comparatively poor nation, but only temporarily, and I believe our recuperative powers will again make good."

UPHOLD CONVICTION OF WM. H. ANDERSON

Albany, N. Y., October 21.—The court of appeals today unanimously upheld the conviction last spring of William H. Anderson, former superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of New York state, for third degree burglary. Anderson now is serving a term of from one to two years in Sing Sing prison.

SHODDY FLAG CHARGE IS DENIED BY HINES

Washington, October 21.—Charges made recently before the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs that the veterans' bureau had draped the coffins of soldiers with cheap and shoddy flags and had contracted for 300,000 which were found to be minus a row of eight stars were answered by Director Hines today with an assertion that all flags purchased since August, 1922, only 2,400 in number, were examined and met with federal requirements.

"Samples must be submitted for inspection before an order is placed for flags," he said.

Regarding the specific allegation that an imperfect flag was used to drape the coffin of Harry Bench, who died in a Philadelphia veterans' hospital last December, the director said the incident is being investigated.

DRINK OR DRUG

POISONING requires ELIMINATION. The New Treatment acts as an ANTIDOTE for these poisons, creates a lasting for drug or drugs and overcomes the diagnosed condition. (No Hypocism used). Dr. J. H. Conway, 10 years with the "Keeley" in charge New Institute, 229 Woodward Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.—adv.

GRiffin GIVEN TERM
FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Douglas, Ga., October 21.—Wiley Griffin, charged with killing a negro by the name of Shirley, was convicted of manslaughter here today and was sentenced to from five to seven years in the penitentiary.

Judge Reese, presiding for Judge Sumner, passed an order today refusing to change the venue from Coffee county of the negro and Matt Bennett, said his son Tink Bennett, charged with assault with intent to murder by shooting Leon and Henry Vickers, prominent turpentine operators on September 9. The negroes will be brought from Savannah jail and tried this week unless counsel take the case to the supreme court.

ASSAULT CHARGE FRAMEUP, CLAIM

Canton, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—A political frame-up is claimed by Lee Spear, 25, nominee for sheriff of Cherokee county, who is under indictment charging assault and battery against a 13-year-old school girl. A furor has been created in the county by the action against Spear, and D. T. Smith, who was deputy on the ticket with him, has been put forward as an independent candidate. Spear is free tonight on $500 bond. He is married and has one child.

The charges were made following an automobile ride Saturday night when Spear is said to have offered the girl a ride home from a motion picture show. The child got into the car, and when she reached her home, about half a mile from the place where she accepted the ride, she is said to have told her parents of the alleged attempt at assault. There were no indications of violence, it is reported.

Spear resigned as policeman here at council meeting last night in order to devote his time to the race for sheriff. He said that he had opposition, and that he wished to be free to make a complete tour of the county before November 4. He waived commitment trial and posted bond, officers said.

Spear denies the charges and claims that the whole affair is an attempt on the part of his political enemies to prevent his election. His record as an officer is good, city officials said.

Both families are prominent in Cherokee county. Spear won his nomination from F. M. Blackwell by a majority of about 400 votes. His father, J. P. Spear, has been sheriff of Cherokee county at intervals for the last 25 years.

There were no witnesses to the alleged assault. Court officials tonight did not know when the case would be called.

Thomas Nominees, "Asleep on Job," Find Opposition

Thomasville, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—A lapse of memory, which affected all successful candidates for offices in the recent primary in Thomas county is blamed for the failure of candidates to file with the clerk of the superior court, within 20 days after primary, a complete list of campaign expenses. The penalty for violation of the law is that all nominations are void. As it now stands none of the successful candidates file expenses lists, and according to the state law, none of them can claim the nomination.

In view of this glitch Joiner, one of six candidates for the office of solicitor of the city court of Thomasville, has announced that he will oppose J. R. Edwards, who received the nomination in the primary in the polls in the general election in November. Joiner states that he lost the nomination by 24 votes, that he worked hard for the nomination and was the first man to enter the race.

He has the opinion of one of Thomasville's best-known lawyers that there is nothing against him making the race if he wishes. So far as is known, there will be no opposition to any of the other nominees.

Atlanta Elected Director.

J. J. Felin of Philadelphia, F. C. Merritt of Indianapolis; Myron McMillan, of St. Paul; F. S. Snyder, of Boston, and W. W. Woods, of Chicago, were elected vice presidents.

Others elected include: Treasurer, John T. Agar, Chicago; directors, Charles E. Herrick, of Chicago; E. A. Culady, of Chicago; G. J. Swift, of Chicago; W. H. White, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga.; Elmore Schroth, of Cincinnati; J. Paul Dold, of Buffalo, N. Y.; and F. Edison White, of Chicago.

W. H. White, Jr., elected director of the American Meat Packers, is a pioneer packer of Georgia and the son of a packer here some years ago from Chicago and establishing the White Provision company. He is vice president of the recently-consolidated Atlanta stock yards, and probably has done more to develop the live stock industry in Georgia and this section than any other man. His home is on Peachtree road.

He-Man Who Slew Rasputin
Named as Devotee of Rouge

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, October 21.—Prince Yousouppoff, the royal Russian who shot the czar's assassin, and thereby qualified as the one he-guy among all the boys friends of the late Czar Nicholas, seemed slightly less stalwart, at one time began to make him to be, when Joseph E. Widener, the rich Philadelphia sportsman and art collector, got through telling what he said he knew about him Monday.

Widener was called in to tell his side of the story of the sale of two pictures, paintings by Rembrandt, which the prince conveyed to him in 1921 for $520,000. The market for authentic works of such old masters as Rembrandt has gone up considerably since 1921 and the prince, if he could get these paintings back from Widener, might be able to sell them again today for twice the price that he took from Widener three years ago.

The prince says the sale was a conditional transaction; that he reserved the right to buy them back within a stated time by refunding the purchase price with interest. Widener says there was no such agreement.

He declared that Prince Yousouppoff, in addition to being a murderer and the fool of all Europe, is also by way of being a liar.

The prince had quite a bit of trouble getting Widener into court at all. When the summons in the suit was served on Widener just outside the Ritz, Widener, fingering the papers out of his pocket, among them a ten-dollar bill for his witness fee, and dropped them in the gutter.

However, the witness stand at last and when they did the prince himself must have wished they hadn't. For Widener, at once began to make serious accusations against the prince which might in time abolish Yousouppoff's occupation as a Sunday supplement story.

In order to refresh your memory of Prince Yousouppoff, relates the story, and over again that he was the only sufficient courage to undertake the homicide of Rasputin and thereby liberate the czar from the mystic thrall which had caused her to eat raw eggs with chopsticks and order whole armies of Russians into action without rifles. In this case homicide was given the tinge of patriotic service and nobody thought to call it murder until Joseph E. Widener, of Philadelphia, took the witness stand in New York Monday.

Widener called the prince a murderer and the fool of Europe, but not content with that, he went on to say that Prince Yousouppoff painted his face, the prince's face, and penciled his, likewise the prince's, eyebrows. He didn't say the prince carried a powder puff and vanity case, but the implication was there and Mr. Widener left the stand with a glare in his eyes which said: "There! Now you know the real truth about the he-guy of the Russian court."

County School Board Without Authority To Act on Contests

A county school board has no authority to hear election contests growing out of the election of a school trustee in a local school district, the Georgia supreme court ruled Tuesday.

The decision was in the case of W. V. Nash against G. G. Robinson, ordinary of Gwinnett county. The petition alleged that the ordinary had refused to hear a contest filed by Mr. Nash against M. L. Hornbuckle in the Snellville district, on the grounds that it was the duty of the school board to hear the contest.

On top of the great rectangular building of the Fiat company in Turin, Italy, is a wonderful test track, 75 feet wide and nearly three-quarters of a mile around, where every chassis is given a thorough road test before it is marked for delivery.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, cough and eye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to give you one teaspoonful. With your watch in your hand, take the

CLEMSON TRUSTEES NEAR DECISION

Clemson College, S. C., October 21. Although no announcement of its findings had been made by the Clemson college board of trustees late tonight and the session continued, indications were that a decision is not far off, if not actually made.

The senior class tonight was called into the chapel, where a brief meeting was held, attended only by these cadets, the trustees and the acting president of the institution, Professor S. B. Earle. At the conclusion of this executive session, the students began to pass, one by one, into the chamber where the trustees have held their sessions. With more than 150 cadets of the senior class present, this program required several hours.

Southern Textile Exposition TEXTILE HALL

October 20th to 25th, Inclusive
GREENVILLE, S. C.

The most extensive display of textile machinery, accessories and supplies ever held in the South. Special railway rates.

MUSIC—Afternoon and Evening
Admission, 25 Cents
Write or Telegraph Housing Committee, Textile Hall, for Rooms

Don't Throw the Boomerang of Oppressive Legislation at the Railroads

The boomerang is a dangerous weapon to use. It flies back and is likely to hit and damage the thrower.

A vast amount of legislation to "regulate" the railroads is being proposed. Most of it would not only be impracticable in operation but would actually destroy the satisfactory service the railroads are now giving to the public.

Thus, like the boomerang thrown by the untutored Australian native, this legislation would "Return to plague the inventor."

The instigators of this proposed legislation are largely selfish—they don't care if it is "boomerang stuff" to the people. However, a few honest, but unthinking, people have unconsciously been influenced to join in this attack on the railroads—without realizing that whatever hurts the railroads hurts the people as well.

Don't you be a boomeranger. Give a little honest and intelligent thought and study to the railroad situation; and you'll want to help prevent the dangerous, fly-back legislation now being proposed.

Since Jan. 1, 1922, more than one billion dollars has been saved to shippers thru reductions that the railroads have made in freight rates.

Fried Oysters
are so appetizing when properly seasoned. A delicious combination dressing is made of three parts of tomato catsup and one part of the famous

LEA & PERRINS SAUCE

THE ORIGINAL WORCESTERSHIRE

Beauty
Depends On Clean, Healthy Skin

Trusting to ordinary soaps and creams is preventing many a woman from looking her best. For they cannot always keep the skin healthy and clean.

Make this test!

If you wish to see how charming your skin can look, make this test. First, wash your face, neck and arms with ordinary soap, then go over the skin with a soft cloth that has been saturated with Crystal Bath Alcohol.

Instant Beauty that Lasts!

Notice the dust and grease that come off on the cloth! When you realize the effect of these impurities left in the skin pores by ordinary soap and water you will understand why so many women have poor complexions. You will also realize why thousands are turning to Crystal Bath. It prevents the embarrassment of unpowdered moments by keeping the skin soft, healthy and clean.

CRYSTAL BATH IS DIFFERENT

Some alcohols are dehydrated with chemicals that are positively injurious to the skin.

Prevents Enlarged Pores

Crystal Bath is different! It contains 90% grain alcohol and many other healthful ingredients, well known to science for cleansing, refreshing and beautifying the skin.

Crystal Bath does more than beautify the skin. It neutralizes the odors of perspiration. You will want to use it on your whole body at least once a day.

Crystal Bath
ALCOHOL MASSAGE
Beautifies and Refreshes the Skin

Beauty
Depends On Clean, Healthy Skin

Trusting to ordinary soaps and creams is preventing many a woman from looking her best. For they cannot always keep the skin healthy and clean.

Make this test!

If you wish to see how charming your skin can look, make this test. First, wash your face, neck and arms with ordinary soap, then go over the skin with a soft cloth that has been saturated with Crystal Bath Alcohol.

Instant Beauty that Lasts!

Notice the dust and grease that come off on the cloth! When you realize the effect of these impurities left in the skin pores by ordinary soap and water you will understand why so many women have poor complexions. You will also realize why thousands are turning to Crystal Bath. It prevents the embarrassment of unpowdered moments by keeping the skin soft, healthy and clean.

CRYSTAL BATH IS DIFFERENT

Some alcohols are dehydrated with chemicals that are positively injurious to the skin.

Prevents Enlarged Pores

Crystal Bath is different! It contains 90% grain alcohol and many other healthful ingredients, well known to science for cleansing, refreshing and beautifying the skin.

Crystal Bath does more than beautify the skin. It neutralizes the odors of perspiration. You will want to use it on your whole body at least once a day.

Crystal Bath
ALCOHOL MASSAGE
Beautifies and Refreshes the Skin

Beauty
Depends On Clean, Healthy Skin

Trusting to ordinary soaps and creams is preventing many a woman from looking her best. For they cannot always keep the skin healthy and clean.

Make this test!

If you wish to see how charming your skin can look, make this test. First, wash your face, neck and arms with ordinary soap, then go over the skin with a soft cloth that has been saturated with Crystal Bath Alcohol.

Instant Beauty that Lasts!

Notice the dust and grease that come off on the cloth! When you realize the effect of these impurities left in the skin pores by ordinary soap and water you will understand why so many women have poor complexions. You will also realize why thousands are turning to Crystal Bath. It prevents the embarrassment of unpowdered moments by keeping the skin soft, healthy and clean.

CRYSTAL BATH IS DIFFERENT

Some alcohols are dehydrated with chemicals that are positively injurious to the skin.

Prevents Enlarged Pores

Crystal Bath is different! It contains 90% grain alcohol and many other healthful ingredients, well known to science for cleansing, refreshing and beautifying the skin.

Crystal Bath does more than beautify the skin. It neutralizes the odors of perspiration. You will want to use it on your whole body at least once a day.

Crystal Bath
ALCOHOL MASSAGE
Beautifies and Refreshes the Skin

Beauty
Depends On Clean, Healthy Skin

Trusting to ordinary soaps and creams is preventing many a woman from looking her best. For they cannot always keep the skin healthy and clean.

Make this test!

If you wish to see how charming your skin can look, make this test. First, wash your face, neck and arms with ordinary soap, then go over the skin with a soft cloth that has been saturated with Crystal Bath Alcohol.

Instant Beauty that Lasts!

Notice the dust and grease that come off on the cloth! When you realize the effect of these impurities left in the skin pores by ordinary soap and water you will understand why so many women have poor complexions. You will also realize why thousands are turning to Crystal Bath. It prevents the embarrassment of unpowdered moments by keeping the skin soft, healthy and clean.

CRYSTAL BATH IS DIFFERENT

Some alcohols are dehydrated with chemicals that are positively injurious to the skin.

Prevents Enlarged Pores

Crystal Bath is different! It contains 90% grain alcohol and many other healthful ingredients, well known to science for cleansing, refreshing and beautifying the skin.

Crystal Bath does more than beautify the skin. It neutralizes the odors of perspiration. You will want to use it on your whole body at least once a day.

Crystal Bath
ALCOHOL MASSAGE
Beautifies and Refreshes the Skin

Beauty
Depends On Clean, Healthy Skin

Trusting to ordinary soaps and creams is preventing many a woman from looking her best. For they cannot always keep the skin healthy and clean.

Make this test!

If you wish to see how charming your skin can look, make this test. First, wash your face, neck and arms with ordinary soap, then go over the skin with a soft cloth that has been saturated with Crystal Bath Alcohol.

Instant Beauty that Lasts!

Notice the dust and grease that come off on the cloth! When you realize the effect of these impurities left in the skin pores by ordinary soap and water you will understand why so many women have poor complexions. You will also realize why thousands are turning to Crystal Bath. It prevents the embarrassment of unpowdered moments by keeping the skin soft, healthy and clean.

CRYSTAL BATH IS DIFFERENT

Some alcohols are dehydrated with chemicals that are positively injurious to the skin.

Prevents Enlarged Pores

Crystal Bath is different! It contains 90% grain alcohol and many other healthful ingredients, well known to science for cleansing, refreshing and beautifying the skin.

Crystal Bath does more than beautify the skin. It neutralizes the odors of perspiration. You will want to use it on your whole body at least once a day.

Crystal Bath
ALCOHOL MASSAGE
Beautifies and Refreshes the Skin

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harrington have returned from a camp near Franklin, N. C., where they spent the week-end.

John L. Hopkins is in Texas on a business trip.

Mrs. George M. and Miss Helen Muse are at High Hampton, N. C.

Miss Bonnie Delgar has returned home from a two weeks' visit in Mason.

Mrs. Marie Delgar is ill at her home on North Boulevard.

Samuel Slicer will leave Sunday for Baltimore where he will spend a week at the Green Spring Valley golf club.

Mrs. W. M. Koch has returned to her home in Cleveland, Ohio, after a two months' visit to friends and relatives in Atlanta. She was formerly Miss Irene Craft.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Alvin Dempsey announce the birth of a son on October 10, who has been given the name of Charles Alvin, for his father, maternal and maternal grandfathers. Mrs. Dempsey was formerly Miss Thelma Sullivan.

Mrs. Morris Mack and Misses Rosalyn and Helen Mack are visiting in Norfolk, Va., at the Monticello Hotel. They will return to Atlanta the latter part of October.

Mrs. Martha Goode Anderson will pass through Atlanta Saturday morning from Charleston, S. C., en route to St. Louis, Mo., where she will visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Corley Smith announce the birth of a daughter on October 17, who has been given the name of Marjorie.

Mr. A. E. Turner, of Philadelphia, is visiting her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Turner, Jr., on East Lake drive.

R. B. Cousins, president of the Southeastern Texas Normal school, at Kingsville, Texas, is visiting relatives in Atlanta.

Rev. Karl L. Reiser, companion of the Atlanta biennial convention to attend the biennial convention at Kingsville, Texas, is visiting relatives in Atlanta.

SUNSHINE PELLETS

BY DR. W. F. THOMSON

Warts and moles and scaly patches; From such as these the cancer hatches.

A ditch in time saves nine aches. Early cut is early cured and that is true of cancer.

The darkest hour is just before dawn, but cheerfulness makes light of it.

To overcome tuberculosis, attitude is more important than altitude.

Since horse dander sometimes causes asthma, asthmatics should avoid the nightmares.

In the management of tuberculosis, eggs, milk and optimism at home beat drouth, drugs and dread abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Rumph Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Marshallville, Ga., October 21.—Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rumph celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their handsome colonial home Tuesday evening with an elaborate reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Rumph are members of distinguished southern families and have been prominently identified with the financial and social life of Georgia.

Mrs. Rumph, prior to her marriage, was Miss Jennie Moore, of Marshallville, and is beloved by a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Rumph is the originator of the famous Georgia Bell peach and is a well-known figure in the peach industry.

D. C. Rumph, Captain Samuel C. Rumph and Mrs. Susie May Hatcher, of Macon, Ga., are the sons and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rumph, all attending the reception with their families.

A large number of guests were present.

Bridge Party Will Be Given Wednesday

A most interesting event of Wednesday afternoon will be the bridge party, which is being sponsored by the home economics department of the Atlanta Woman's club. A large number of reservations have been made and Mrs. J. A. Carlisle, chairman of the department, requests all those who expect to attend to bring their own cards and pencils.

Many beautiful prizes will be drawn for, including hand-painted china, hand-made hats, stationery, pictures, vases and many other articles of interest. Anyone wishing to make reservations will please call Mrs. Simmons at the clubhouse, Hemlock 0225. The tables are $2 per table or 50c per single seat.

"Poems That Live"

"VOICE OF THE WESTERN WIND."

Voice of the western wind! The sweetest from afar, Rich with the music of a land, Where all my memories are; But in the song I only hear The echo of a tone That fell divinely on my ear In days forever flown.

Star of the western sky! Thou beamest from afar, With lustre caught from eyes I knew Whose orbs were each a star; But, oh, those orbs—too wildly bright— No more eclipse thine own, And never shall I find the light Of days forever flown!

—Edmund Clarence Stedman.

"INDIVIDUALITY OF HAIR DRESSING"

The "Tailor Maid" Should Wear Neat But Not Plain Hairdress

BY MADAME LOUISE

Nationally known authority on hairdress. Trustee of National Hairdressers' Assn.; executive board member of Chicago organization.

Talking about tailor-made? Yes, that is all right, but please do not include the hair and say, "I have a responsible position and have to look plain." Plain could be the word, but not the kind that is destructive to one's looks. Miss Allen's forehead, ears, nose and flatness of head must be considered. To improve her lines, a large wave should be used, covering the high forehead and a part of the ear.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Madame Louise's twenty articles on hairdressing as appearing in The Constitution are now in booklet form. If you wish a copy, please send sixteen cents in stamps to The Constitution, Room 930, 440 S. Dearborn, Chicago.

BY MADAME LOUISE

Nationally known authority on hairdress. Trustee of National Hairdressers' Assn.; executive board member of Chicago organization.

Talking about tailor-made? Yes, that is all right, but please do not include the hair and say, "I have a responsible position and have to look plain." Plain could be the word, but not the kind that is destructive to one's looks. Miss Allen's forehead, ears, nose and flatness of head must be considered. To improve her lines, a large wave should be used, covering the high forehead and a part of the ear.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Madame Louise's twenty articles on hairdressing as appearing in The Constitution are now in booklet form. If you wish a copy, please send sixteen cents in stamps to The Constitution, Room 930, 440 S. Dearborn, Chicago.

BY MADAME LOUISE

Nationally known authority on hairdress. Trustee of National Hairdressers' Assn.; executive board member of Chicago organization.

Talking about tailor-made? Yes, that is all right, but please do not include the hair and say, "I have a responsible position and have to look plain." Plain could be the word, but not the kind that is destructive to one's looks. Miss Allen's forehead, ears, nose and flatness of head must be considered. To improve her lines, a large wave should be used, covering the high forehead and a part of the ear.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Madame Louise's twenty articles on hairdressing as appearing in The Constitution are now in booklet form. If you wish a copy, please send sixteen cents in stamps to The Constitution, Room 930, 440 S. Dearborn, Chicago.

BY MADAME LOUISE

Nationally known authority on hairdress. Trustee of National Hairdressers' Assn.; executive board member of Chicago organization.

Talking about tailor-made? Yes, that is all right, but please do not include the hair and say, "I have a responsible position and have to look plain." Plain could be the word, but not the kind that is destructive to one's looks. Miss Allen's forehead, ears, nose and flatness of head must be considered. To improve her lines, a large wave should be used, covering the high forehead and a part of the ear.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Madame Louise's twenty articles on hairdressing as appearing in The Constitution are now in booklet form. If you wish a copy, please send sixteen cents in stamps to The Constitution, Room 930, 440 S. Dearborn, Chicago.

BY MADAME LOUISE

Nationally known authority on hairdress. Trustee of National Hairdressers' Assn.; executive board member of Chicago organization.

Talking about tailor-made? Yes, that is all right, but please do not include the hair and say, "I have a responsible position and have to look plain." Plain could be the word, but not the kind that is destructive to one's looks. Miss Allen's forehead, ears, nose and flatness of head must be considered. To improve her lines, a large wave should be used, covering the high forehead and a part of the ear.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Madame Louise's twenty articles on hairdressing as appearing in The Constitution are now in booklet form. If you wish a copy, please send sixteen cents in stamps to The Constitution, Room 930, 440 S. Dearborn, Chicago.

Football Sponsors for Tech-Alabama Game

Left, Miss Emma Frances Brotherton and Miss Irene Thomas, who will be the attractive Tech sponsors for the Tech-Alabama football game Saturday at Grant field.

Atlanta Federation To Meet This Morning

Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs announces that all federated women of Atlanta are eligible to attend the regular meeting of the Atlanta Federation to be held in the ballroom of the Atlanta Biltmore hotel this morning at 10:30 o'clock. All officers of the federation, presidents of federated clubs, chairmen appointed by the president of the federation and all members of convention committees are expected to attend.

The Atlanta federation will entertain the annual convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, November 11 to 14, and the outstanding feature of the meeting today will be the entertainment plans for that occasion. The chairmen expected at this meeting include those recently appointed in connection with convention entertainment as well as the regular chairmen of the federation. The executive board will convene at 10 o'clock.

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

Horizontal:
1. Famous Roman governor.
6. Come out.
11. Part of eye.
12. Tangle.
13. To rotate.
15. A staff.
17. Jungle animal (pl.).
19. Headgear of horse.
20. Indefinite article.
21. Curtain of fire.
23. Initials of a famous President.
24. European mountain.
25. A rug.
27. Therefore, hence.
28. Exclamation of contempt.
31. Journey.
33. Unfetter.
34. Access.
35. Vegetable.
36. Hue.
38. Pay attention.
40. A place.
42. Color.
43. Commissioned officer (ab.).
45. Condescended.
48. His Majesty (ab.).
51. Make lace.
51. Portioned.
52. Used on floors.
54. To press.
57. Small dirt hill.
57. Form of amusement.
58. British possession.
59. Condemned.

HOW TO SOLVE CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

The numbered squares are the starting points for words extending horizontally or vertically or both. One letter to a square. Words end at first black square encountered on border of puzzle. Pick out a word that fits a given definition and space. This gives you a clue to other words that cross it, and they in turn to still other words.

Solution to Yesterday's Puzzle.

NATIVE BLOOD
IDEAL GOVERNMENT
SILVER BULLET
TAB AGAR TOAD SOL
ARES ELEGANT HALL
ISLES EARS SAULT
N TANS LOT BENT E ASTUTE W' HORDES
FREE BOOR
USEFUL REMEDY
A TRET SOU STOP A
STEAD DUANS EVICT
SEES SUBDUED ECHO
EAR PEAL SAIL SON
RR MAPLE ELVES WE
T HERA Y D AFAR S RATTLE ANTLER

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

MENU HINT
Breakfast.
Breakfast fruit salad.
Whole wheat toast.
Coffee.
Luncheon.
Baked rice with leftover meat.
Buttermilk biscuits.
Milk.
Dinner.
Jellied tomato soup.
Cold sliced meat.
Escalloped potatoes.
Celery.
Huckleberry pie.
Tea or coffee.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Breakfast Fruit Salad.—This is an innovation for breakfast but a very delicious one. Try it and see. Cut with a vegetable scoop balls of iced cantaloupe. For an individual portion allow four of the balls tossed lightly with a quarter of a cupful of chilled watermelon cubes, the yellow pulp of half an orange, two tablespoons of sliced peaches cut in bits and a quarter of a cup of shredded lettuce. Drain thoroughly, moisten with a French fruit dressing to which a little Maraschino cordial and a pinch of ground cinnamon have been added, and serve in lettuce cups.

Buttermilk Biscuits.—Heat buttermilk which is not too sour almost to the boiling point, stirring frequently to prevent curdling. Add one tablespoon of sugar, set aside for five minutes and mix in gradually one quart of sifted bread flour, stirring to a smooth batter. Cover closely and let stand over night. In the morning beat down, add one teaspoon of baking soda, dissolved in one-quarter of a cup of hot water, half a tablespoon of salt and two tablespoons of melted shortening. Beat well and gradually add enough sifted flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a bread board, knead lightly until very smooth and roll into a sheet, cut in biscuits, lay in an oiled pan and bake in a moderate oven.

Jellied Tomato Soup.—Three cups tomato, three bouillon cubes, one onion, one bay leaf, one and one-half teaspoons minced parsley, celery leaves or salt, three teaspoons gelatine, few peppercorns, few sprigs thyme. Simmer the tomatoes, onion, bay leaf and celery with seasonings until quite soft and strain. There should be three cups of the juice. Add the minced parsley and bouillon cubes. Soften the gelatine in three table-spoons of cold water and dissolve in the hot juice. Season to taste with paprika and salt. This makes a clouded soup belly but delicious. Garnish with finely chopped green pepper.

Genuine Orange Blossom Wedding Rings and Diamond Mountings at E. A. MORGAN'S Jeweler

10-12 East Hunter St. There is Economy in a Few Steps and the Gayer.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. H. B. Tompkins will entertain at luncheon, honoring her mother, Mrs. Roby Robinson.

Miss Catherine Raine will entertain the members of the Debutante club at tea at her home on West Peachtree street.

Mrs. John Mullin will be hostess at a bridge-tee, honoring Miss Jack Hall, of Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Gertrude Peebles will give a bridge-tee at her home on East Fourteenth street, complimenting Miss Margaret Buchanan.

The marriage of Miss Buford Ellington and Hugh D. Brower will take place at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Elbert street.

Dinner-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore.

Mrs. L. S. Huntley will entertain at the Biltmore dinner-dance in honor of her granddaughter, Miss Eugenia Buchanan, a debutante of the season.

Miss Lillian Smith will entertain Miss Jones and Miss Catherine Stewart, also a bride-elect, at luncheon at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mrs. Ralph Millard will entertain at bridge-luncheon at her home on Peachtree circle, the occasion complimenting her mother, Mrs. Hamilton, of St. Louis, Mo., who is among the prominent visitors in Atlanta this month.

Mrs. David Shanks will entertain at a bridge-tee this afternoon in honor of Miss Juliet Haskell, an attractive November bride-elect, at her home at Fort McPherson.

The home economics department of the Atlanta Woman's club, with Mrs. J. A. Carlisle as chairman, will sponsor a benefit bridge party this afternoon, in the banquet hall of the club, at 3 o'clock.

The members of the executive board, advisory committee, education committee and friends of the Southern Woman's Educational Alliance are invited to attend the subscription luncheon today at Rich's tearoom at 1 o'clock.

Robert F. Maddox will be host at a possum hunt followed by a buffet supper and dance this evening at "Woodlawn" in compliment to Miss Mary Ellen Mellon, of Oklahoma City, the guest of Miss Jennie Robinson.

The members of the Pi Pi sorority of Washington seminary will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Miss Frances Barnett on East Fourteenth street.

Mrs. Julius de Give will be hostess at tea this afternoon at Piedmont Driving club.

BEAUTY CHATS

HAIR TONICS.
Most people nowadays need a hair tonic of some sort. If the hair is very dry it may require nothing more than a little warm olive oil or crude oil rubbed into the roots the night before the shampoo; if it is very oily it may need an antiseptic astringent used every three or four days to cleanse the scalp and remove superfluous oil.

Very often hair that seems to be in thoroughly bad condition needs nothing but proper shampooing. If the diet and grease are never sufficiently washed out, and if the sticky mixture of soap, oil and dust is not thoroughly rinsed the scalp is bound to become either dry and scaly or very oily, and the hair will look dull and colorless.

But if there are additional troubles, try a good hair tonic. You may have to experiment with dozens before you find the one that really suits you. Every tonic should contain an oil, and sufficient alcoholic solution to keep it from being greasy.

I have one tonic which I recommend in two forms. It contains pilocarpine hydrochlorate which stimulates the color cells, makes the hair either a richer shade or brings back the color to premature gray hair. This I advise for every woman more than 30 since it delays the time when the gray threads come, and for women of any age whose hair through illness or neglect is beginning to grow gray. For everyone else I recommend the same preparation without the pilocarpine, since even when it is one must be enclosed with the question, an unusually good, stimulating, antiseptic tonic. If you want the formula send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I shall be very glad to send it to you.

The two requisite things in over-coming dandruff are sulphur and oil. Any sort of oil will do, but the best is probably black crude oil heated as hot as the scalp can take it. Heated, the oil opens the pores of the scalp, penetrates more easily, and has a better chance to do its good work. Even more effective is flower of sulphur and lard mixed into an ointment.

Miss R. L.—There is some hair that would be injured by a permanent wave, but the people who do this work are very discriminating. You will always be advised before-hand by any reliable person or establishment.

As it is such a delicate operation to dye the eye-lashes it is best to have the work done by a professional. Walnut juice will stain lashes to a deep brown, but you would have to be very careful not to get any of it on the skin as that would also become stained.

Tomorrow: Preparing for Winter.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope will be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN

SAY "BAYER ASPIRIN" and INSIST!

Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians 24 years for

Colds Headache
Pain Neuralgia
Toothache Lumbago
Neuritis Rheumatism

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetateidester of Salicylicacid

Happy After Years of Misery

Hundreds of Women Grateful for Relief from Suffering

A Woman's Thankful Message
I write in grateful of your treatment, for it has done so much for me. I suffered until I would rather have been in pain than to have been treated by you. I have been treated by many doctors, and if this letter will help some other sufferer you have done a good deed.

MRS. J. J. GRIMM, Wilkes, Neb.
I had heard of your treatment 3 or 4 years ago I could have been happy all these years had I been treated by you. I am very grateful for the great relief you have given me. I would not know the joy of motherhood, I could not walk, ride, work or do any thing worth while, but thanks to you I am relieved of my trouble.

MRS. DORA FOWLER, Greenville, S. C.
I have been using your treatment and find that I am getting better. I have been treated by many doctors, and if this letter will help some other sufferer you have done a good deed.

Worth Weight in Gold
I have been using your treatment and find that I am getting better. I have been treated by many doctors, and if this letter will help some other sufferer you have done a good deed.

Don't Worry and Suffer
You can't do better than seriously consider these letters taken from hundreds of grateful women who have written us. The relief from pain and misery which they have experienced should point the way to every woman who suffers with ailments of woman-kind.

Ten Days FREE Trial—Send No Money
Test Mrs. Sumner's Opaline Remedy for yourself, in your own home, without the knowledge or aid of anyone. If you are benefitted as thousands have been, you can continue the treatment at about 12c per week. For 25 years women have reported it successful even in longest, most obstinate cases. Used by old and young and does not interfere with daily work. Write in confidence, as your letter is opened, read and answered by a woman. But don't let happiness pass another day.

THE SUMMERS MEDICAL CO., Women's Dept. E. South Bend, Ind.
(Mrs. Sumner's Remedies are Sold at Leading Drug Stores)

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK

MUSE'S—"BOYLAND"—THIRD FLOOR

What Is A Boy?

By Dr. Frank Crane.

WHAT is a boy? He is the person who is going to carry on what you have started.

He is to sit right where you are sitting and attend to those things you think are so important when you are gone.

You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried on depends on him.

Even if you make leagues and treaties, he will have to manage them.

He is going to sit at your desk in the Senate and occupy your place on the Supreme Bench.

He is going to move in and take over your prisons, churches, universities, counting houses and corporations.

When you get done, all your work is going to be judged, and graded or condemned by him.

Your reputation and your fortune are in his hands.

He will read the books you write or set them to the second-hand man.

He will assume control of your cities.

Right now the future President is playing marbles, and the most famous actor of his day is complaining because he does not want to go to bed.

Not your contemporaries and fellow citizens, but the boys out there in the school yard, are going to say whether after all you were a grand and noble hero or a blither-skite.

It is the boy who will amend your rules, alter your decrees, laugh at your mistakes.

He may think kindly of you, and say you did the best you could, or he may not. Watch your step!

All your work is for him, and the fate of the nation and of humanity is in his hands.

So it might be as well to pay him some attention.

All wool—strong—sturdy—the new Norfolk ideas in London grays and Toronto browns. Splendid styling—incisive styling! Carrying the "dress-up spirit" that means "buck up!" Bring him in today and send him to school (which is his first start "out in the world") WELL DRESSED!

The New, Styleful V-NECK CRICKET SWEATERS for BOYS

The famous V-neck college style cricket sweaters FOR BOYS. Slip-over. In platinum gray, powder blue, buff and white. With a striking run of color to the neck, cuffs and border. Sizes to 18—$3.50.

$3.50

Third Floor

MUSE'S

"The Style Center of the South"

Peachtree :: Walton :: Broad

Queen Quality

NEW STYLES Now Invite You

This Trade Mark is your assurance of Perfect Style Perfect Fit Perfect Service Perfect Satisfaction

Black Velvet

Just received! Also in Patent Leather.

Main Floor

$7.75

M. Rich & Bros. Co.

Corner Edgewood Avenue and Pryor Street

SLAMS SALAAMS

By Louise Dooly

MEN these days seem to be getting a little out of hand. Especially married men.

We hear a lot about "this freedom" and the growing independence of women.

And it looks to us as if an unsuspected danger lurks behind it.

Can it be, we have said to ourselves of late, that men, especially married men, are fanning the flame of this independence-of-women-business in order that they may hide behind the smoke their own more and more frequent excursions into freedom?

The cartoonists are (unconsciously, we believe) revealing a hint of this in their frequent showing of the woman who would take up golf in order that she and her husband may see more of each other, and that, in her own words, he may not have to waste time with those "horrid men" he is accustomed to playing with. The alleged joke is husband's dismay, and his eagerness to prove to his wife all the reasons why she should not take up the game.

The cartoonists are probably most of them married men.

But here is the gist of the situation: Have women noticed, we wonder, the increasing number of stag parties for a week or a week-end which men are indulging in at country clubs or resort hotels?

They come all the way from New York and New England, or Chicago and Pittsburgh, and other outlying districts, to these mountains of North Carolina, where we happen to be sojourning. They arrange their parties beforehand, so that they may have absolutely congenial groups.

Their only dissipation besides golf is a possible game of cards at night. In fact, they try to pick out hotels where there is no dancing, because they don't want to dance in the evening after golfing all day.

And also, if there were dancing and such like, the wives might question why they were not taken along.

All this disturbing train of thought (not that we have to worry about our husband) came about through our observation of cases in which the husband, who was accompanied by his wife only because this section happens to be the land of her nativity, actually parked the wife at another hotel. True, he was attentive over the telephone, and occasionally he said with flowers. But—he managed to spare her for a while for the sake of a good old real he-man's party.

WHAT ARE WE COMING TO? NOW, far be it from us to sic the women on an apparently harmless condition—so far.

But, ladies, isn't this a potentially serious situation?

Is it wise to let your husbands find out that they can have such a good time for days without you?

Is this back-firing into a joyous and carefree bachelorhood a safe thing for the stability of the social fabric, whatever that may mean?

If you haven't seen these mock backsliders during their excursions into the wide, open spaces, free and untrammelled, we can say that they certainly look as if they were feeling their oats.

P. S.—But here's a heartening thing. A man has just whispered to us that men don't have such an awfully good time when they herd together as they pretend to.

It's all right, he says, as long as they are playing golf, but after that—Then he made this cryptic remark: "The poor fish! And you know there's nothing that gets stale quicker than fish."

THE HIGHER MORALITY. TWO current discussions come together to our mind today because their subjects are at bottom similar.

There is a marked outcropping of the superiority complex in the defense of Hugh's article in a recent magazine article makes of his denial of any divinity superior to his own; and in Earl Carroll's claim that the really intelligent people uphold his commercialism of the human female form.

The publication of Hughes' article, in which he admits his failure to conceive of anything more godlike than himself, will hardly do much harm, however, to reasoning people who are well balanced, because it is not hard for them to conceive that no lowering of their own mental dignity need be implied in recognition of a Mind infinitely greater than the human mind.

In fact, the publication of Mr. Hughes' article, one way you look at it, may be taken as a vindication of the value of a free press, in that his utterances, which so savor of blasphemy, shock reverence into a deeper fervor; just as attack on even a human being strengthens the protective sense, and thus the affections.

THE TEST OF SINCERITY. IN the case of Earl Carroll, ridicule was the matchless weapon which proved that producer's showing up in court—his precious corps of painters, representing their talent to the appeal of mere vulgarity.

The producer's attorney would heckle one of the policemen who arrested Carroll on account of the pictures displayed in the front of the theater.

"What do you know about art?" was the spirit of the attorney's question when he asked the officer if he had even been in an art museum.

When the policeman answered in the negative—"Then," the lawyer queried, "how can you judge art?"

"All I know," the officer replied, "is that the pictures had their effect on a bunch of kids out in the lobby. You should have heard the talk that was passing around among these youngsters, 15 or 16 years old, as they looked at the pictures."

The defense stated the newspaper reports, dropped the questioning. Can it be that common-sense sincerity, as voiced by a policeman with no pretensions to be of the intelligentsia, transcends in intelligence even Art (with a capital letter and a bit smirched)?

WHY NOT ORGANIZE. THERE ought to be a national society formed for the protection of one of the most beautiful words in the language—the word love, which is being threatened by misuse with becoming positively a reproach.

When men and women run away with other people's husbands and wives, or even murder mates who may be in the way of a primal urge uncurbed, why call the urge out of its name and insult a term that differentiates man and woman in their attraction for each other from the lower animals?

The public prints, the so-called lovers themselves, do not shrink from bringing the word into large into contact with any other phase of this shameful liaison.

Then why sacrifice the word "love" to the demands of a peculiar squeamishness?

A coach of the Harvard football team, addressing the Boston Chamber of Commerce, said to parents: "Keep your sons out of automobiles and away from jazz parties if you would have them to be football players."

But why should health be limited to letter men?

CAN it be possible that the hobbled coiffure is going to bring back romance into what some people call a prosaic world?

The news tells us that the latest fad in Paris is gentlemen's riding whips made of their ladies' hair. Who shall say that chivalry is dead?

All W. C. T. U. Chapters To Meet Today All of the W. C. T. U. chapters in the city will meet at Wesley Memorial church this morning at 10 o'clock to hear the reports of the delegates who have just returned from the state convention at Albany last week. Mrs. Dillard will preside.

Malta Lodge To Hold Communication. The regular communication of Malta lodge No. 641, F. & A. M., will be held in the Masonic temple, corner Peachtree and Cain streets, Wednesday, October 22, at 7:30 o'clock.

The degree of Master Mason will be conferred by the officers of the fifth district Masonic convention.

Grand Master James D. Hancock has been invited and is expected to make an address. All duly qualified brethren are cordially invited to attend.

AUSTRALIA REJECTS WHEAT POOL MEASURE Melbourne, Australia, October 21. The legislative council today, by a vote of 17 to 13, rejected the bill passed by the legislative assembly October 14, providing for a compulsory wheat pool.

Will Preside at Auxiliary Of Synod Convening Today

Photo by Will F. Nelson, Newsman.

Mrs. W. A. Turner, Jr., of Newnan, president of the Woman's auxiliary of the Synod of Georgia, who will preside at the meeting of the auxiliary which convenes here today.

The fifteenth annual meeting of the woman's auxiliary of the Synod of Georgia will convene in the Central Presbyterian church, October 22 and 23, and Presbyterians from all parts of Georgia are arriving for the two-day session.

Mrs. W. A. Turner, of Newnan, Ga., is president of the Synodical of Georgia, and will preside over the meetings. Mrs. W. R. Heston, president of the woman's auxiliary of the Central Presbyterian church, will be official hostess.

The initial session opens this morning at 10 o'clock with devotional led by Mrs. S. D. Dadds, of Macon, followed by greetings from the local auxiliary by Mrs. J. S. Thompson and greetings from the Atlanta Presbytery by Mrs. W. M. Everett. The response will be made by Mrs. A. H. Brenner, of Augusta.

Addresses by Miss Rebecca Browne, graduate of the Assembly Training school, of Richmond, Va., and Dr. Nettie Grier, of China, will be special features of this morning's session. Miss Brown will talk at 11:30 on "Pioneering in Walton County," and Dr. Nettie Grier will speak at 12 o'clock on "Suchowfu: Roman's 10-14."

Communion service will be conducted by Dr. Ben R. Lacy, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, and by Dr. J. W. Caldwell, of Westminster church.

The afternoon session begins at 3 o'clock. Bible hour at 3:30 will be conducted by Mrs. Ann Stevenson, teacher of Bible at Agnes Scott college, with the subject, "A Prophet Whose Vision Was Limited."

A conference on White Cross work led by Dr. Nettie Grier and Mrs. C. M. Trulock, of Columbus, and a conference on young people's work, led by Rev. Walter Getty, of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Audley Morton, Athens, will feature the afternoon session.

The evening will open with a devotional led by Dr. Lacy, and the address of the evening will be "The Presbyterian Progressive Program and the Women of the Church," delivered by Dr. Roswell C. Long, of Chattanooga, Tenn. Ernest Allen, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will render a solo.

The public is invited to all meetings.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Baby's Crib.

When buying a crib for the new baby there are several things to consider. See that the bars are close enough that baby's head could not possibly get through them. Buy a crib with one side that is released and sinks to the floor to open it. The hinged variety with the sides that drop proves dangerous. Baby's crib should be of washable material, for it will require many washings to remove little finger marks. A large crib is sensible, as the child can sleep in it for a number of years, saving your space and bedding, and possibly the cost of a new bed.

Useful Tips.

Custard cups are good molds for the jellied salad. Pie crust will be toughened by too much handling. Georgette crepe and pongee will launder better if ironed dry. A steady, even heat should be used when cooking an omelet. Fresh lemon juice rubbed on the fishy forks and knives will remove all odor. Keep your eye on the drip pan under your ice box for roaches are very fond of such places.

FOURTH NATIONAL WILL OPEN BRANCH AT DECATUR TODAY

Decatur, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—The formal opening of the handsome new building of the Decatur branch of the Fourth National bank, will take place Wednesday. Final preparations for the opening of the building were made today. The building is located on East Court Square, facing the DeKalb county courthouse. Doors of the bank will open at 7 o'clock, and will remain open until 9 o'clock in the evening. Many visitors are expected during the day. The building is of buff Indiana limestone construction, and is a splendid example of modern bank architecture. There is a spacious mezzanine floor, but the main floor affords ample room for general activities, which will be carried on in the lobby. An attractive furnished waiting room for women on one side of the lobby, and another for men on the other side are features. Another feature is the indirect lighting system.

This branch is one of the five that has been established by the Fourth National bank, of Atlanta, in the past two years.

FATE OF WILLIS EXPECTED TO GO TO JURY TODAY

Columbus, Ga., October 21.—Despite the delay caused by difficulty in selecting a jury in the second murder trial of Willis, fast progress was made today, and indications early tonight, when a recess until tomorrow was ordered, were that the case would go to the jury Wednesday night.

The state rested and the testimony of the defense was well under way when the recess was ordered.

Mattie Green, negro, principal state's witness, today gave practically the same testimony that she presented at the first trial last month. She stated that she saw Willis and Ben E. Newsome shoot and kill her husband, Will Green, the night of September 6, in the Green home. Whiskey "tips" against the white men was the reason assigned for the shooting, the witness testified.

Willis, Newsome and Tom Crews were jointly indicted charged with the slaying. Willis was placed on trial when the case was called yesterday.

The testimony for the defense today was designed to attack Mattie Green's character, establish an alibi for each of the three men and support the contention that the dead negro's wife entered into a conspiracy to kill him, with robbery as the motive.

A verdict was declared in Willis' first trial.

All Bids for Stadium At Macon in Excess Of $100,000 Bond Fund

Macon, Ga., October 21.—(Special.) All bids for Macon's proposed municipal stadium, for which the people of Macon voted $100,000, were found to be in excess of that sum when opened tonight. It was decided, however, to eliminate certain features from the plans, which will make it possible to have the stadium completed by next summer.

Those submitting bids were Rust Engineering company, Pittsburg, $168,000; Pittman Construction company, Atlanta, $103,000; Griffin-Hodges company, Atlanta, $176,000; Southern Ferro Concrete company, Atlanta, $104,000.

Bids are now in the hands of the engineers and architects, who will decide what features are to be eliminated to bring the cost within the limit of funds available.

MISS CELESTE MARTIN DIES NEAR BUFORD

Lawrenceville, Ga., October 21.—Miss Celeste Martin, one of the most popular young women of Lawrenceville and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Martin, died at the home of her cousin, Miss Fannie Pharr, near Buford, this morning after a long illness. Miss Martin was a member of the First Baptist church, and is survived by her parents, four brothers, Kuhl, Sam, Wilse and Rich Martin; three sisters, Hettie, Leila Clark and Mary Martin.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, L. E. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Interment will be at New cemetery.

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The eleventh ward League of Women Voters will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Ormewood schoolhouse.

The Hoosier club of Atlanta will hold an all-day sewing at the home of Mrs. F. G. Myers, 47 Drewry street, this afternoon.

The West End Study class will meet this morning at 10:45 o'clock with Mrs. John Frederick Purser, at her home at 106 Seminole avenue.

The Parent-Teacher association of the Hoke Smith Junior High school will hold its regular monthly meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Hoke Smith school on Hill street.

The Parent-Teacher association of the Davis Street school will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A baby health center will be held at St. Paul M. E. church in the kindergarten room this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A regular meeting of the Merry Needle club will be held with Mrs. C. E. Cameron, 374 East Georgia avenue, this afternoon.

Oglethorpe Chapter No. 122 Order of the Eastern Star will hold its regular meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple on Peachtree road at Buckhead. Degrees will be conferred.

The floral department of the East Point Woman's club will hold the fall meeting at the home of Mrs. T. McGee, 340 Thompson street, this afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Dahlias and chrysanthemums, grown by the club members, will be on exhibit.

The regular meeting of the College Park Music Study club will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Presbyterian church.

The Kie club will meet at 11 o'clock at the Elks' home.

The West End Woman's club will hold its regular educational meeting at 3 o'clock in the clubrooms at 305 Gordon street.

The regular meeting of the Atlanta Truth Center will be held this morning at 11 o'clock in rooms 7 and 8 on the mezzanine floor of the Biltmore hotel. Mrs. A. W. Harrington will lead the meeting and her subject will be "Denials and Affirmations." The evening class will be held as usual at 6 o'clock in the study of the Central Congregational church.

All W. C. T. U. chapters will meet at Wesley Memorial church this morning at 10 o'clock.

The executive board of the Woman's Civic club, of West End, will meet at 2 o'clock, followed by the regular meeting at 3 o'clock.

The regular communication of Malta lodge, No. 641, Free and Accepted Masons, will be held in the Masonic temple, corner Peachtree and Cain streets, at 7:30 o'clock.

All About Every Movie Star

A directory of every prominent screen actor and actress, and child star in the United States, with facts about their ages, residences, personal description, and marital relation, has just been compiled from the latest available sources by our Washington bureau to meet many hundreds of requests reaching them for information of this sort.

If you want a copy of this ready reference bulletin, so that you can instantly turn up the facts you want about your favorite screen star, fill out the coupon below and mail as directed.

Motion Picture Editor, Washington Bureau, Daily Constitution, 1322 New York avenue, Washington, D. C.

I want a copy of the bulletin "MOVING PICTURE STARS," and enclose herewith five cents in loose postage stamps for same:

Name

Street and No. or R.R.

City

State

I AM A READER OF THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Established 1860

WINDOW SHADE FABRICS

Divide the small cost by the extra years of service.

Hartshorn

SHADE ROLLERS

the new Sunset Limited to CALIFORNIA

De Luxe Features Without Extra Fare

Sleeping cars of the latest type. Observation car with ladies' lounge, shower bath, maid and manicure.

Club car with barber shop, shower bath and valet service. Through dining cars with unsurpassed cuisine.

Oil burning locomotives and rock ballasted roadbed, have banished smoke, soot, cinders and dust, comfortably permitting open windows when desired.

No Smoke! No Soot! No Cinders! No Dust!

On the "Open Window Route"

—a new all steel train from its oil burning locomotive to luxurious observation car, representing the highest standard of transportation. Many extras, but no extra fare.

Daily after November 1st on the

Sunset Route

New Orleans Los Angeles San Diego San Francisco

For Further Information Address D. ASBURY, General Agent, Healey Building, Phone WAunt 4880.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC LINES

The dance she sat out

THE man was an attractive fellow and a good dancer. But she didn't want to dance with him again.

By a clever excuse, she slipped away and "sat it out" on the balcony.

You, yourself, rarely know when you have halitosis (unpleasant breath). That's the insidious thing about it. And even your closest friends won't tell you.

Sometimes, of course, halitosis comes from some deep-seated organic disorder that requires professional advice. But usually—and fortunately—halitosis is only a local condition that yields to the regular use of Listerine as a mouth wash and gargle. It is an interesting thing that this well-known antiseptic that has been in use for years for surgical dressings, possesses these unusual properties as a breath deodorant.

Test the remarkable deodorizing effects of Listerine this way: Rub a little onion on your fingers. Then apply Listerine and note how quickly the onion odor disappears.

This safe and long-trusted antiseptic has dozens of different uses; note the little circular that comes with every bottle. Your druggist sells Listerine in the original brown package only—never in bulk. There are three sizes: three ounce, seven ounce and fourteen ounce. Buy the large size for economy.—Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, Saint Louis, U. S. A.

HALITOSIS LISTERINE

Red Riding Hood

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

SYNOPSIS.

Mrs. Morgan Schuyler, one of New York's leading philanthropic and social lights, advises for a young woman to work in her apartment mornings. The advertisement is answered by a girl evidently of birth and breeding. In spite of the fact that she admits a desire to hide her identity, Mrs. Schuyler accepts her on trust and tags her with the name of Red Riding Hood.

Mrs. Schuyler's family consists of her mother, Mrs. Van Dorn; a young brother, Jim Van Dorn; and an older brother, Bertie, who is away.

The second morning of her employment she faints after receiving a mysterious telephone call. Mrs. Schuyler summons Dr. Horace Osborne. Hope tells the doctor that she is employed during the afternoon hours on East Seventeenth street. The doctor offers to drive her there. By a strange coincidence the doctor has an appointment at the house where Hope is employed. He has been called in consultation with two other doctors. The patient is a boy of five years about whom the entire household mysteriously revolves, the closest guardian being an uncle named Scarwenka. All of the members of this household are foreigners except Hope, who is known here as Sozia. A day or two later a mysterious visitor, Colonel Van Saanen, a man of obvious importance, calls at the Seventeenth street house. Doctor distrusts him and she learns that Scarwenka does not like him. Van Saanen is going to take the boy away that night. Hope decides to call on Doctor Osborne for help.

INSTALLMENT XXXIII. STRATEGY.

After Hope's suggestion to hide the Tartar, she and the doctor stared at each other rather blankly. "You haven't any place, have you?" he added.

"You know what my two places are."

He groaned.

"You could hardly put him in Maud's pink boudoir!"

"Mademoiselle returns to us also."

She laughed and the frivolous interval refreshed them both. He went on in a tone that showed its soothing effect.

"I suppose I could take him in here for a few days, till you get in touch with the other guardians, wherever they are. My sister keeps house for me, and there's always a trained nurse on the premises. But, of course, there's the chance that it might get me into an awful mess."

"O, if you could! He'd be so safe!"

There were tears in the girl's beautiful eyes, and, seeing them, the young man suddenly went further than he intended.

"Can we get him here right off?"

"We?" She looked at him ecstatically.

"Yes, I'll have to help, I suppose. Could hardly let you go over the top alone," he ungraciously added, already regretting his rash suggestion.

"That will be wonderful. Can we use your car?"

"Of course. It's out in front now, waiting on the remote chance that I might make my dinner engagement," the young man gloomily informed her.

She ignored the gloom.

"That's splendid. Then let's go right away—not directly to the house, of course, but around the corner near the back gate. I'll go to the front door and Scarwenka will let me in on the usual signal. Alexandre will be asleep, and it will take some minutes to wake and dress him, though I'll hurry all I can. I'll bring him out through the back gate, where you will be waiting in the car."

He shook his head.

"I'd better go in with you."

"I'd really rather you didn't."

"O, but I must. Something might happen, and, whether it did or not, I'd think something was happening. Can you imagine me sitting quietly in the car for half an hour, seeing visions of you and the kid getting your throats cut?" He shrugged his big shoulders as if to cast a weight from them.

"You see, you've got me now, with your panic," he admitted. "I'm beginning to be as nervous as the devil himself. And yet this whole thing may be just an outcome of your nervous condition. If it is, we'll have some explaining to do, young lady," he grimly ended.

She ignored all but the first words.

"But Scarwenka is loyal. He'll admit me and help me to get away with the boy."

"Perhaps he will. I hope he will. But he may have changed his mind, or your military friend may have come back and scared him stiff. Any way, I'm in on the whole fool thing or I'm not in it at all. So take me or leave me."

There was nothing more to say. He struggled into his overcoat and picked up his hat as they passed through the hall, then followed her to the limousine waiting at the curb. For some reason Hope was suddenly conscious of a feeling of pressure—of haste. She had not felt it before, and she did not know why she was feeling it now. "Late," Scarwenka had said. "He will eat his dinner." It was not much after 8. No, she could not understand the impulse toward haste, but it drove her on like a physical force. She almost flung herself into the limousine, and, once there, sat forward on her seat with a look of tension that made her companion glance at her curiously.

"Hurry!" she urged.

"Why the rush?" But he gave the chauffeur the order.

"I don't know. It's just a feeling."

"More of woman's intuition, I suppose." It was almost a gibe. Osborne, too, was feeling a reaction—one that made him stand off and look at himself in amazement for having embarked upon this hare-brained adventure. The limousine stopped at the point Hope had indicated and the pair descended into snowdrifts that reached their knees.

"At this point our hero led the way, followed by his intrepid companion in arms," the doctor jeered as he tried to kick open a path. Hope's jaw set. He was being intensely disagreeable, but he was doing what she asked, and that was all that mattered.

The blizzard had reached its height and the house they were approaching was shrouded in darkness. The street seemed deserted save for a few figures Hope had seen just before she turned the corner—figures of pedestrians bracing themselves against the wind. She and Osborne cautiously ascended the house steps and Hope played her personal solo on the bell. Almost immediately she heard the heavy steps of Scarwenka coming along the hall. He moved slowly, even hesitatingly, and he unbarred and opened the door with a deliberation that was maddening. It carried its message, however, and she had realized that something was wrong even before she saw the man's frightened face. With rolling eyes and a quick sidewise jerk of the head toward the reception room, he voicelessly gave her the additional information she needed.

Van Saanen had returned. He must have arrived just before them, for the little patches of snow he had brought in on his feet still lay unmelted in the hall.

Hope sent Scarwenka an eye-flash and spoke in her rich young voice, motioning the doctor to follow her as she crossed the threshold.

"So as croup isn't a thing one takes chances with, the only safe course was to drag you right here, doctor," she said, as if ending a sentence begun outside. "Perhaps I'm too easily frightened, but I couldn't get Doctor Hatch and I felt a strong sense of responsibility."

"Quite right," Osborne briskly played up. "Croup isn't a thing to monkey with at any time, and especially on a night like this. I'll run right up to the youngster," he added, and turned to Scarwenka. "See that there's plenty of hot water."

The device was not subtle, but there was a chance that it might serve its purpose. The pair hurried toward the staircase, leaving the slower-witted Scarwenka to cope after them. As they passed the reception room Van Saanen crossed its threshold, overcoat, silk-batted and gloved, and bowed to them amicably. It appeared that during the afternoon call he had left his cigarette case in the reception room, and he suavely explained this as he put the case in his pocket.

"Mademoiselle returns to us also," he added. "That is an unexpected pleasure."

"But not wholly as an uninvited guest," Hope pleasantly reminded him. "You know it was only today that you urged me to give this work more time. And I didn't dare to leave the boy alone tonight—with that cold!"

Her tone and manner were perfect. She accepted his presence as natural and no, in the least disconcerting, and she subtly suggested that a cordial understanding existed between them. For a moment even the practiced dissembler before her was puzzled. Was this an olive branch? Had she again come to heel? She took immediate advantage of his indecision.

"I'm worried about Alexandre," she went on. "He's subject to croup, you know, and his voice sounded like a fog-horn when I left the house. I don't dare to let the night pass without having him looked after. You know we had three doctors in to see him only last week, including Doctor Osborne here."

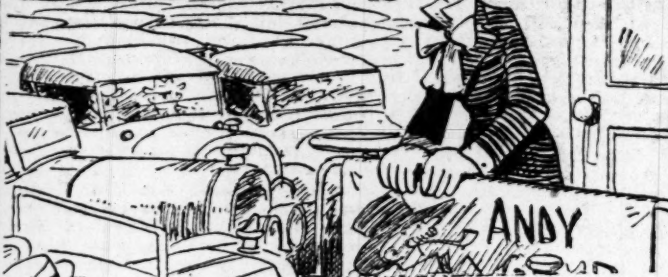

"After which the boy was allowed to play out in the snow today, I know."

But the visitor was still puzzled and his guarded eyes showed it. "The snow seems to have been a mistake," Osborne cheerfully admitted, accepting the mention of his name as an introduction and addressing the stranger with a professional air, as if he had a right to an explanation.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)
(Continued Tomorrow.)

THE GUMPS—HONK! HONK!

MY DEAR FRIENDS—THIS IS THE PROUDEST MOMENT OF MY LIFE—IN COMING TO DETROIT I FEEL LIKE A LOST SHEEP RETURNING TO THE FOLD—IT IS WITH DEEP REGRET I CONFESS THAT I DID NOT HAVE THE HONOR TO BE BORN IN THIS MARVELOUS METROPOLIS—BUT THE NAME DETROIT HAS ALWAYS BEEN TANGLED AROUND MY HEARTY STRINGS—I WISH I HAD A NICKEL FOR EVERY TIME I CLIMBED MY GRANDDAD'S KNEE AND BEGGED HIM TO TELL ME STORIES OF THE EARLY DAYS IN THIS PARADISE OF CITIES—

GRANDDAD ALWAYS SAID, "ANDY, MY BOY, YOU WILL LIVE TO SEE DETROIT BECOME THE PEERLESS CITY OF THE UNIVERSE—HOW PROUD HE WOULD BE IF HE COULD STAND BESIDE ME ON THIS PLATFORM AND SEE HOW YOU HAVE MORE THAN FULFILLED HIS PROPHECY—MILLIONS OF YOUR MAGNIFICENT AUTOMOBILES ARE ROLLING THROUGH THE WORLD HONORING THE GLORY OF THIS GLORIOUS CITY—"

I STAND BEFORE YOU A 1924 MODEL—I'M NOT JUST A FANCY PAINT JOB—I HAVE PLENTY OF SPEED, POWER AND ENDURANCE UNDER MY HOOD—I'M THE KIND OF MODEL THAT WILL GIVE YOU PEOPLE SERVICE AND SATISFACTION—I AM PROUD TO SEE THIS NOBLE CITY RALLY TO MY STANDARD, FOR AS DETROIT GOES SO GOES THE COUNTRY—

The Fun Shop

MAXSON RICHARD JURELL

The Longest Night.

By Penrod.

"Say, I bet 'th' fellows stare—What's the difference? I don't care. What little boys do, when I wear Long Pants!"

I tried 'em on this morning, and Mother cried! But, my good land, They fit me—women beat 'th' band! Long pants!

And Pop, he says: 'Now you're a man!'

An' I says: 'Goody! then I can Smoke!'—Watch out, he says, 'I don't tan Long Pants!'

I betcha Myrtle Greer'll be Sorry she said that 'I me; When she sees my new shoes—an' the Long Pants!

I betcha anything she'll try 'T' make it up—Well, let her try! I Don't want no girl in love with my Long pants!

I bet 'emorrow'll be slow Comin'—God bless Mom, Pop, an' Oh, Yes, everybody ain't got no LONG PANTS!"

About $50.

Mrs. Fein: "Mother's birthday will be tomorrow, dear; but she expects nothing from me."

Adolph (drawing out checkbook): "All right, How much will that 'nothin' cost?"

—Solomon R. Fein.

Caging a Wild Bird.

Family Friend: "So you've sent your daughter to a finishing school?"

Flapper's Mother: "Yes, we felt it was either her finish or ours."

—Grace McCann.

Necessary.

"Women have more faith than men."

"They have to, if they are going to believe half what the men tell them."

—Rose A. Hersch.

Oh, Kenneth!

My little nephew (aged five) was relating to his little sister (aged three) the advantages of being a boy, and wound up his argument with: "I am glad I am a boy."

Quickly came the retort from Dolly: "Oh, Kenneth! You make me sick! Some has to be the mamma."

—M. E. Mason.

Wally, the Mystic.

He'll answer your questions, somehow. Dear friends, don't be afraid to write: I'm glad to stay up half the night To answer questions, that I may Make lives of readers blithe and gay.

Say What You Think.

Dear Wally: Gosh, the outlook's gray! You see, I don't know what to say When talking to a bride and groom At their reception.

—Fulla Gloom.

Dear Fulla Gloom: With fear be done:

Here's something you can say—and run:

"I most sincerely hope you two Have better luck than most folks do."

Needless Fretting.

Dear Wally: I grow simply wild When eating; since I was a child It's hard for me to find my mouth.

Yours truly, Daughter of the South.

Dear Daughter of the South: It's bad For you to eat when you are mad. I do not see why you should mind it As long as men know how to find it.

The Dark Ages.

Edwin: "Pop, what are the Dark Ages?"

Pa: "Women's ages. I think. They always keep them dark."

—B. C. B.

For the T. B. M.

Dancer: "Is it time for my act?"

Manager: "Yes, yes, hurry up! Shake a leg!"

—Ernest Nicholl.

Salary No Object.

Friend: "Have you got a fireless cooker in your house?"

Mrs. Jones: "Yes, she's stuck on my husband."

THE EDITOR'S GOSSIP SHOP

Three hundred and eighty-eight (388) readers have sent the following poem and marked it "original and unpublished":

He met her in the meadow When the sun was bending low, They strolled along together In the twilight's afterglow.

She waited, while so gallantly, He lowered all the bars; Her dark eyes bent upon him, As radiant as the stars.

She could not smile or thank him, Because she knew not how. For he was only a farmer boy, And she was a Jersey cow.

Sic semper tyrannis!

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Readers are invited to contribute. All humor—epigrams (or humorous mottoes), jokes, anecdotes, poetry, burlesque, satires and bright sayings of children—must be original and hitherto unpublished. Accepted material will be paid for at the rate of $1 to $10 per contribution and from 25 cents to $1 per line for poetry according to its character and value in the judgment of the editor. Unaccepted contributions can not be returned. All manuscripts must be written on one side of the paper only and should be addressed to The Constitution Fun Shop Headquarters, 8 West Fortieth St., New York City.

Just Nuts

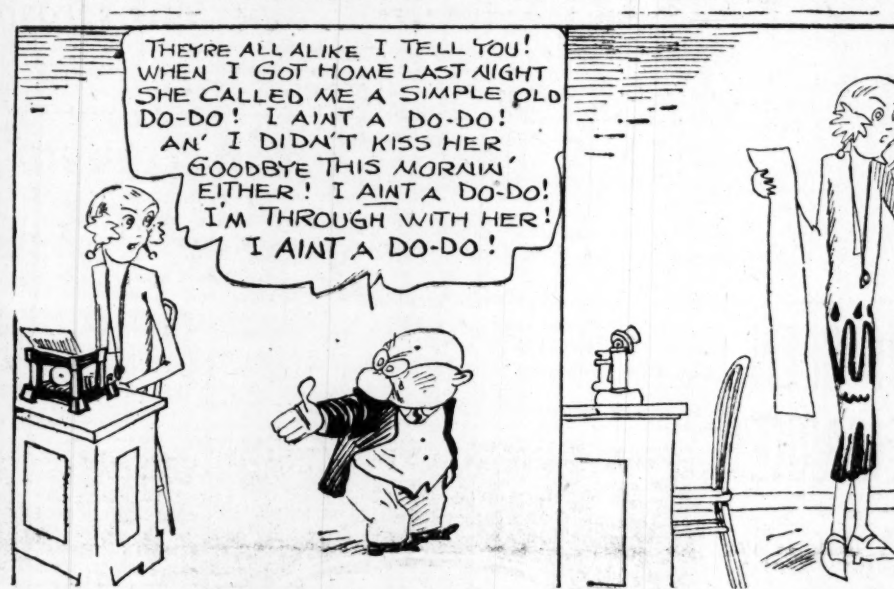

THESE MODERN FLAPPERS HAVE LITTLE USE FOR CHAPERONS

THEY DON'T SEEM TO NEED THEM WITH ROBBED HAIR

—Cunningham

By Hayward

SOMEBODY'S STENOGR—The Boss Is a Man of Iron

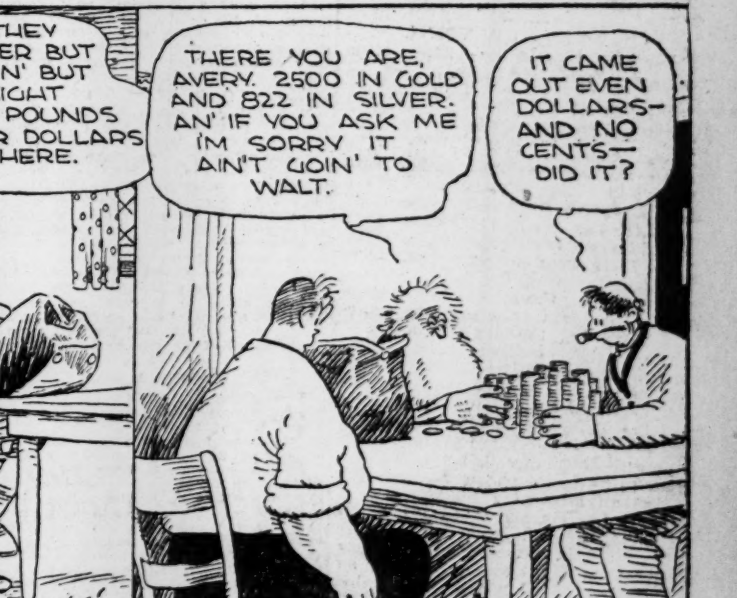

WINNIE WINKLE THE BREADWINNER

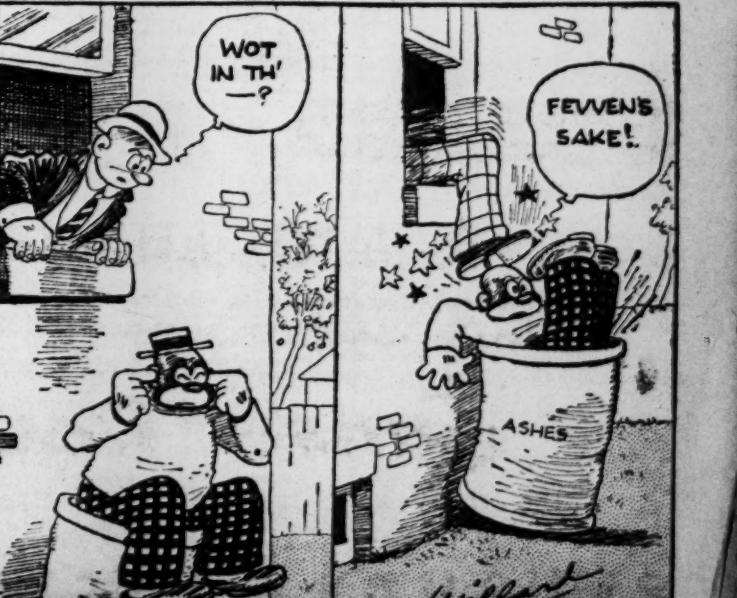

Helen Needs a Nurse

GASOLINE ALLEY—AT LAST!

MOON MULLINS—MUSHMOUTH, THE DRAFT DODGER

to Remember

These prizes have no effect on your winning a prize, it does affect the amount of these prizes is determined by what the winners pay. This is true in your solution.

Prize. Accuracy is what counts.

CONTEST MANAGER

Atlanta, Ga.

envelope for mailing them.

Live Stock

WE RENT BUSINESS PROPERTY

STAIL stores, warehouses, homes, offices, industrial areas, community stores, ground leases, railroad change, garages.

Butter how big or how little for what sort of location you want to have and we will find for you.

A. S. ADAMS-CATES CO.
1st Bldg. WAl. 5477

EAST GEORGIA AVE.

ST. GEORGIA AVE. — A good seven-room house arranged for two families; good condition, newly painted; suited for business property. It's a good buy. Owner will sell as low as possible.
Call Mr. Livsey, Cmack 1190-27.

SOLVING REALTY CO.
11. 5385. 1409-10 Candler Bldg.

DECATUR BARGAIN

1900-1 I HAVE the exclusive sale of one of the finest new brick houses in the city. It is a 12 room, 50x108 feet, located one and one-half miles from the city, convenient to the highway line, convenient to the city. Built by the present owner only a year ago of all select material; 1st grade floor, single panel birch floors, special designed electric fixtures, beautiful tile bath, built-in kitchen, French doors, very large porch, large rooms. Almost a duplicate of another home that recently sold in Decatur for $11,000. Price reduced from $9,000 amount forced to sell. For quick sale terms only $7500 down, balance 40 monthly. DECATUR

partment For Rent
OWNER says make him an offer on this 3-room apartment in very desirable section North Side. All conveniences and splendid neighbors.

Ben Padgett Co.
529 Grant Bldg.
WAlnut 1278

EAST LAKE

CASH, vacant lot or diamond ring buys new four-room w.d. and huzzlog with hardwood floors throughout, pretty electric stoves, 1/2 block car line. This is bought at the moderate price $3,400. See this, No. 151 First Ave., East Lake Junction. Call Burton or Mr. George.

OLVIN REALTY CO.
2585 1400-10 Casside Bldg.

ANY ONE of the classified ads is re-

Ansley Park Proper

12 seven-room brick bungalow, lot 1535; concrete street, side drive garage. Built for a home. (Two-bay town and well suited.)
Mc, Mrs. C. S., Walnut 1423.

EVANS & DODD
Third Floor Candler Bldg.

Off Peachtree Road

Red brick veneer bungalow in one of the best residential districts—elevated lot—living room out onto tile side porch; you through arch into dining room; two fast room right off hall; built-up garages in kitchen; two good bedrooms and large sleeping porch; tile bath; concrete drive to garage. All for the price of $8,750. down and balance like rent.

~~Grant Peter Co.~~
~~ENTS FOR BETTER HOMES~~
~~Bldg.~~ WALNUT 1000

SOUTH SIDE

WANS & DODD
1419
Third Floor Candler Bldg.

WILL TRADE
Sandy red brick home, one from Clifton Road. Has six and breakfast room, furnace in back, built-in tub, insulated double drive and garage. Will trade for car or six-room frame or sell on easy terms. Call
Mr. Wicks.

& GEO. F. MORRIS
2066, 1010 Canfield Bldg.

NTS Avenue
ce de Leon apartment in this attracted with Murphy bed. The cool in the summer

Ponce de Leon
Ponce de Leon, in which you living room, dining room,
Company
Walnut 1600

You'll Like the Convenient Arrangement of the Classified Advertisements

Classified Display
Real Estate

Classified Display
Real Estate

Classified Display
Real Estate

Classified Display
Real Estate

Classified Display
Real Estate

Classified Display
Real Estate

Classified Display
Real Estate

Classified Display
Automotive

PRE-DEVELOPMENT SALE

of

Cumberland Road

Location:

Cumberland Road is in Morningside Park, that beautiful residence section that lies just beyond Piedmont Park. It intersets Morningside Drive on the East and North Boulevard on the West.

Transportation:

This property is NOW served by comfortable buses operated by the Cross-Town Express Co., routed thru Ansley Park, Peachtree, etc., and the Highland Avenue Street Railway has now been completed, thus making it optional with the purchaser the type of transportation he uses, i. e., bus or street railway.

Lots:

All lots are 60 feet in width, beautifully terraced and heavily wooded and carry the following improvements, i. e., sewer, water, gas, concrete streets and sidewalks, telephone connections, etc., which are paid for by the owners and not assessed against the property.

Restrictions:

Our restrictions here will forever protect you from cheap houses and if you desire to build your future home here, the location is ideally perfect.

Prices:

Will range from $1500 to $2350. Lots may be purchased for 25 per cent down and the balance over a period of three years.

Inspect this property and 'phone Walnut 0636 for appointment.

E. F. LUNA, Manager Subdivisions

J. R. Smith & M. S. Rankin

"A Lot for Your Money"

Pittman Court Apartments

465 NORTH BOULEVARD

5 ROOMS and bath, Murphy bed in living room, two bedrooms, splendid condition, $60. You get more for your money here. See janitor or call Mr. Oliver Dolvin.

Dolvin Realty Company

Walnut 3585

1409-10 Candler Bldg.

Apartments North Boulevard

McINTOSH, 571 North Boulevard

LOCATED in the best section of North Boulevard, near North Avenue, this building has at present several desirable apartments available for immediate possession. All have three rooms and are completely equipped. $45 to $50 per month. Call at Apartment No. 2, or see us for an appointment to look them over.

BOWDEN, 559 North Boulevard

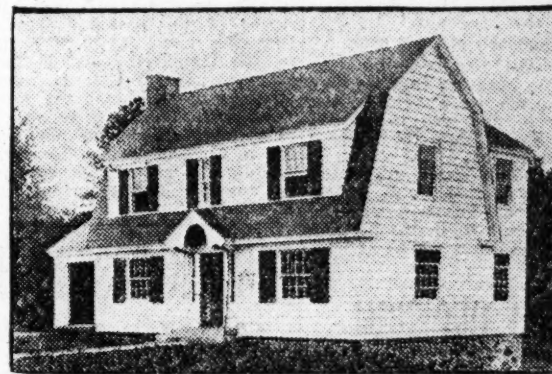

DUE to a new arrangement, we are now able to offer these three-room units, with complete equipment, including Murphy bed, at unusually attractive prices. Talk it over with us.

Grant-Jeter Company

Grant Building, Ground Floor

Walnut 1600

Cascade Road Bargain

BUILT of finest material throughout, cement basement, all modern conveniences, lot 60-ft. front and a corner. Owner has cut the price for quick sale and will make your own terms. Mr. Cox or Mr. Younce.

EVANS & DODD

Third Floor, Candler Building

Wal. 1419

Res. Wal. 4362

Druid Hills Exchange

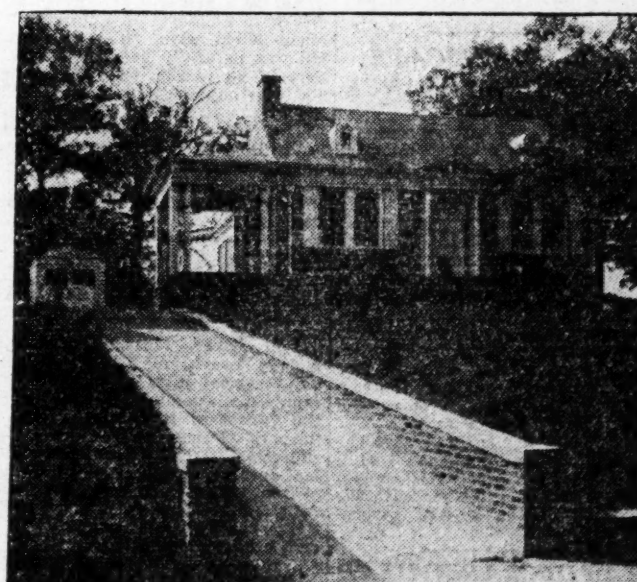

NO. 2 CORNELL ROAD, corner Springdale; 9 rooms, 2 baths and extra shower, 5 large bedrooms, oak floors throughout, double pipe steam system, concrete basement and servant toilet. Circular side drive and double garage. A most beautiful east front lot with 260-foot frontage. Built for a permanent home. Must be sold at once and will consider taking well located North Side bungalow as part payment. Price reduced to $18,500. Mr. Evans.

EVANS & DODD

Wal. 1419

3d Floor Candler Bldg.

WEST END

THIS beautiful new brick home, with every modern convenience to make a home complete. Has furnace heat, oak floors, tile bath, built-in tub, attractive electric fixtures, built-in cabinets, bookcases, etc. Dandy floor plan, and is on an excellent large lot on one of the prettiest and newest streets in West End. The price has just been reduced $1,000 for quick sale. This home is well constructed and is far better than the average house offered for sale. Shown only by appointment.

F. P. & Geo. J. Morris

1010 Candler Bldg.

Walnut 5256

Ansley Park Bungalow

BEAUTIFUL outlook. Three bedrooms, two baths, garage and servant's room. Near car line. Very desirable location. Price $10,500. Let us show you this.

Rogers Realty & Trust Co.

29 N. Forsyth Street
Walnut 4100

DRUID HILLS BARGAIN FAIRVIEW ROAD

BEAUTIFUL eight-room home on 100-ft. lot; slate roof, hardwood floors, steam heat, tile sun parlor, two tile baths, servant's room, laundry room and double garage. This is a $22,000 home being sacrificed at $17,500. Liberal terms. Investigate this unusual bargain at once. Call Mr. Strickland.

BURDETT REALTY CO.

Walnut 1011.

NORTH SIDE SACRIFICE SALE

$8,850—OUT Highland Avenue, near Morningside Drive, a new cream brick bungalow on corner lot. This is $1,500 below actual worth. Be sure to call for appointment to see this.

F. P. & GEO. J. MORRIS

Wal. 5256, 1010 Candler Bldg.

Bargain Vicinity Georgian Terrace

14% INVESTMENT

TWO-STORY 12-room residence, all city conveniences, two-room servant house on rear of lot; large lot running through to another street. Place rented for $1,344 per year. Owner must sell at once and has cut the price from $12,500 to $9,250. Terms $2,500 cash, balance $75.00 month. This is an extra good speculation as well as investment. First come, first served. Pick this up. Mr. Evans.

EVANS & DODD

Wal. 1419, 3rd Floor Candler Bldg.

Peachtree Hill Duplex

ON concrete street, one block car line we have a duplex that is for sale at a real bargain. "The owner moving to Florida." Has 10 modern rooms, large porch, furnace heat and garage. Price $8,250 with reasonable cash payment. Let us show you this today.

Rogers Realty & Trust Co.

29 N. Forsyth St.
Walnut 4100

WEST END

$500 CASH and $20 month buys a real bargain. This is one of the best buys in West End. Owner is anxious to sell at once. This is a six-room house on concrete street, large lot. If you are interested in buying a home now is the time to get busy. We have a special price on this for $8,700. For appointment call Mr. Brooks.

F. P. & GEO. J. MORRIS

Wal. 5256, 1010 Candler Bldg.

COMMUNITY STORES

ON NORTH SIDE—The best location in the city of Atlanta. They are new, pretty and well-constructed, on a good corner, all rented; 5-year leases; tenants first-class, income good. If you want some stores that are located right and where there can be no question of increased valuation, buy these. No information given over phone, but will come to see you if you will call Levi W. Reeves, Walnut 1419.

EVANS & DODD

Third Floor Candler Bldg.

SEMINOLE AVENUE

EIGHT-ROOM two-story brick house that owner is very anxious to dispose of immediately. Price reduced for quick sale. One bedroom downstairs and four up. Steam heating plant, and tile porch, attractive lot and well shaded, there is a garage and servant's room. This is a home you will like. Let us show you this place today.

Rogers Realty & Trust Co.

29 N. Forsyth Street
Walnut 4100

Boulevard Park

ON ELMWOOD DRIVE we have a 6-room, tapestry brick bungalow, in A-1 condition, with all conveniences. There is a $3,500 first mortgage loan at 6 per cent interest, and $4,980 second loan payable $60 per month. Owner says SELL! What will you give for his $2,500 equity? Here's your opportunity. Call Mr. Stokes.

Ben Padgett Co.

320 Grant Bldg.
Walnut 1278

Automotive

25 GOOD USED FORD CARS

INCLUDING sedans, coupes, roadsters and 4 doorings, ranging in price from $50 to $300. All reconditioned. Reasonable terms.

Belle Isle-Street Co.

380 PEACHTREE STREET
IVy 0507

FLINT FLINT

252 Peachtree St.
Used Car Dept.
YOU receive dollar for dollar value when you buy a reconditioned used car here. Terms arranged to suit you. Come here before you buy.
1923 Dodge touring.
1922 Dodge touring.
1921 Buick, 7-pass. touring.
1923 Ford roadster.
1920 Oakland coupe.
1920 Overland touring.
Our Prices Run From $100 Up.
Flint Motor Co. of Atlanta
Direct Factory Branch.
252 Peachtree St. IVy 1730

SPECIAL VALUES

1924 Buick "4" sedan, 5-pass. $1,550
1924 Essex "6" touring, New. 750
1924 Oakland "4" touring. 775
Glass, inclosure; extras; almost new. 750
1924 Maxwell touring. Almost new. 690
1924 Ford coupe. About new. 500
1923 Cadillac, model 61, 4-pass. sport. 1,750
1923 Buick "4" sedan. 750
1923 Hudson speedster. Refinished. 650
1923 Studebaker speedster. 875
1923 Studebaker Light "4" touring. 875
1923 Jewett coupe. Refinished. 775
1921 Dodge touring. 250
1921 Buick "4" touring. 300
1923 Star touring. Almost new. 250
1923 Ford roadster. Extra good. 200
1923 Ford touring. 225
Many More to Select From. Terms. WE PAY CASH FOR GOOD USED CARS.

J. M. Harrison & Co.

South's Largest Used Car Dealers.
Phone Wal. 3066-67, 125-131 IVy St.

100% VALUES

Special Offerings for This Week

1924 Studebaker Special Six touring.
1924 Studebaker Light Six touring.
1923 Willys-Knight touring.
1923 Dodge 2-pass. coupe.
1923 Chevrolet touring.
1922 Buick "4" roadster.
1923 Hudson speedster.
1921 Studebaker Special Six sedan.
1922 Studebaker Big Six touring.
1924 Ford sedan.
1924 Ford touring.
1923 Ford roadster.
CONVENIENT terms can be arranged.
DEMONSTRATIONS gladly given.

YARBROUGH

MOTOR CO.

USED CAR DEPT.
240 Peachtree St. HE. 6810

NOTICE

ATTEND OUR BIG

FALL CLEARANCE

SALE

FOR BIG VALUES

IN USED CARS

SALE WILL LAST ONE

WEEK

STARTING OCT. 17

ALL cars specially marked down in price. Don't overlook these bargains.

1923 Oakland coupe... $400

1922 Hup touring... 450

1924 Essex coach... 750

1923 Essex coach... 900

1922 Dodge sedan... 700

1922 Hupmobile coupe 550

1923 Oakland touring... 650

1921 Oakland sedan... 250

1923 Maxwell touring... 350

1923 Essex coach... 750

1924 Chevrolet touring 400

1924 Essex 6 touring... 700

1922 Chandler touring. 500

1923 Hudson speedster 850

1923 Ford coupe... 300

1924 Hudson sedan... 2,000

1923 Essex 4 touring... 550

1920 Chevrolet touring 50

1923 Ford touring... 275

1920 Buick touring... 150

1920 Auburn sedan... 250

1923 Ford sedan... 300

1921 Hudson speedster 450

1920 Hupmobile touring 200

1920 Essex touring... 250

1923 Chevrolet sedan... 450

USUAL attractive terms, courtesy and service.

J. W. GOLDSMITH,

JR.-GRANT CO., Inc.

229 Peachtree St.

255 Peachtree St.

IVy 1415

